PRESIDENT STIRS SENATE IRE

ASK 235 ACRES OF NEW LAND FOR GRANT PARK

Officials Think U. S. May Give Permit.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

A new park, with an area of 235 acres and valued at more than a billion dollars as realty, is being planned for Chicago. It is estimated that such a park can be acquired for less than the cost of building Soldiers' field, which was about $7,500,000.

The site of the proposed park is the harbor, extensively used by yachts, between the mouth of the Chicago river and Roosevelt road. The program is to obtain the permission of the federal government to fill in this 235 acre strip of water between the Grant park shore and the north and south breakwater line.

Board Orders Action.

The south park commissioners at their last meeting ordered their attorney, George E. Gorman, to prepare a petition to congress asking title to the submerged land. President Edward J. Kelly has also directed the attorney to present as soon as possible all information regarding riparian rights and ownership which might be involved in the project. Mr. Gorman is to ascertain, especially, what rights—if any—the city government or the Illinois Central railroad may have in the affected area. Lawyers said yesterday they had the impression that both city and railroad surrendered all such claims in the 1919 lake front ordinance.

The acquisition of this area for park and recreational purposes has heretofore been beyond the dream of public officials and city planners. Because of the federal government's attitude on navigation, it had been assumed that it would be impossible to acquire the 235 acres of submerged land.

Conference Gives Hope.

But a different view was obtained recently at a conference in Chicago attended by Col. E. M. Markham of Cleveland, United States division engineer of the United States army; Maj. Herbert J. Wild, Chicago district engineer; Col. A. A. Sprague, vice chairman of the Chicago Plan commission; Hugh E. Young, chief engineer of the plan commission, and President Kelly.

The original purpose of the meeting was for a discussion of a proposal to fill the lake, between the Chicago river and Randolph street, for a width of 455 feet, so that another roadway might be built in the outer boulevard link plan.

Engineer Shows Interest.

The purpose of the conference was to obtain the approval of the federal engineers to that plan, but as the conversation proceeded Col. Markham indicated an interest in the lake front development of Chicago. It is said that Col. Sprague suggested that considerable more filled in land would be highly advantageous for Grant park and inquired why the yachts could not be moved to another location and the entire harbor filled in.

Col. Markham is said to have replied that the federal government is more interested in harbors for commerce than for yachts, adding that there is no pressing need for the harbor to promote water commerce. From which local officials gained the impression that the army engineers are not antagonistic to the filling project.

Action Kept Secret.

The meeting was executive and every one present approached yesterday appeared surprised that any information had leaked out. The recent action of the south park board for the park project was also kept from the public.

It is understood there were two principal reasons for the secrecy. One is the possible objection by the Chicago Yacht club and the Columbia Yacht club. The Columbia club has a permit from the government to occupy a site 96 by 150 feet along the shore, according to fragmentary information obtainable yesterday. The Chicago Yacht club has a like permit and the same permit from the state for a tract about 300 by 150 feet.

Other Rights Involved.

At the conference between Col. Markham and Maj. Wild and the local officials it was reported that the Chicago Yacht club had driven some piling for a new clubhouse. It was decided to learn the exact facts regarding these two clubs before announcement of the plan was made.

In addition the naval reserves have a pier extending eastward from Randolph street projected, and also a building. Before publication of the park plan it was deemed desirable that the attitude of the state and the reserves be established. There is still another

APPEAL COURT UPHOLDS LYLE'S SWIFT JUSTICE

Confirms Terms of 3 Gun Toters.

Six justices of the Illinois Appellate court, ruling on two cases involving gun toting gangsters, have sustained the summary justice meted out by Judge John H. Lyle. This was revealed yesterday when the decisions of the higher court, handed down recently, were made public.

In one case the Appellate court affirmed sentences of a year in the House of Correction and heavy fines imposed on Simon Gorman and James Forsyth, alias Faucett. Both men have been associated by the police with the now disorganized north side band of gangsters once ruled by Zuta, Moran, and Aiello.

In the other case a house of correction sentence of one year imposed by Judge Lyle upon Robert Emmett Ryan, gambler and gangster connected with the same gang, was affirmed.

Three Are Lingle Suspects.

Defense attorneys in both cases charged that Judge Lyle had overstepped the bounds of judicial prerogatives, and that he had transgressed against the "constitutional rights" of the gunmen accused.

All three of the defendants have been mentioned as suspects or as possessing guilty knowledge in connection with the murder of Alfred Lingle.

The opinion of the Appellate court in the Ryan gun toting case was written by Justice John M. O'Connor and was concurred in by Justices David F. Matchett and William H. McSurely. The opinion stated that the record of Ryan's case showed that upon being arraigned the defendant "stood mute," and that thereupon Judge Lyle ordered a plea of not guilty to be entered.

Court Cites the Record.

"Counsel for the defendant in their brief stated that the defendant demanded a jury trial," the opinion states. "There is nothing in the record to warrant such a statement.

"The defendant contends that no order of record was entered showing that he waived his right to a trial by jury, and it is contended that without such an order the court had no jurisdiction to try the case. Nothing appears affirmatively in the record as to whether the defendant waived his right to a trial by jury, but it appears that he was represented by counsel, that he was arraigned, refused to plead, and the court ordered that a plea of not guilty be entered.

"Thereupon the case proceeded to trial, and the court then heard the evidence and arguments of counsel. No objection appears to have been raised to the trial by the court and in the state of the record we think we would not be warranted in disturbing the finding and the jugment of the court."

Must Ask Rehearing.

Ryan was given until Dec. 11 to file an application for a rehearing, and if he does not do so a mandate will be issued by the court ordering the sheriff to place him in the House of Correction.

In the case of Forsyth and Gorman the defendants were arrested in May, 1929, both possessed of concealed weapons. The defense charged that Judge Lyle was prejudiced against them, but the Appellate court held "there is nothing in the record of the proceedings had at the trial from which to draw such an inference."

The trial was held on June 4, 1929.

"The defendants asked for a continuance," stated the Appellate court opinion, which was handed down by Justices Albert C. Barnes, Kickham Scanlan, and Martin M. Gridley, "because of illness of their counsel. The court denied the continuance. Defendant Gorman asked for a continuance of one hour; that also was denied."

The opinion pointed out that the defendants were first arraigned on May 17, 1929, when the case was continued until June 4; and that the defendants were aware that they must be ready for trial on that date.

Finds Ruling Justified.

"If they desired counsel it was their duty to exercise due diligence to procure counsel for the trial," the Appellate court held.

"Many conditions exist in Cook county with the well known congested condition of the court dockets why criminal trials should not be delayed without a proper showing for a further continuance."

The court upheld Judge Lyle in denying even the plea for an hour's delay in the trial.

VANDALS SPLASH PAINT ON HOME IN EVANSTON

Those vivid daubs of red paint on the white front of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. O'Malley's apartment building at 121 Custer street, Evanston, are not, despite appearances, the creation of modernistic artists.

Early yesterday vandals appeared in front of the building and hurled bottles and electric bulbs filled with red paint against the outside walls. The haphazard artistry was not discovered until one of the vandals threw a bottle into the third floor living room of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Frankston. Police were called, and the paint splashes were found. The O'Malley building was newly painted on Nov. 15.

Show Suburb Paving Cost Is Half of City's

A survey of the ordinance prepared by the board of local improvements for the paving of Ozanam avenue between Avondale and Devon avenues showed yesterday that the cost of paving in Chicago is more than twice as high as in Park Ridge, an adjoining suburb. The petition of the board to spread an assessment for the improvement was dismissed by the County court last week.

The village of Park Ridge paved a stretch 15 feet wide on Highland avenue between Devon and Belle Plaine avenues in the summer of 1928. In 1929 the board of local improvements prepared an ordinance for the paving of a 15 foot wide stretch on the same street, which is the boundary line between Park Ridge and Chicago and is known as Ozanam avenue. As Avondale avenue is known in the suburb as Belle Plaine avenue the Chicago board was figuring on paving the same distance as did the Park Ridge board.

Cost of Pavements Compared.

The certificate of final cost filed in the county court when the Park Ridge paving was completed gave $16,325 as the actual cost of laying the pavement. Engineering services and inspection cost $1,111; $1,400 was spent in levying and collecting the taxes, and $5,928 was charged to interest on bonds and other items, bringing the total to $24,765.

In the estimates filed by Michael J. Faherty, president of the board of local improvements, the cost of Chicago's half of the paving was given as $45,000. Of this sum $2,141 was charged to levying and collecting the assessment, leaving $42,859 to lay the same amount of pavement as Park Ridge did for $16,325.

Blames Paving Ring.

An attorney representing the city in the County court, said that one reason for the difference in cost was the existence of a paving ring in Chicago. The city attorney made this charge when counsel for objecting property owners sought to introduce the cost of the Park Ridge paving as evidence.

"If it [Chicago's estimate] is too high, we have a paving ring in Chicago that makes paving much higher than it is in Park Ridge," said the city attorney. "Those are the conditions that the city is up against."

A difference in the pavement specifications was said to benefit Park Ridge. Chicago's ordinance called for concrete eight inches thick, while Park Ridge received a steel reinforced concrete pavement from seven to nine inches thick. This difference also was called to the attention of the County court.

WOMAN REGAINS SIGHT AFTER 14 YEARS WHEN TEETH ARE PULLED

For fourteen years Mrs. Lillian Wallace, 38 years old, 1546 Lincoln street, North Chicago, wife of a chef at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, had been blind in the left eye. Visits to expert oculists were futile and she was advised to have the sightless eye removed to save the good right eye. She refused.

On Monday Mrs. Wallace had five teeth extracted. She went home and set the table.

Her jaw ached and to ease the pain she rubbed it. In doing so she covered her right eye. As she rubbed she seemed to brush away a web from the left eye. Suddenly the blurred image of a fork appeared. Then furniture and walls appeared. Last night doctors said that sight had been almost completely restored after a lapse of fourteen years.

Death Threats to Debutante Ask $25,000

William Kuhn, 23 years old, living at the Ambassador East hotel, said to be the son of a retired California broker, was booked last night at the detective bureau on a charge of extortion in connection with an alleged $25,000 blackmail plot against Miss Marion Wright, 18 years old, daughter of William V. Wright, steel company executive living at 49 East Cedar street.

Miss Wright is a debutante of the present season. She will make her debut to society on Saturday. She is a member of the Junior league.

A few minutes after the charge had been formally recorded, Kuhn's brother, Wendell, a broker, appeared at the bureau and posted a $7,500 surety bond. The bail had been approved earlier by Judge John H. Lyle in the Felony court. William Kuhn was ordered to appear for arraignment in the Felony court today.

Threats Start Inquiries.

Kuhn was seized on Monday by detectives coöperating with agents of the "Secret Six," under cover investigating committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce. The arrest was the outgrowth of one of a number of inquiries into threats against wealthy families in and near Chicago during the last few months.

Kuhn refused to discuss his arrest. His brother, however, called it a "mistake."

Kuhn's arrest was based on four letters which demanded $25,000 and threatened death to Miss Wright or her father if the demand were not met.

Letter Describes Poison Darts.

The letters were well written. All were addressed directly to Miss Wright. The first note described poisonous darts which could be dispatched noiselessly 3,000 feet and inquired, "Would you like to meet such a fate?" The other letters were similar.

Miss Wright showed the letters to her father, and Mr. Wright notified the crime division of the Association of Commrce. Lieut. Leo Carr and Sergt. William Knowles, assigned to the "Secret Six," were called into the case. They questioned Miss Wright.

According to the police, Miss Wright mentioned the name of Kuhn. She had been acquainted with him, she said, until recently. Three weeks ago they quarreled, she said, according to the police, and he remarked that he would "get even."

Compare Letters and Typewriters.

Lieut. Carr and Sergt. Knowles considered the possibility of Kuhn as a suspect and, after several days of inquiry, planned to question him. They first visited his place of employment, an investment house in Jackson boulevard where his brother is associated, and compared the typography of the letters with samples from each of several typewriters in the office.

Kuhn was arrested shortly afterward. He denied knowledge of the letters. He declared that any suspicion against him was ridiculous. He was given the lie detector test at the Juvenile Research hospital.

Father Denies Quarrel.

The police version of Miss Wright's statement telling of her acquaintanceship and quarrel with Kuhn was denied by her father last night at his home. His daughter, Mr. Wright said, met Kuhn at a dance at the Casino club three weeks ago. They were only casual acquaintances, he said. Neither he nor Mrs. Wright had ever seen Kuhn, he added. He said he would appear in court against Kuhn.

So serious has the extortion racket become that several families, it is said, have sent their debutante daughters to winter homes while others have employed private detectives to protect them.

HE CRACKS WHIP AND DEMOCRATS LASH HIM BACK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover cracked the whip over congress today with a stinging denunciation of "raids upon the treasury" and legislators who are "playing politics at the expense of human misery."

Instantly there was trouble in the senate chamber. The President's words, more vigorous and fiery than any statement he had made in the two years of his administration, started a counter-attack in the senate. The war seems to be on. Senators Caraway and Joe Robinson of Arkansas, Carter Glass, Pat Harrison, David Walsh, McKeller of Tennessee, and other Democrats sailed into Mr. Hoover in all kinds of language.

La Follette Moves Into Action.

Senator La Follette [Wis.] introduced a resolution declaring "relief of human suffering in this emergency should take precedence over the interests of wealthy income taxpayers." This resolution, on motion of Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] went over until tomorrow. Senator Reed was the only defender of the President to raise his voice during the session.

The proceedings foreshadowed fighting all along the line. With a smashing of the peace protocol between the Democrats and the administration.

House in Line with Hoover.

But the house, which is administration controlled, responded to the President's appeal by passing without a record vote the 110 million dollar emergency construction fund bill, after rejecting all amendments.

So far as legislatives steps were concerned, the senate, hostile to the administration, passed, also without a record vote, the $60,000,000 drought relief loan fund bill, carrying twice the amount regarded as sufficient by the President, and including food loans to which Secretary of Agriculture Arthur M. Hyde yesterday objected.

President Hoover's statement was made public at his semi-weekly press conference. It follows:

"I observe that measures have been already introduced in congress and are having advocacy which, if passed, would impose an increased expenditure beyond the sums which I have recommended for the present and next fiscal year by a total of nearly $4,500,000,000, and mostly under the guise of giving relief of some kind or another.

Limit Already Reached.

"The gross sums which I have recommended to carry on the essential functions of the government include the extreme sums which can be applied by the federal government in actual emergency employment or relief, and are the maximum which can be financed without increase in taxes.

"No matter how devised, an increase in taxes in the end falls upon the workers and farmers, or alternatively, deprives industry of that much ability to give employment and defeats the very purpose of these schemes.

"For the government to finance by bond issues deprives industry and agriculture of just that much capital for its own use and for employment. Prosperity cannot be restored by raids upon the public treasury.

"The leaders of both parties are coöperating to prevent any such event. Some of these schemes are ill considered; some represent enthusiasts, and some represent the desire of individuals to show that they are more generous than the administration, or that they are more generous than even the leaders of their own parties. They are playing politics at the expense of human misery.

"Misleading the People."

"Many of these measures are being promoted by organizations and agencies outside of congress and being pushed upon members of congress. Some of them are mistaken as to the results they will accomplish and they are all mistaken as to the ability of the federal government to undertake such burdens. Some of these outside agencies are also engaged in promoting political purposes. The American people will not be misled by such tactics."

The President obviously referred to the proposal for immediate payment in cash of the soldiers' bonus and the Shipstead plan, a 500 million dollar bond issue for river and harbor work. His statement also was regarded as directed at Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.], who yesterday criticized Mr. Hoover for the inadequacy of his relief program.

No sooner had the statement

Good Times Are Just Over the Hill of Normal Buying

Every man who needs a new hat, and can afford a new hat, and doesn't buy a new hat, is holding back prosperity.

Every woman who needs a new coat, and can afford a new coat, and doesn't buy that new coat, is holding back prosperity.

Every person who needs something for his own personal use, for his home, or for his business, and can afford to make the investment and yet doesn't, is holding back prosperity.

Your own individual buying may strike you as being too insignificant to make any difference one way or another in the general scheme of things. But all buying is an individual problem. When a lot of individuals buy subnormally the total effect is tremendous.

That's why the sooner everybody who can afford it returns to the basis of normal buying for normal needs, the sooner the unemployment problem will be solved, the sooner business will become steady, the sooner good times will return for everybody.

Chicago Tribune
THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

reached the senate than the storm of Democratic wrath burst over Mr. Hoover's head. Senator Reed [Rep., Pa.] was the only Republican to speak up for the White House.

"Coöperation" went overboard when Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], minority leader, opened up on Secretary of Agriculture Hyde during the debate on the $60,000,000 drought relief bill.

"It is certainly peculiar," he began, referring to Mr. Hyde's statement yesterday criticizing the appropriation for food loans, "that a cabinet member should try to act as an attorney to influence congress. If that statement came from a less reputable source I would call it silly. He seems to think it wrong to authorize food for humans. Put a mule on the dole and it's all right, but to put a man on equal footing with the mule is wrong.

"As for precedent, about which he is so worried, what about the act passed in 1921 when congress was asked to appropriate twenty millions for starving Russians?"

Here Senator Carter Glass [Dem., Va.] interrupted with. "And in 1919 congress was urged to appropriate one hundred millions for starving Belgians by the then head of the food commission, Mr. Hoover."

The drought relief bill had passed when Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] took the floor. Copies of the President's statement had been circulating from one buzzing group of senators to another. Senator Caraway announced, "A great humanitarian paper has just come from the White House," and read it.

Leaps to the Attack.

"The reputation of the President," he went on, "rests upon extending relief to humanity. Take that away and there would be nothing to his biography except the date of his birth and a blank for that of his death. Without having done a thing to relieve the condition that confronts his country, he now undertakes to lecture congress and those relief agencies which are unwilling to see human beings starve.

"The President was unwilling to admit that great numbers were unemployed, that distress had fallen upon agriculture, until after the election. Who then was 'playing politics at the expense of human misery'?"

Senator David I. Walsh [Dem., Mass.] took up the tale and asserted: "It is unbelievable that the President should close his eyes and ears to helpful suggestions, that instead he should say to whatever is proposed, 'no increase in taxes.'"

Enter Pat Harrison.

Senator Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.] then broke loose. He had just begun when Senator Reed asked him to yield for a moment. The President's statement was not partisan and applied to Republicans as well as Democrats, Senator Reed argued.

"But you gentlemen are used to that sort of castigation," Senator Harrison retorted. "Some of you have been called pseudo Republicans, others, wild jackasses from the west."

The President had not been charged with playing politics, yet "no one has won more political favor from human misery than he," said Senator Harrison. He recalled the statement of Representative Will R. Wood [Rep., Ind.] who in 1919 called Hoover "the most expensive luxury ever fastened on the country."

"It ought to be stated that at that time Mr. Hoover was a Democrat," said Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.] amid laughter.

"In fairness to the President it should be remembered that his statement reflects on me as well as on the eloquent senator from Mississippi," Senator Reed insisted.

Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.] leaped up with: "Talking about raids on the public treasury is a serious charge. The President should apologize for such a rude and improper statement. Why doesn't he use his brains or the brains of those under him to formulate a plan of relief?"

"He is sane enough to know that what Americans want is work, not handouts," Senator Reed answered. "And while we are being so touchy about what is said concerning us, we might realize that there is nothing in his statement that approaches in violence the attacks that have been made on him."

The administration leaders made no effort to amend the senate drought relief bill to meet the view of the President, realizing that they would merely meet defeat. They rely on house pressure to control the situation when the bill goes to conference.

As passed the bill authorizes the secretary of agriculture to make loans to farmers in the drought and storm tricken areas for the purchase of food, seed, fertilizers, feed for live stock and fuel and oil for tractors. Security will be furnished in the form of a first lien on all crops to be planted during 1931.

House Votes 110 Millions to Put Needy Men to Work

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—President Hoover's 110 million dollar emergency construction fund, the administration's contribution to the national effort to relieve unemployment, was passed without a record vote in the house today. The bill had been revised in committee to meet the criticisms of the Democrats, who objected to the granting of blanket authority to the President. The revised bill was accepted by the administration and had the support of the leaders of both parties.

The bill makes specific appropriations of $80,000,000 to the department of agriculture for advances to states for federal aid highway projects to be paid back over a five year period by deductions from federal contributions, $22,500,000 to the army engineers for river and harbor improvements, $3,000,000 to the army engineers for Mississippi flood control, $3,000,000 to the department of agriculture for roads in national forests, and $1,500,000 to the interior department for roads in national parks. The only authority given to the President is power to transfer funds from one of the specified purposes to another.

$1,200,000 for Waterway.

Hearings before the appropriations subcommittee which were made public disclosed that Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers, said that he intended to allot $1,200,000 of the $22,500,000 fund to the Illinois waterway. Among other allotments is $2,400,000 for work on the Mississippi river between the Ohio river and Minneapolis, of which $1,800,000 would be expended between the mouth of the Illinois river and Minneapolis, and $600,000 between the Illinois and Ohio rivers. There also would be allotted $950,000 for the Rock Island lock and dam, and $700,000 for a second lock at the Twin City lock and dam.

Representative Will R. Wood [Rep., Ind.], chairman of the appropriations committee, assured the house that his committee would give prompt attention to the question of including items totaling $40,000,000 in a deficiency bill. These items were eliminated from the President's original 150 million dollar proposal.

Cash Available Next Year

Under the bill passed today, the 110 millions will be available for expenditure between Jan. 1 and June 30, 1931, and a deficiency bill to be enacted immediately after the holidays will make funds available at once thereafter.

Representative Joseph W. Byrns [Dem., Tenn.], ranking minority member of the appropriations committee, in supporting the bill took occasion to criticise the President for his original recommendation for a 150 million dollar fund to be allotted as he saw fit. Mr. Byrns said that an examination of the tentative allotments showed that it was proposed to use $2,000,000 to buy automobiles for the army and $5,000,000 for ammunition.

"When we discovered that the President solemnly proposed to spend more than $500,000 to kill bugs in the national forests, Chairman Wood threw up his hands and agreed to the resolution now before us," said Mr. Byrns. "It was the Democratic protest which prevented this inexcusable raid on the treasury under the guise of an emergency appropriation and which was to have been made in the face of the largest deficit we have ever had, and the first of any size in many years."

GIFT CERTIFICATE HEADQUARTERS IS OPENED IN LOOP

The headquarters of Jacob M. Loeb and his citizens' committee which is supervising the sale of Christmas gift certificates to stimulate buying was opened yesterday at 1 North La Salle street. It was a busy place throughout the day, as merchants, employers and individuals called to get their quota of certificates.

Some delay was met in the delivery of the certificates to the headquarters, but Mr. Loeb expected to have them on hand shortly. In the meantime the merchants' orders were taken and delivery will be made to them as soon as the certificates are available. Each certificate is for $1.

"These are purely gift certificates, issued for the purpose of stimulating buying by the public, which in turn will stimulate manufacturing and thus give employment to more people, increase buying power and start the country on its way back to normal prosperity," said Mr. Loeb. "We believe the plan will stimulate buying and that means it will help all business."

He pointed out that there are 22,000 merchants in Cook county outside the loop and that the certificates would be redeemable in merchandise at practically all of these stores.

CANADA GIVES U. S. OPTIMISTIC TRADE MESSAGE

Beatty of C. P. R. and Ford at Banquet.

It is not an idle dream to expect that in the evolution of the world's affairs the English speaking races will understand each other so well that they will prevent serious disagreements among themselves and by their united power force other nations to maintain peace and economic order.

This message was given to 1,200 members and guests of the Illinois Manufacturers association, attending the annual dinner of the organization last evening in the Stevens hotel, by Edward Wentworth Beatty, president and chairman of the Canadian Pacific railway. Mr. Beatty sounded an optimistic note, telling of Canada's confidence in business recovery.

Henry Ford Is Guest.

Although Mr. Beatty was the principal speaker, much of the limelight, literally and figuratively, was occupied by another guest, Henry Ford. Mr. Ford made no speech, but a medal was presented to him on behalf of the association by Theodore R. Gerlach. The medal, in the words of Mr. Gerlach, was a recognition of the Ford achievements in the industrial world.

"Your career has exemplified in a conspicuous manner the opportunities which attend hard work, patience, and perseverence in American industry," said the donor.

The acceptance by Mr. Ford was accomplished with a bow and possibly a word of thanks, although that couldn't have been heard a few feet away. He arrived in Chicago only a few minutes before his entrance into the banquet hall, where he was applauded by the audience and dozens of flashlight photographs were taken of him. Mr. Ford, by attending this banquet, is said to have broken a rule of long standing against attending such affairs.

U. S. Is Our Own Affair.

Mr. Beatty, in contrast to many foreign speakers who have brought over and presented solutions for American as well as international ills, took the position that the affairs of the United States are our own and outsiders have no business interfering.

"It would be an ill-advised Canadian," he asserted, "who would attempt to question the domestic policies of your country, which, in the opinion of your legislators and executives, are designed to promote the prosperity of the United States. I think we would be safe in assuming that your republic freely and willingly accords the same privilege to our dominion.

"In fact, I cannot understand how two free and independent nations could live in such complete harmony if there were not the greatest recognition of sovereign rights by each. The foundation of our amity has been mutual respect, a policy of noninterference, of neighborliness and friendliness."

Welcome American Capital.

Mr. Beatty assured his hearers that the inflow of American capital into the dominion was regarded by Canadians as desirable, and the fact that three and a half billion American dollars were invested on the other side of the line was an earnest of the future friendship and well being of both countries.

"In pulp and paper alone you have invested 800 millions," he said, "to say nothing of railway securities to the extent of 638 millions. American investments now represent 58 per cent of the total so-called foreign investments in Canada, whereas thirteen years ago you had only 17 per cent."

Despite the present conditions, with his country suffering because of a lack of demand for wheat and paper on a normal scale, he asserted that the Canadians were by nature an optimistic people and did not regard the conditions as part of a permanent or even a long term depression.

"We believe that our grain will be marketed in due course," Mr. Beatty continued, "that a gradual recovery, already noticed, will follow the results of overspeculation of previous years, and a better situation will succeed the unsatisfactory newsprint conditions."

J. H. Lewis Is Ill.

Senator Elect James Hamilton Lewis was one of the announced speakers, but was unable to attend. Shortly before the time scheduled for his start, Mr. Gerlach received a message that he had a fever and had been ordered by his physician to remain in bed. Mrs. Lewis, who was present, was requested to convey the sympathy of the association to her husband.

Arthur Brisbane and B. C. Forbes made speeches. Mr. Brisbane suggested that American business men should not be too anxious to shut out immigration, or to believe that the Russian government was entirely evil. Mr. Forbes expressed the opinion that the current depression was nearing an end, adding that many large American fortunes had been founded in such times by courageous purchases.

Message from Hoover.

Mr. Gerlach, who was reelected president of the association, said it was a sign of returning prosperity that the attendance at this banquet, the organization's thirty-third annual dinner, exceeded that of any other it ever held. Messages congratulating the association were received from President Hoover, Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont, and William Butterworth, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The President's telegram stated that he would be obliged if his cordial greetings were extended to the members and guests, adding that he had a deep sense of the value of the work being done by the association in the middle west.

Among those who listened to the addresses were the presidents of eleven railroads entering Chicago. At the speakers' table with them were thirty heads of large industrial concerns doing business in Illinois.

MOTHER HEARS SON OF GROVER CLEVELAND PLEAD CASE IN COURT

Newark, N. J., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The widow of an American President sat quietly knitting in court today while her son pleaded a case at the bar.

The President's son was counsel for John E. Nicholson, Baltimore, who seeks to prove he is the heir to a $325,000 trust fund left by William E. Emery of Flemington.

GEORGE HOWELL LOSES BOTH HIS WIVES IN A DAY

First Is Divorced; Second Gets Annulment.

George Howell, 27 years old, who neglected to divorce one heiress before marrying another, figured in the courts yesterday. In the morning his first wife won a divorce on grounds of cruelty. A few hours later his second wife had her marriage annulled. Before the day was over Howell's attorneys, Socrates & Davis, were successful in obtaining the dismissal of an indictment for bigamy.

Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howell, formerly of Glencoe and known in north shore society, gained notoriety last February when the parents of both his wives joined forces to put him in jail.

Story of Howell's Romances.

Four years ago Howell married Miss Artelia Kahnweiler, 24 years old, daughter of Alex Kahnweiler, an insurance broker living at 8142 Ingleside avenue. They separated after five months but were never divorced.

A year ago, according to testimony given in court, Howell went to California to join his parents after having run an $800 stake up to $40,000 in stock speculation, only to lose it all when the market crashed. At the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles he met Miss Marjorie Heisenbuttel, 22 years old.

The young woman was staying with her mother, Mrs. Max Strauss, 450 Park avenue, New York. Miss Heisenbuttel had just inherited $670,000 from her grandmother.

He Takes a Second Wife.

Howell told her to call him "Sandy," and in the third week of their acquaintanceship they eloped to Santa Monica. A few days later Mrs. Strauss decided it was time she and Marjorie were returning to New York. Howell, who was penniless, came along to Chicago on money given him by his bride, according to testimony yesterday.

Here Howell and his second wife disappeared before the eyes of Mrs. Strauss, who gave chase but was outdistanced. The couple were later caught by detectives after Mrs. Strauss had learned of Howell's first wife and he was jailed on a bigamy charge.

THINGS LIKE THIS SHOULD BE KEPT FOR 4TH OF JULY

A parade consisting of a pair of motorcycle policemen, two squad cars from the detective bureau, one hook and ladder outfit, one hose cart, the Summerdale station patrol, two police flivvers, an ambulance, and an inhalator crew drew up at 10 o'clock last night in front of the three story, six flat apartment building at 5810-12 North Wayne avenue.

The firemen and police were met by H. D. Jones, William O. Rich, Gertrude Ziegler, P. D. Robinson, Harry O. Doty, and their families—tenants—and by Steve Thomas, the janitor. Some of the women were hysterical. All of the men were stern faced but pale. Janitor Thomas was armed with a clinker rod.

The quiet that prevailed evenings in that neighborhood had been blasted a few minutes before 10 by a familiar sound that sent tenants and the janitor to their telephones to inform the police. "The building's been bombed."

With the arrival of the various detachments representing law and order search was started for the bomb. None was found, and it seemed that the quest would be futile when Janitor Thomas gave a glad shout. In a corner of the lobby he had found the cause of the explosion. It was a fire cracker.

RUNAWAY GIRL'S TALE OF JUNGLE LIFE TRAPS HER

Missing since early yesterday morning, Helen McMahon, 13 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McMahon, 6438 Drexel avenue, was found by police early this morning sitting in the lobby of the Majestic hotel.

She was electrifying attachés of the hotel with a weird tale of her "experiences" in African wilds when Policeman J. J. McCarthy of the central police walked in.

MORAN'S CRIMES TOLD TO JURY AS TRIAL BEGINS

Cite Gangster's Previous Police Record.

George (Bugs) Moran, deposed north side gang leader and one of the Chicago Crime commission's listed public enemies, went on trial for vagrancy yesterday at Waukegan before a Lake county jury composed of three farmers, three salesmen, two carpenters, a cab driver, a retired merchant, a laborer, and one man who was unemployed.

The gangster was smiling as he listened to the testimony of the first two witnesses, policemen, who told of arresting him in Chicago. His good humor seemed infectious and spread to the crowd in the courtroom of Judge Perry L. Persons. Many laughs enlivened the hearing and the chuckles of the defendant, ornately clad in an ensemble which included green suit, green tie, and green sox, were audible above the general merriment.

The State's Vagrancy Case.

In his opening statement to the jury State's Attorney A. V. Smith declared that the state would prove Moran a vagrant, not in the sense of one penniless and unemployed but as a habitual criminal engaged in no honest occupation and with a record as a burglar and robber.

Out of court, Attorneys Claire C. Edwards and Richard I. Gavin, representing Moran, said they would prove that their client was an official of the Central Cleaners and Dyers company, owning one-third of the concern's $300,000 stock, and with an income of at least $25,000 a year. Moran has left the beer and whisky business and is through with racketeering, they said.

"He was the associate of such men as Dean O'Banion, Frank and Peter Guzenberg, and Hymie Weiss, all shot down in gangland quarrels," responded the prosecutor. "He shot a policeman named O'Hara and also once shot John Torrio, notorious gangster. He used aliases whenever arrested."

Detectives Tell of Arrest.

Detectives John Howe and William Drury were the first two witnesses. They told of arresting Moran in company with Leo Mongoven, another public enemy, in the lobby of the Hotel Sherman on Jan. 23, 1930.

"Moran gave his name as G. E. Q. Johnson," testified Howe, and the gangster grinned.

"Who was Mongoven?" the witness was asked.

"A gangster," was the reply.

Heated objections from defense attorneys were upheld and the question was repeated.

"He was a racketeer," answered Howe, and excited objections were made again, while Moran and the crowd laughed.

"Well, then, he was a beer peddler," answered the witness the third time. This answer was allowed to stand.

"I saw Moran in jail on two other occasions," testified Howe. "In 1929 he was pinched with John Clark, who was later killed in the Valentine day massacre."

Witnesses were produced by the state to show Moran's criminal record. The defense lawyers, however, said they would agree to allow the record to go into evidence without the formality of testimony, and the defendant's record, showing convictions for burglary and robbery and sentences to several jails, was put into evidence.

Moran was arrested on Oct. 21 at the resort of Mrs. Elizabeth Cassidy at Bluff Lake, in Lake county. The prosecutor said the place was known as a gambling house where liquor was sold. Moran was charged with vagrancy after his arrest and released on $5,000 bond. If found guilty, he is subject to a fine of $20 to $100 or a sentence of ten days to six months in jail.

The jury was locked up last night. The trial is expected to be completed tomorrow.

Saltis Surprises Lyle.

Joe Saltis, another public enemy, was given another continuance on a charge of vagrancy yesterday after his attorney had surprised Judge John H. Lyle by signifying a readiness to stand trial before Judge Lyle. Other gangsters have petitioned for a change of venue to another court.

Saltis surrendered some weeks ago after he was called back to Chicago when his son was hurt here in an automobile accident. Saltis came 400 miles from a resort in northern Wisconsin to see the boy in the Holy Cross hospital.

"This charge of vagrancy is ridiculous," declared Attorney James Burke. "We can have as witnesses hundreds of citizens, congressmen, bankers, and clergymen, who have visited Saltis' resort and are willing to testify that he is now a respectable business man. We don't want a change of venue, either. We will stand trial before your honor."

Judge Lyle tried to convince the lawyer that he might be prejudiced in the case, but the attorney insisted upon a hearing. The case was finally continued to Jan. 6.

The court took occasion to inform Saltis that old charges against a number of gangsters were being dug up.

"He's only a newspaper pal," interjected the lawyer.

Instructing the court stenographer to cease taking notes, Judge Lyle said to Saltis: "I understand you just about own that county up in Wisconsin, sheriff and all."

Saltis did not answer, but his lawyer replied:

"It is true that up to four years ago Mr. Saltis was engaged in the business of supplying a commodity which is illegal, because of un-American legislation, but the vote cast a month ago clearly expressed the people's opinion. Perhaps these men are not the criminals and public enemies they are painted when they are engaged in such business."

Sellers of Guns Arraigned.

The war against gangsters in Cook county included these other developments yesterday:

Peter von Frantzius, alleged seller of weapons to gangsters, and two pawnshop brokers, all charged with violating the law applying to the sale of firearms, were granted jury trials when arraigned before Judge Lyle.

Mike "De Pike" Heitler, known to police as a brothel keeper, after a four day stay in jail on charges of perjury, obtained his release on a bond, scheduling unincumbered property worth $8,500.

"Dago Lawrence" Mangano, public enemy, was granted a jury trial on charges of disorderly conduct by Municipal Judge Federick W. Elliott.

IS BREAD PRICE KEPT TOO HIGH AS WHEAT DROPS? U. S. TO DECIDE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—An inquiry by the department of justice was under way today to determine if the price of bread is so high, in view of the current low prices of wheat, as to warrant action against baking corporations under the anti-trust laws.

The investigation, it was learned, was started some days ago in several cities and some of the findings have been turned over to Assistant Attorney General John Lord O'Brian. Whether they will justify his proceeding with prosecutions has not yet been determined.

With wheat selling at the lowest prices for many years, the cost of bread in most places has remained stationary and there has been a good deal of agitation in congress for an investigation. Representative George Huddleston [Dem., Ala.] asked the attorney general last spring to make an inquiry and more recently Senators George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.] and Arthur Capper [Rep., Kas.] have made similar demands.

Senator Capper today introduced in the senate a resolution providing for a complete investigation by the District of Columbia committee into the prices of all foodstuffs in the city of Washington.

Evanston Ban on Sunday Movies Is Held Illegal

Circuit Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday ruled that the Evanston referendum last April in favor of Sunday movies does not compel action by the city council to legalize them by ordinance. He held, however, that the ordinance prohibiting the showing of motion pictures on Sunday is unconstitutional.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Seventy-three persons were overcome by ammonia gas and were given treatment at hospitals here today when a refrigerating system broke in a downtown store. Only a few of the victims remained in hospitals tonight, however, and they, like the others, were believed to be recovering rapidly.

The breaking of an ammonia pump which a workman was repairing sent the fumes rushing through the four story building, occupied by the Chandler & Rudd store and restaurant. There were between 600 and 800 customers and clerks inside when the gas broke loose.

Some one turned in a fire alarm, which brought all downtown fire fighting apparatus and police.

An emergency call for ambulances and doctors was sent out at once. The ambulances were loaded to capacity and hastened the victims to the hospitals. Under treatment the sufferers responded rapidly and most of them were sent home within a few hours.

Prussia Clamps Lid on "Eye Openers" in Saloons

Gov. Emmerson's commission on unemployment and relief yesterday moved to eliminate panhandling in Chicago. Hereafter beggars who are really in need of help will be directed to one of the 13 relief stations throughout the city where they may obtain food, shelter, and a bath.

"There i now no necessity for panhandling and begging on the streets of Chicago," Lewis E. Myers, chairman of the housing committee, declared yesterday after a conference with his committee. "Our 13 shelters have a capacity of 10,000 and all are operating under the auspices of the governor's commission through a celaring house of men at 172 West Polk street."

Direction Cards Issued.

The commission has distributed cards to policemen and merchants and clubs whose members are asked to hand them to beggars who approach them. The cards direct those asking help to the Polk street clearing house. The commission reported that the number of men cared for each night in their shelters had decreased 1,500 due to the mild weather.

"We have plans for the opening of additional shelters if the necessity arises for we are determined to care for the homeless men in Chicago who are in distress," said Mr. Myers. "We have been housing and feeding approximately 8,000 men daily and if we have cold weather again in a few days this number will increase rapidly."

Quantities of Clothing Received.

Because of the liberal response to the appeals for old clothing by the women's division, the receiving stations throughout the city were swamped yesterday and Maj. George F. Gschwindt, formerly of the A. E. F. quartermaster department, was called in to help handle the clothing.

With the aid of contributions from 22 Chicago banks and from employés of the Illinois Central railroad the emergency relief fun yesterday gained $1,777,860, bringing the grand total to $1,777,860, which is more than one-third of the $5,000,000 sought. The banks turned in $21,000 and the railroad employés added $38,119.

RUMORS OF NEW U. S. LOANS TO EUROPEAN NATIONS ARE DENIED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—There is no truth in reports that the United States government is considering the reloaning of foreign debt payments to debtor nations or using it for other purposes, the White House declared today.

No scheme for application of the receipts from the foreign debt payments otherwise than to reduction in taxes to the American people has ever been considered by the American government and is not likely to be, it was explained.

There is not the remotest ground, it was said at the White House, for any suggestion that the United States has joined with France or any other nation in negotiations designed to set up a financial bloc in the world. There is also not the slightest truth, it was added, in published reports that the United States is engaged in negotiations to set up any commitment on peace or war or upon the freedom of the seas.

No such negotiations are being carried on in the United States government, it was further declared, and no suggestion of the kind has ever been made.

JOIN IN FIGHT FOR ELECTRIFIED RAIL TERMINALS

Two new petitioners appeared yesterday before the Illinois commerce commission with requests that they be allowed to support THE TRIBUNE in its suit to have the commission require the railroads entering Chicago to electrify their terminals.

One of them, the South Side Federation of Improvement Associations, Inc., not only wished to aid in the electrification program and the modernization of downtown stations, but broadened the scope of the case by assesting that many of the suburban stations of the railroads are "unsafe, archaic, and wholly inadequate."

The petition was presented by Attorney Ralph O. Butz. The other body announcing its intention to aid in the proceedings was the Northwest Civic convention, represented by Raymond T. O'Keefe.

A refusal to file records covering all their studies of electrification, as requested on behalf of THE TRIBUNE by Attorney Luther M. Walter, was made by the carriers' attorneys.

John L. Flannigan, appearing for 20 of the railroads, said that his clients would refuse any such extensive revelations of files.

By agreement the hearing was postponed until March 10. In the meantime the question of electrification and the necessity for it will be placed before the interstate commerce commission by the petitioners.

ASK 235 ACRES OF NEW LAND FOR GRANT PARK

Officials Hope to Get Federal Permit.

The yacht harbor between the Chicago river and Roosevelt road is protected by a breakwater, which is 1,634 feet off shore at Monroe street. For considerable distance from the Chicago river the pier runs directly south, but at a point about opposite Harrison street it turns southwest and angles in to the shore at Shedd aquarium. The park commissioners and city planners desire to eliminate this angle and fill in the land on a south extension of the north and south breakwater line. This would increase the area to be filled in from 190 acres to 235 acres.

Estimate Value of Land.

Some of the park commissioners, at their last meeting, suggested that a new breakwater be built 1,800 feet off shore. In such an area would be about 264 acres.

These park commissioners, in their discussion, placed a value of $200 a square foot upon the land to be filled in, basing their estimate on an appraisal of the 303.2 acres in the present Grant park. On that basis the 235 acres would have a value of $2,067,000,000.

Another basis of estimate was the opinion of an Illinois Central railroad official some time ago that its property north of Randolph street was worth $200,000,000. This area, including the property of the Michigan Central, has a land area of about 85.2 acres, and about 55 acres for air right development after required streets are built. On the I. C. basis, the 235 acres would have a real estate value of $865,000,000.

Much of the fill material, it was claimed, can be obtained from the excavation of downtown structures when building is revived. To fill by that method alone would be a slow job, and it is expected that the south park commission would supplement it with dredgings from the lake.

AUTOIST FLEES AFTER KILLING AGED TAILOR

Richard Christiansen, 83 years old, 6334 South Green street, a tailor, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by a hit and run driver while crossing the street in front of his home. Christiansen was found lying in the street by a passing motorist, Albert Kurtz, 8048 South Park avenue, who took him to the Englewood hospital. He died a few minutes later of a fractured skull.

This death and two others raised the Cook county motor toll for the year to 1,052. The victims:

James Dwyer, 70 years old, 3405 South Oakley avenue. Fatally injured when struck by the automobile of Harry Fehrman, 4221 South Union avenue, while crossing 46th street at Union avenue. He died in the German Deaconness hospital.

Glen Price, 17 years old, of 2850 West 22d street. Died at Wesley Memorial hospital of injuries received in an automobile or truck accident at 1024 West Van Buren street yesterday. The man who took Price to the hospital failed to leave his name and gave no details of the accident.

One woman was killed and another seriously injured in a three-machine automobile accident crash on route 41, near the Milwaukee-Racine county line in Wisconsin late last night. The dead woman was supposed to be Mrs. Era West of Peoria and the injured woman Mrs. Vera Grey, her sister, although Mrs. Grey refused to discuss their identities.

With the women were Paul D. Wilson of 5950 Winthrop avenue, Chicago, and Charles M. Packham of Evanston. They were found after the accident hiding behind a farmer's barn. Packham has internal injuries and Wilson's ribs were fractured. All the injured are in the Wauwatosa hospital. At the Packham home his wife said that he left yesterday morning on a business trip to Minneapolis.

NORMAN C. CLARK, BROKER, SUED FOR DIVORCE IN RENO

News of the filing of a divorce suit in Reno, Nev., by Mrs. Eloise Arms Clark of Evanston against Norman C. Clark, young Chicago broker, was received by friends on the north shore last night. Mrs. Clark charged cruelty in her divorce complaint, which has not yet come up for trial. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert C. Arms of the Georgian hotel in Evanston, vice chairman of the Central Scientific company of Chicago.

The Clarks were married at the Evanston Country club on Aug. 11, 1928. Mrs. Clark is a graduate of the National Park seminary of Washington, D. C., and Clark is an alumnus of the University of Wisconsin and a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon.

MARRY A FARMER AND BE HAPPY, IS HER ADVICE

First Woman to Win Farm Medal Tells Why.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Mrs. Ellsworth Richardson of Albia, Ia., first woman to receive the distinguished service medal from the American Farm Bureau federation, has no daughter, but if she had, she said today, she would want her to be a farmer's wife.

Mrs. Richardson was one of three persons who today received the federation's highest award for meritorious service to agriculture. She was selected because of her efforts in organizing the farm women of the country.

"I can offer no better recipe for happiness to the young women of America," she said, "than this: 'Become a farmer's bride.' The rural home offers the greatest opportunity for happiness that can be found. Surrounded by nature's beauty, the rural home and its family life afford to the wife and mother a joy that nowhere else can be found."

Once Teacher and a Nurse.

Mrs. Richardson has two sons, big, strapping fellows, and the youngest, James, 16, is going to live a farmer's life. The older boy, George, will be a chemical engineer.

A graduate of Central college at Pella, Ia., Mrs. Richardson isn't dedicated to agriculture because of lack of knowledge of other fields of life. She taught school for five years and then became a nurse.

Later she married George Ellsworth and went back to the soil.

Likes Rural Life Best.

"When I was teaching," she said, "I thought that was the finest career one could have. And when I was a nurse, that seemed to be the ideal work for me. When I became a farmer's wife, however, I knew, and still believe, that this was the best life of all.

"The social standard of the farm is higher and the educational, recreational, and cultural opportunities are increasing every year. There still is much to be done, unfortunately, before the farm home has all the advantages to which it is entitled, and it is to this end that we women of the farms are dedicated."

Mrs. Ellsworth has not failed to do her share in the work of improving the farm wife's lot. She has held most of the officers farm organizations for women provide in Iowa and at present is chairman of the Iowa women's committee of the Farm Bureau federation.

Husbands Safe on Farms.

To the girl who contemplates a life on some peaceful farm, Mrs. Richardson says:

"There will be work to do, but such wonderful work; she will share her husband's work and they will have their leisure together. She can rear her children in the finest atmosphere a child can know. Agriculture's prospects for the future are undeniably bright. And, don't forget, the country woman has her husband to herself."

Dudley Myers, Mendon, Ill., and Prof. T. L. Haecker, Lincoln, Neb., were the other two who received the bureau's distinguished service medals.

CHARGED WITH SLASHING WIFE.

James Quinn, 40 years old, a contractor of 6800 Normal boulevard, was arraigned yesterday before Judge William E. Helander, charged with trying to slash his wife, Adeline, with a razor, as well as giving her a black eye. Because Mrs. Quinn is in the hospital, the case was continued until Dec. 19.

GIRL SPEED PILOT STEPS ON HEELS OF HAWKS, LINDY

Wichita, Kas., Dec. 9.—(AP)—A society girl air enthusiast stepped on the heels of the most noted men speed pilots in the country today.

Miss Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., aviatrix, spanned approximately half the continent in seven hours and one minute in quest of a new west-east transcontinental flight record. She placed her name beside those of Capt. Frank Hawks and Charles A. Lindbergh in the annals of speed flying.

Miss Nichols reached here at 4:01 p. m. [C. S. T.] on a nonstop hop from Los Angeles. She announced she would leave tomorrow morning on her dash to New York.

She has a possible chance of bettering the flying time of Capt. Hawks, west-east transcontinental record holder. Hawks established a mark of 12 hours 25 minutes and three seconds from Glendale, Cal., to New York, last August, wresting the record from Lindbergh by more than two hours.

The aviatrix was only five minutes behind the time of the Lindberghs. She lopped more than five hours from the time of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, present holder of the west-east record for women.

Flying at a clip approaching three miles a minute, the New York girl was forced to lift her ship to an altitude of 20,000 feet to clear the peaks of the Rocky mountains when she ran into bad weather.

POISON FOR WIFE, GIFTS FOR GIRL, THEMES AT TRIAL

Testify Against Accused Army Officer.

Kansas City, Kas., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Intimate details in the life of Maj. Charles A. Shepard, charged with the poison murder of his wife, Zenana, were brought into his federal court trial today after nearly two days of expert medical testimony.

Witnesses testified concerning telegrams and gifts sent by Shepard to Miss Grace Brandon, 22 year old stenographer at Brooks field, San Antonio, Tex., for love of whom, the government contends, the 59 year old army medical officer took the life of his second wife. The name of Miss Brandon was brought into the trial for the first time by witnesses.

Two Chemists Testify.

Two qualified chemists today told the jury their chemical analysis of the viscera of Mrs. Shepard showed she had died of a slow acting poison. They were Col. Edward B. Vedder, of the army medical laboratory in Washington, D. C., and Dr. C. W. Muehlberger, assistant directo: of the crime laboratory at Northwestern university, Chicago.

Introduced as evidence were pieces of viscera, lifted from a corked bottle by Maj. James E. Ash, curator of the army medical museum at Washington, and shown carefully to the jurors as Maj. Ash pointed out what he termed ulcers.

Also introduced were two small flasks, produced by Mr. Muehlberger, and containing the "two or three grains of mercury," which he said his examiantion disclosed in the viscera.

Testify to Gifts to Girl.

Mrs. Theodore McCoskey of Los Angeles, a sister-in-law of Maj. Shepard, identified the handwriting of a telegram which was sent by Maj. Shepard to Miss Brandon from Waco, Tex., June 29, 1929, within a week after the burial of his wife. The telegram read:

"Will phone on arrival, about 10. Must see you tonight. Love,

"CHARLEY."

Another telegram, the handwriting of which was identified by Mrs. McCoskey as that of Shepard, was sent from Junction City, Kas. It was an order to a San Antonio florist for flowers for Miss Brandon. Another telegram to Miss Brandon, dated June 21, 1929, the day Maj. Shepard arrived in Los Angeles with the body of his wife, ended affectionately.

HIS CAR WON'T DO 50, AND PROVES IT FOR JUDGE AND THE COP

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Leo Curtis was haled into court and fined when police from the speed detail testified he was driving 50 miles an hour when they waved him to the curb.

Curtis protested his old bus could not go 35, the Omaha limit, let alone 50.

Judge Lester Palmer was impressed and sent a plain clothes man out to try out Curtis' machine. He was promptly pinched by the same men who caught Curtis. He swore he was going only 34.

DYNAMITE CREEK TODAY IN SEARCH FOR BODIES OF 2

Police Think Salesman and Girl May Have Eloped.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Authorities announced tonight they would dynamite Turtle creek, about ten miles north of here, tomorrow in an effort to find the bodies of J. Everett Sapp, local slot machine salesman, and Miss Helen Schoener, 22, of Freeport, Ill.

Both disappeared last week and Sapp's car, punctured with bullets, was found near South Beloit, Ill., his dented derby hat and bloodstained handkerchiefs lying in the road beside it. Not far from the car and only partly concealed was a bundle of woman's clothing, at first believed to have been Miss Schoener's.

Police said the theory Sapp and Miss Schoener had eloped was partially supported by statements of B. H. Beck, a night watchman. Beck said that early Sunday he saw Sapp's car being pushed by another machine near where it later was found. Two persons finally got out of Sapp's car, he said, and entered the second car, which sped away.

Investigation of the woman's clothing found by the roadside disclosed that it was too small for Miss Schoener, authorities said.

Police learned that Miss Schoener left her home at Freeport last Thursday to visit her mother in Cedar Rapids, Ia., but never arrived there. Mrs. Sapp recently found Miss Schoener's photograph in her husband's car and questioned him about it.

Police said they would dynamite the creek to remove any possibility that either Sapp and Miss Schoener, or both, had been slain and their bodies disposed of there.

ROBERT H. REID, BROKER, IS SUED FOR A DIVORCE

Robert Henry Reid, broker, was sued for divorce in the Circuit court yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth Reid of 1510 North Dearborn parkway. Through her attorneys, Taylor, Miller, Busch & Boyden, Mrs. Reid charges cruelty, alleging that her husband has been abusive since their marriage on April 27, 1929.

The Reids separated on Oct. 7 of this year, the bill says. They have a daughter, Mary Jane, 7 months old. Reid is a member of the Chicago Stock exchange and has offices at 120 South La Salle street.

Mrs. Reid has been married three times. Her first husband, Nugent Vairin of New Orleans, was killed in an automobile accident. In 1928 she divorced N. Grant Strathern of Ravinia. Reid also had been married previously and has a son, John Crerar Reid, 8 years old.

Attorney George L. Schein, representing Reid, said last night that the divorce will not be contested.

HAILVACCINATION OF COWS AGAINST T. B. SUCCESSFUL

Also Aid to Humanity, Experts Announce.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The Spahlinger vaccine method of preventing cattle from contracting tuberculosis was claimed to be a "complete success" tonight by a committee of experts controlling the recent experiments.

The announcement was made at a London banquet at which Aga Khan, chairman of the second committee, watching the developments, declared the vaccine was also of value to humans. He told how two members of his own household, for whom all hope had been abandoned, had been fully restored to health, while Sir Bruce Bruce-Porter, famous British physician, said that his own niece had completely recovered by application of the Spahlinger treatment, and after other methods had failed.

Experiment on 22 Calves.

The experiments were conducted on 18 vaccinated and four unvaccinated calves on a Norfolk farm. The 18 calves were vaccinated with the Spahlinger simplified bovine vaccine prepared from dead germs. These, with the four unvaccinated calves, were infected with massive doses of virus—living bovine tubercle bacilli.

The four unvaccinated calves died two months after the injection. One of the vaccinated calves, which had received the smallest does, died two months afterward. In each case an autopsy showed the cause of the death to be tuberculosis. The remaining 17 calves are alive and in good health.

Among the conclusions of the control committee are:

The Spahlinger vaccine immunizes calves against virulent tubercular virus, which kills unvaccinated calves in about a month; the vaccine immunizes cattle under the most unfavorable conditions of farm life and does not lose its potency with a lapse of time.

"We are convinced of the great value of Spahlinger's work to humanity," the Aga Khan's committee announced. "We feel the moment has arrived when the results of his recent demonstrations should be made known to the world."

This statement was signed by Aga Khan, Lord Crewe, Sir Arthur Stanley, chairman of the British Red Cross society; Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, former minister of labor; Maj. Gen. Sir Frederick Maurice, and Sir Bruce-Porter.

Insures Safe Milk Supply.

"The Spahlinger vaccine solves the problem of insuring the milk and meat supply of the world of being made free from tuberculosis," Aga Khan said in a speech.

Explaining his method Henry Spahlinger, noted Swiss bacteriologist, said:

"The treatment is simple and can be performed by a farm laborer. It consists of the vaccination of a newly born calf with the serum, and it is cheap. I hope that the ministries of agriculture of all countries will take over the control and issuing of the vaccine so all newly born calves can be innoculated. Regarding human-beings my works hitherto have been curative. I want it to be a preventive."

SCIENCE FINDS HOW ANTISEPTIC KILLS BACTERIA

Bares Vulnerable Side of "Bugs" Not Known.

Ithaca, N. Y., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Discovery of how antiseptics destroy bacteria was made public at Cornell university today. They cook the germs cold—that is, coagulate as in boiling, but without the use of extra heat.

Thus is bared a vulnerable side of microbes hitherto little known. It promises chemists and physicians a better target to guide them in making more fatal toxins.

The parboiling weakness of the "bugs" was found by Dr. Wilder D. Bancroft, noted colloid chemist, and Dr. G. Holmes Richter, national research fellow, working under a Heckscher Foundation grant.

Make Direct Attack.

With ultra-microscopes and the new tests of colloid chemistry they were able actually to see the physical carnage among microbes caused by antiseptics and disinfectants. They report that these medical remedies, instead of producing chemical changes, as many authorities have believed, nearly always make direct physical attack upon the bodies of bacteria.

The medicines stick to the germs, or cause other foreign substances to stick—and in either event if enough of the substance adheres, it is all up with Mr. Microbe. Absorption is the scientific name for this process.

As a result of absorption the living protoplasm in the bacteria thickens and irreversibly coagulates. This soon stops the microbes' activity and eventually kills him.

This is the effect, and the only important effect, says the report, of nearly all kinds of antiseptics and disinfectants. Formaldehyde is an exception, killing in part by causing chemical changes.

There is an intimation of wide applications for the discovery. The report states that any method which produces narcosis in higher animals is likely to retard growth and activity of bacteria and "if pushed far enough will act as a disinfectant."

Affects Other Human Cells.

Physical blows, shaking, and heat all produce the same kind of coagulation as antiseptics, although at differing rates. They all slow down bacterial activity. But the report says that the "practical effect" of shaking is nil for antiseptic purposes.

In a human being the medicines may be absorbed on many kinds of cells, thus reducing the coagulating effects on the bacteria. This makes it difficult to produce antiseptics and disinfectants which are harmless to the human cells and at the same time deadly to microbes.

It is believed that by definitely establishing for the first time the colloid theory of the effect of disinfectants on bacteria Drs. Bancraft and Richter have pointed the way to development of new antiseptics and disinfectants.

'PEACHES' WINS SUIT BROUGHT BY EX-MANAGER

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Frances "Peaches" Heenan Browning won one legal bout but lost another today with Edgar Allen, her former manager. She was awarded a verdict in the $10,150 suit brought against her by Allen, but lost on a countersuit which she brought against the theatrical man during the course of the trial.

Twisting and tugging at a blue silk handkerchief, Mrs. Browning, under a relentless cross-examination, told a jury before Supreme Court Justice McGeehan of her dealings wih Allen, who asked her for $15,000 as his commission on her income while she was under his management.

Visits "Social" Ones.

Pressed to explain some of Allen's visits to her while she was on the road, Mrs. Browning said they were "social" ones. She testified that the first business arrangement she made with Allen was in Cincinnati on June 22, 1928. David Haar, Allen's counsel, showed by telegrams that Allen had been at the Portage hotel, Akron, O., where Mrs. Browning also was staying, on June 7 and 8.

"What was Allen doing in Akron on June 7 and 8? Did he come to visit you socially?" Haar asked.

"I suppose so," Mrs. Browning replied.

Insists They Were Loans.

Haar closely questioned the witness as he presented check after check that her attorney introduced yesterday as loans Mrs. Browning had made to Allen. The checks, including a note for $2,500, totaled $4,545, all of which, Mrs. Browning insisted, were loans made at Allen's request.

When "Peaches" was asked if she knew a Mrs. Browning was named by Mrs. Allen in the divorce suit the question was objected to and sustained. Other questions intending to show a connection between the money transaction of Allen and Mrs. Browning and the then pending divorce action of Mrs. Allen were ruled out of order.

AVERAGE MAN SAVED $1.29 IN NOVEMBER, U. S. TREASURY SAYS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The average man had $1.29 more in his pockets a week ago Sunday than a month before that time. A treasury report today showed money in circulation per capita to have been $37.59 on Nov. 30, as compared with $36.30 at the end of October. The total of all money in circulation was $4,660,621,000 on Nov. 30, with $4,492,603,000 the figure for thirty days previous.

MABEL BEARDS DRYS TO DEFEND HER WINE JUICE

She Leaves Them More Confused than Ever.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt and her grape juice concentrate today split asunder the ranks of the organized dry leaders attending the closing sessions of the national temperance council.

MABEL WILLEBRANDT. [A. P. Photo.]

For nearly two hours the former assistant attorney general in charge of prohibition, now attorney for Fruit Industries, Inc., stood before the assembly and, under a rapid fire of questions, sought to defend present activities in behalf of the Golden State grapes as consistent with the spirit of prohibition.

When she started some delegates were friendly, some skeptical, and others hostile. When she finished it was confusion worse confounded.

May Split Other Sessions.

The question between the "pro-Mabels" and the "anti-Mabels" was: Can any prohibitionist favor 100 per cent prohibition and at the same time countenance the sale of fermentable juice for home consumption?

The grape concentrate controversy not only shattered the harmony of the National Temperance council, but it grew to formidable proportions as a threat of trouble in the sessions of the Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, which start in the capital tomorrow. It was reported that the issue will be thoroughly threshed out during the meetings of the more important group, which comprises representatives of the Anti-Saloon league, W. C. T. U., and the other leading dry groups.

The National Temperance council, which is composed of spokesmen for the lesser dry organizations, yesterday tabled a motion inviting Mrs. Willebrandt to appear before it.

Finally Invited and She Comes.

At a stormy session last night, however, the motion was rescinded after one delegate had charged Mrs. Willebrandt with advising President Hoover to "pussyfoot" on the dry question in the 1928 campaign to gain eastern votes. Friends of the lady indignantly demanded that she be given a chance to deny the charge and as a result she was invited to speak today. The "pussyfooting" charge was forgotten in the whirlwind of discussion over grape concentrate.

The session today was held behind closed doors, but sufficient information leaked out to let it be known that Mrs. Willebrandt had a warm time of it. Hardly had she taken the floor when she was assailed by questions.

It was reported by her friends that she weathered the storm admirably and the adjectives "eloquent" and "convincing" were applied to her arguments. On the other hand, there were those who said she had failed to convince them that she is not a traitor to the dry cause. All agreed, however, that she displayed courage if not sagacity in appearing before the dry session at all.

Drys Shy at Referendum.

As the grape controversy bubbled up in the dry sessions, another issue—that of a prohibition referendum—appeared to have been definitely laid to rest.

The Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals tonight passed unanimously a resolution against a referendum on the eighteenth amendment.

At the same time the board passed a resolution commending Dr. Wilson for his action in demanding that the spokesmen for the wets state clearly and exactly what they want.

JUDGES BEFORE GRAND JURY IN BOND INQUIRY

Asked to Explain "Queer Court Actions."

Two Municipal court judges, and three former judges who were defeated at the recent election, were called before the grand jury yesterday to explain what Assistant State's Attorney A. C. Dewitt in charge of the bond department, called "some queer happenings in some of the courts." The jurors after the session, which lasted until late in the evening, voted to call in other officials for explanations, but no new indictment action was taken at this time.

One of the court occurrences called to the attention of the jury yesterday was the case involving Floyd Venn as as defendant on a charge of larceny. Venn is now in the Bridewell under a sentence of one year for an attempt to rob the First National bank by means of a story that he was carrying a bottle of nitro-glycerine, which he would explode if not given money. The bottle contained water.

Fakes Appear Before Court.

Venn at that time was charged with stealing from Dr. Irving Hecht, a dentist at 9 South Kedzie avenue.

When the case of the robbery of the dentist was called before Judge Joseph McCarthy, now an ex-judge, a fake defendant and a fake prosecuting witness appeared. The fake prosecuting witness told the prosecutor and the judge that he did not wish to prosecute, and the case was dismissed for want of prosecution. It was not until some days later that the imposition on the court was discovered.

Judges Joseph Schulman and William R. Fetzer were also questioned at some length by the jury. Judge Schulman, it is reported, was questioned on two subjects. The first was about signing $72,000 worth of bonds for Louis Asher, a professional bondsman, while the latter was on the blacklist.

Policeman Signs for Judge.

The other situation which Judge Schulman was asked to explain was why he allowed Sergt. R. R. Gwynn of the detective bureau to sign the judge's name to bonds for R. R. Covello, arrested on a confidence game charge.

"The jurors are trying to correct a great evil, and I am trying to help them," said Judge Schulman as he emerged from the juryroom after a session of nearly one hour.

Judge Fetzer was questioned about a quasi criminal case in which a forfeiture was reported to have been set aside after the case had been in the courts for about 18 months. The defendant forfeited his bond, it was reported. Former Judge Max Luster was also questioned about the case.

Call Police Magistrate.

Former Judge Albert George was also among the witnesses as were Henry J. Sandusky, police magistrate of Cicero; Sergt. Edward Phelan, Sergt. John Malloy, and Peter M. Quinn.

Another occurrence of which the jury was told yesterday was that involving Sol Block, former real estate man and more recently a professional bondsman. A warrant had been issued for him charging pandering and the police were given special notice to arrest him. Despite this notice Block went in and out of some police stations signing bonds, it was charged.

FARM WIFE'S PAPER, AN "ORIGINAL COPY" DECLARATION OF U. S.

Ontario, Cal., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Dr. Merton E. Hill, principal of Chaffey Union High school, received word from the Huntington library, San Marino, Cal., today that the document found by a farmer's wife in an old trunk had proved to be one of the 55 original copies of the Declaration of Independence.

Mrs. Arthur G. Phelps brought the time worn paper to Dr. Hill several weeks ago, saying she found it when her father-in-law died four years before, but laid it aside, supposing it of no value. Then one day, she said, she read an article in a magazine in which it was said a letter written and signed by Button Gwinnett sold for $25,000.

"I remembered that the name 'Button Gwinnett' was on the old document. Might it be of any value?" she asked Dr. Hill.

Beaten on Every Wedding Anniversary, Wife Says

Walter C. Deckler, until recently scenic artist for the Chicago Civic Opera company, was sued for divorce in the Superior court yesterday by Mrs. Ida H. Deckler, 24 years old, of 2921 North 77th court, Elmwood Park. Through her attorney, Harry X. Cole, Mrs. Deckler charges cruelty, alleging that her husband has beaten her on each wedding anniversary since their marriage on Oct. 15, 1927. They separated three days ago. Judge John J. Sullivan issued an injunction to restrain Deckler from entering his wife's home.

Two Will Go to U. S. Prison Unaccompanied by Officers

Kewanee, Ill., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Alois De Keyers and Peter Van Heck, both of Kewanee, who were convicted in federal court of violating the dry law, will arrive, unaccompanied by officers, at Leavenworth, Kas., Friday. They are paying their own expenses to the prison. Each was sentenced to a year and a day.

SLAYER DOODY GRANTED STAY OF EXECUTION

Willie (Baby Face) Doody, killer of Chief of Police Charles Levy of Berwyn, was granted an extension of life yesterday, when the Supreme court allowed a motion for a rehearing in his case. He was to have been executed tomorrow at midnight along with William Lenhardt, slayer of a restaurant owner.

Lenhardt was refused clemency by the pardon board, and, inasmuch as the Supreme court has ruled on his fate, the only thing which can save him now is an insanity petition.

In allowing the rehearing in the Doody case the Supreme court criticized Attorney William Scott Stewart for the petition which he filed. The court ordered his petition stricken from the files, but allowed the motion.

"The tone of that petition throughout is offensive in a high degree," the court stated.

Attorney Stewart last night announced that he had forwarded an amended petition to the court.

SIXTH FLOOR MIDDLE STATE

PRICE CUTS DRAW BUYERS; SALES OF FURNITURE RISE

Cities Throughout State Report Trade Increase.

The army of Christmas shoppers who crowded the aisles of stores in the loop and in outlying districts yesterday in search of practical Christmas gifts found that their dollars will buy more this year than they did in 1929. This discovery apparently has led to a decision to buy, for throughout Chicago merchants report an upward trend in sales.

A survey of loop department stores yesterday showed price reductions on furniture and household furnishings ranging from 30 to 50 per cent. From dishes to divans price tags have been marked down to new low levels, with resultant increases in sales. The furniture departments were enjoying spirited sales yesterday.

Active Buying Throughout State.

Active buying is reported in other cities throughout the state as well as in Chicago, according to J. H. Hudson director of the mercantile affairs department of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, who has made a tour of downstate cities. Christmas trade in most Illinois cities is approaching normal and the stores are full of customers, he said.

"Merchants everywhere are considerably cheered over a much improved buying spirit," declared Mr. Hudson. "Trading sections are decorated in holiday style. Most of the communities have instituted 'buy now' campaigns and these are being carried out successfully. The merchants interviewed feel that publicity and advertising stressing unusual price values have had a great deal to do with the improved situation. Christmas buying centers on useful gifts, although the regular gift trade is not at all neglected."

Survey Shows Price Cuts.

In the neighborhood business centers bankers, trade groups, and merchants yesterday reported a gradual increase in Christmas buying. Following are some of the comments:

Paul A. Zimmerman, president of the Oak Park Trust and Savings bank: "Things are on the up grade. The holidays are bringing out more shoppers now and signs indicate the continuance of better business. Merchants are placing orders months ahead to replenish their stocks and people generally have passed the stage where they put off purchasing a commodity or luxury. Another encouraging sign is the increased number of inquiries in the banks concerning building loans."

Albert Dieden, president of the Lincoln Square Commercial association: "The worst of the depression is over. Business is almost as good as it was last year, and that shows that it is on the upgrade. The sick spell of business is over."

Sees Gain in Building.

Eugene Mooney, chairman of the board of the South Woodlawn Chamber of Commerce: "There is a noticeable improvement in all lines of business. There is more building going on now than in some time. Contractors are beginning to operate again. There has been a general trend upward in business since early fall. Confidence has returned and normal buying is here again."

Timothy J. Weldon, president of the Auburn Park Business Men's association: "Our merchants report a notable improvement in business in the last few weeks. Since the elections buying had grown in volume and we feel that the worst of the depression is over. We anticipate a normal holiday period."

Simon Klee, president of Klee Bros. & Co., 1200 Milwaukee avenue: "We've noticed a decided improvement in conditions in the last month. Purchasers are buying a good grade of merchandise. There will be a steady improvement from now on until the first of the year and a more decided improvement from then on."

Harry Himmel, vice president of I. Himmel & Sons, 322 West 63d street: "Business along 63d street seems to be picking up and the merchants are doing practically their normal Christmas business."

HUNT KIDNAPER OF BABY.

Lawndale police yesterday were seeking Stanley Augustiniak, recently released from Pontiac reformatory. Because his wife, Mary, 2336 South Troy street, refused to live with him, he kidnaped their baby on Monday night while Mrs. Augustiniak was bathing it.

SMILING JIMMY WALKER WEEPS, AND FOR CAUSE

Tear Gas Bomb Is Set Off by Accident.

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—The entire city hall stopped business this afternoon as department heads and clerks wept. Chief Magistrate Joseph E. Corrigan had accidentally set off a tear gas bomb in the middle of a meeting of the mayor's sports committee on unemployment in the mayor's office.

The committee, headed by Mayor James J. Walker and Chief Magistrate Corrigan, rushed from the mayor's reception room for other parts of the building.

Besides the mayor and his entire office staff, those directly in the line of the gas fumes included Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney and several men and women waiting to confer with Mr. Walker.

How It Happened.

The mayor had just gathered with the sports writers on his subcommittee arranging the Army-Navy game next Saturday for the unemployment fund and had started to discuss the Colgate and New York university game of last week.

"I was disappointed in the game," the mayor was saying, and at this point Mr. Corrigan leaned forward in his chair to extinguish his cigaret.

As he did so the tear gas bomb, shaped like a fountain pen and a gift to the magistrate from a friend, caught in the arm of his chair and released the cap, discharging the gas with a flash like that of a revolver.

Corrigan Weeps Bitterly.

Mr. Corrigan looked rather sheepishly at Mr. Walker.

"It was just an accident," he sobbed. "I—I—didn't—mean—to—do—it! A friend gave—it—to me. Don't carry—the thing—all the time. I just—happened to—have it with me."

"Well," said the mayor tearfully, "I'll be back, but right now I'm leaving."

His hands covering his eyes, the mayor, still weeping, strode through the door to his private office.

Gen. Charles W. Berry, the city controller, is a physician. Him the mayor made haste to consult professionally. Others fled—weeping—into the street.

The board of aldermen had just adjourned and some of its members were mowed down with the rest.

PLOT TO BLOW UP CHILEAN RULER; 8 REDS CAUGHT

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 10 [Wednesday].—Eight communists were captured yesterday while placing dynamite under a bridge 30 miles south of here shortly before the presidential train was due to arrive. On board the train with President Ibanez were 100 cabinet members and congressmen.

FURNITURE MART OFFERS $5,000 FOR BOMB CLEW

A reward of $5,000 was offered yesterday for information as to the men and the motive back of the bombing which caused damage of $8,000 at the Furniture Mart, 666 Lake Shore drive, on Monday night. A statement by V. L. Alward, president of the Furniture Mart, declared officials of the company had no idea of the reason for the bombing and that the company has had no trouble of any kind with organizations or individuals.

Officials of the Employers' association, which investigates all bombings, said that labor trouble had been eliminated as a possible motive. Alexander G. Jamie, chief investigator for the "secret six" committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, said he had not uncovered any cause that might have led to the bombing.

It was the opinion of President Alward that the bomb was intended to damage the Furniture Mart rather than the concern whose display room bore the brunt of the explosion, the Kroehler Furniture company. As a reason for the explosion taking place on the north side of the Mart—the Huron street side—rather than at the entrance, it was pointed out that many persons might have seen the bombers if they had tossed their explosive on the Lake Shore drive side of the building.

ASK U. S. TO BAR MAYOR'S RAFFLE FROM THE RADIO

Association of Commerce Protests Lottery.

[By the Associated Press.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—A protest against the radio lottery proposed by Mayor W. H. Thompson of Chicago to aid unemployment was filed today by Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, in a letter to the federal radio commission.

Writing under the date of Dec. 9, Mr. Randolph called attention to what he termed "a projected lottery of tremendous proportions which is about to be launched in the city of Chicago and to ask that you take appropriate steps to bring to the attention of Chicago broadcasting stations rulings which we understand you have already made with respect to the use of broadcasting stations for advertising or otherwise furthering lotteries."

Wants Broadcasting Prevented.

"We do this because we are informed there is a possibility that one or more Chicago broadcasting stations may be used in furtherance of the lottery project," he added.

Mr. Randolph quoted rulings of the commission which held that dissemination of lottery information would weigh heavily against persons operating radio stations. He said the possibility of public injury through the use of broadcasting stations was "manifestly as great if not greater than the injury which results from similar conduct by the press."

Mr. Randolph then told the commission the project fostered by Thompson in substance would provide a million dollars in cash awards to be distributed to persons holding coupons which they would obtain with each 25 cent purchase of goods at local stores.

Retailers Must Buy Tickets.

He said the highest award was to be $100,000 and the smallest $50, adding that local merchants and retailers were being asked to purchase these coupons at the rate of a thousand for $250. He said the manner of determining the winners had not been revealed. He added it seemed obvious that the winners would have to be determined by drawing numbers and therefore it would be purely by chance.

"If this is the case, under a long line of decisions by United States courts, this scheme is unquestionably a lottery within the meaning of the federal statutes and no use can be made of the United States mail in furtherance of it," the letter said.

"The matter has already been brought to the attention of the postmaster general, who has, by instructions given to the postmaster at Chicago, let it be known, with reference to this particular project, that if use of the mails is made in furtherance of any lottery coming within the statutory prohibition, the postoffice department will refuse mailing privileges to any matter in violation of the statute.

No Newspaper Publicity.

"The Chicago newspapers are not printing anything in furtherance of the scheme. Generally speaking, the larger and more reputable business houses and banks have refused to cooperate or take part in the furtherance of it. There is, however, a certain amount of billboard advertising of the scheme already taking place in Chicago and it is said that use is about to be made of one or more broadcasting stations for this purpose.

"It is obvious from what has been stated that the burden of the enterprise will fall on the small merchant and retailer who is not organized and has no means of protecting himself against it. It is unnecessary to point out, furthermore, that the carrying out of such an enterprise is inimical to sound business.

"The situation is or may become at any moment emergent and we therefore ask that the commission take immediate steps to bring its rulings on the subject to the attention of the Chicago broadcasting stations."

The letter was referred to the general counsel of the commission and will be submitted by him to the commission probably within the next day or two.

File Bankruptcy Charges Against Golf Course Club

Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the Rob Roy Country club, Inc., near Des Plaines, were filed yesterday in the United States District court. According to the petition, the club has liabilities of $100,000 and assets insufficient to meet them. The club maintains a golf course on a 130 acre tract on McDonald road, six miles from Des Plaines.

30,000 RIOT IN BERLIN; OBJECT TO WAR MOVIE

Police Frisk Audience for Tear Bombs.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—Six were injured and scores were arrested here tonight when a mob of 30,000 young Fascists, most of whom were lying in their cradles during the great war, fought police in demonstration against the showing of the film "All Quiet on the Western Front."

One Fascist shot into the air during the melée, wounding a comrade. At midnight the rioters were trying to break through to the fashionable Kufuerstendamm, with police holding the mob in check.

The young Fascists, who charge the film is pacifistic and that it shows German soldiers in a poor light, sang old time war songs amid the din and confusion. Fascist members of the reichstag addressed the shouting mob.

Search Men for Arms.

All men entering the theater, located in Nollendorf platz, were searched for arms and tear bombs by police. One stench bomb was found. A woman who cried "Stop this shameful performance!" was ejected from the theater. She was identified as Frau von Delmling, an aristocrat of bygone days.

The Steel Helmets, Nationalists, and other organizations appealed to President von Hindenburg, as field marshal of the old German army, to "defend the army's honor and prohibit the film." The president declined to act, declaring the matter must be handled through regular channels. This question will be decided at an extraordinary meeting of the censorship committee Thursday. The Catholic center parties have joined the protesters, and official circles believe the film will be banned.

Home Minister Joseph Wirth plans to report to the committee that the film "endangers public order and security."

Delegates of the German association of movie theater owners and directors have voted not to show the film because "we do not want our movies turned into political battlegrounds."

Uncover Red Arsenal.

PIRMASENS, Bavaria, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Police announced discovery today of an alleged communist arsenal containing a dozen large bombs and explosives for the manufacture of more bombs. Twenty-four members of a communist anti-Fascist league have been arrested.

N. A. T. to Start Air Line to Kansas City on Jan. 2

Lester D. Seymour, vice president and general manager of National Air Transport, mail and passenger carriers between Chicago, New York and the southwest, yesterday announced that air mail and passenger service between Chicago and Kansas City will start on Jan. 2. Tri-motored Ford transport planes will be used. More than nine million miles have been flown by the N. A. T. mail planes over their system of airways since they first took over the Chicago-Kansas City-Dallas mail line in 1926. Extension of passenger service to Dallas is expected later.

MERCURY RISES TO 51; WEATHER OVER U. S. MILD

In sharp contrast to the cold wave which recently brought zero temperatures and snowstorms to most of the northern half of the country, a warm wave set in yesterday from the great plains region eastward to the Atlantic coast.

In Chicago the temperature rose from 35 degrees in the early morning to 51 at 2 and 3 p. m., and the warm sunshine brought out thousands of strollers and park bench sitters.

The mild weather will continue today in Chicago and most of the central states, without temperature changes of consequence, C. A. Donnel, the weather man, said last night. He forecast, however, increasing cloudiness for today in the Chicago area, with rain probable by tomorrow.

An exception to the general warm weather was reported from Florida, where fruit growers over most of the state found the ground white with frost early yesterday.

50 Evanston Men Organize Branch of Wet Crusaders

Fifty men of Evanston met at the North Shore hotel last night and organized a branch of the Crusaders, national anti-prohibiton society. Henry M. Huxley was elected battalion commander and John C. Shade his assistant. Both are lawyers with offices in the loop. J. Russell Forgan, commander of the Chicago district of the Crusaders, was the chief speaker.

JUDGE AMENDS REPORT ON WRIT AGAINST UNIONS

Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg yesterday issued a rule to amend the finding of a master in chancery in the case of Abarbanell Brothers, cleaners and dyers of La Grange, against two unions. The master's report recommended that a permanent injunction be granted to restrain members of the unions from interfering with the business and employés of the Abarbanell company, a nonunion concern. Judge Feinberg's rule will allow picketing of the plant at a distance of more than 100 feet. A decision on the injunction petition will be made following a conference with attorneys, the judge said.

YULETIDE HOPES OF CHILDREN UP TO GOOD FELLOWS

Hungry Youngsters Rely on Santa Claus.

Good Fellows, in their enthusiasm to provide a Christmas for poor families, are neglecting their fund for family rehabilitation. The volunteer Santa Clauses are reporting to the Good Fellow headquarters, in THE TRIBUNE offices at Madison and Dearborn streets, in increasing numbers, but the cash contributions seem to be falling off this week.

The donations supply food, clothing, heat, and shelter to families of established worthiness, helping them through the winter or until they can become self-supporting again. There is no overhead in this charity, because THE TRIBUNE pays administration expenses.

May Visit Adopted Families.

Good Fellows who, individually or in a group, adopt a family for the winter may visit their charges and watch the development of their wards personally. Arrangements for such visits can be made through the Good Fellow headquarters, Superior 0100. Or the cash donors can leave this welfare work in the hands of trained and experienced social experts with an assurance that all of the money contributed is going to a deserving family and that the family is being guided by capable hands to self-support.

The Christmas activity of the Good Fellows, now in its 21st year, seems to be capturing public popularity as the yuletide draws nearer. Hundreds of families are being assigned to volunteers who will visit the homes on Christmas eve with baskets of groceries for a holiday meal and toys and candy for children's stockings.

Children Await Santa Claus.

Some of these families on the Good Fellow Santa Claus list are now receiving aid from the Good Fellow fund. This aid, however, is under a minimum budget for necessities that is standard with Chicago charities. It doesn't provide toys, fruit, nuts, and candy for children who still have faith in Santa Claus, and in society. They'll need a basket to appreciate that Dec. 25 is Christmas.

Other families on the list lack necessities. Without a basket, Dec. 25 will be just another day of hunger and cold, to be remembered by the children as a day of bitter disappointment. All names are furnished by the Christmas bureau of the Chicago Council of Social Agencies, which is a clearing house for 200 Chicago charities.

If you want to aid, either in providing necessities to families who are in dire want or in bringing a Christmas basket to some unfortunates, there is a coupon published for your convenience on this page.

MORE JOBS NEEDED

"I am a bookkeeper out of work. I wonder if you could get me a job scrubbing? Night work will do—anything."

This request was made of Mrs. Lilla H. Walter, director of the women and girls' department of the Illinois Free Employment service, 116 North Dearborn street, where Sally Joy Brown of THE TRIBUNE sends all offers of work which are called or sent her.

The speaker was a slight young woman in broken shoes, well worn coat, and hat. She was pale and distraught.

"I see many women in conditions of acute distress, but to even me this woman's voice was moving," Mrs. Walter said. "I talked to her, and, although she was reticent and proud, I learned her story finally. Her husband had been out of work some time. They had two babies, one 14 months old, one less than 3 years old.

Only Bread and Coffee to Eat.

"'I suppose you have food at home?' I asked her. And she replied, 'We've had a little bread and a little coffee for the last two days. Nothing else, even for the babies.'"

There were no jobs available when she called at the employment bureau yesterday afternoon. Neither was there a job for a young girl who entered Mrs. Walter's office crying late in the afternoon.

She was about 18 years old, Mrs. Walter said. For many months she had been unemployed. Her regular work was at a factory. She and a sister, who also is out of work, are the sole support of their 81 year old father. He is too feeble to work himself.

Then there was Miss M——, a hotel chambermaid of about 35 years old. She had not had work for months. She was in arrears in paying the $20 monthly rental for a little flat. Her gas had been turned off and there was no heat except that from gas stoves. All fall she has lived in the cold rooms and been glad to have them. she said, but now she will be ejected if she does not find work.

Shoes Worn, Loses Her Chance.

A waitress was sent out by the agency for a certain job, but came back heartbroken, Mrs. Walter said. She had not been able to get it. "I know it is because of my poor appearance," she told Mrs. Walter on returning. "You see, I walk so much that my shoes have worn completely out." Mrs. Walter sent her to the governor's relief commission service bureau for women.

"We are having wonderful help from Sally Joy Brown of THE TRIBUNE," said Mrs. Walter. "The public response to her appeals are splendid. We only hope they continue, because they are needed more and more as the winter progresses, and the little savings some families have melt away."

Sick Man Peers Over Rail of Porch; Killed in Fall

Michael O'Donnell, 60 years old, 3853 Greenview avenue, was killed yesterday when he fell when he peered over the railing of a second floor porch to see who was ringing the door bell. O'Donnell was ill and had left his bed to go to the door. The visitor was a Salvation Army solicitor.

JUDGE WILLIAMS CALLS SANITARY CASE ATTORNEYS

Report He Is Ready to Retire from Trial.

Judge Charles A. Williams of the criminal court yesterday ordered all the attorneys for the prosecution and defense in the sanitary district case involving Timothy J. Crowe and other former trustees and officials of the district, to appear in his court at 2 o'clock this afternoon. It was reported in the Criminal court building that Judge Williams is going to send the case back to Chief Justice John P. McGoorty for assignment to another judge for trial.

The action of Judge Williams, however, according to reports in the court, is contingent on that of First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup. It was reported that Prosecutor Northup is to make some kind of an apology to the judge.

Both Decline Comment.

"I have nothing to say," said Prosecutor Northup when asked why the sanitary case was being called up tomorrow.

Judge Williams refused to make any comment and when asked a series of questions as to whether the case was to be reassigned today under certain conditions he replied only with the word, "No."

Prosecutor Northup several weeks ago filed a certificate of prejudice against Judge Williams, charging that he was unfit to preside at the trial because the judge's son, Willard Williams, was on the sanitary district pay roll for months without doing any work. The judge refused to allow the case to be reassigned and said that he would hear a motion to quash the indictments on Dec. 15.

Case Taken to Grand Jury.

The prosecutor then called witnesses before the grand jury to show that young Williams never worked for his money. This fact is said to be one of the considerations to be taken up today. It was reported that Prosecutor Northup will explain that he has just discovered that the judge's son was ill most of the time he was on the district pay roll.

Attorneys John McInerney and Albert Fink for the defense have objected to a reassignment of the case because they argued that Northup agreed to the selection of Judge Williams as the trial judge.

"We do not know what the judge intends to do tomorrow," said Attorney McInerney last evening. "We have not been informed as to why we are called to court."

55% Increase Over '27, Sweitzer Says.

Cook county real estate having full value of $270,000,000 has been sold to professional tax buyers for delinquency in general taxes for 1928. This was revealed yesterday. The assessed value of this property is about $99,900,000 and represents an aggregate of $5,000,000 in 1928 taxes. This is an increase of nearly 55 per cent over the value of property sold in default in 1927 taxes, according to County Clerk Robert M. Sweitzer.

Since the tax sales ended on Nov. 1, Mr. Sweitzer said, only $40,500,000 of the total property sold—about 15 per cent—has been redeemed by the original owners.

Two Years for Redemption.

The sale of tax bills is theoretically a public auction. The properties on which taxes have not been paid are sold to the highest bidders. The tax buyers pay the taxes and thus hold a lien against the property. The property owners are given two years in which to redeem their realty by paying the tax bill and interest at the rate of not more than 12 per cent for each six months.

The number of parcels of property sold by the county treasurer is 29,461, as compared to 19,000 parcels sold to collect 1927 taxes. In addition there are 59,403 more parcels which have been forfeited by taxpayers but which have not been sold because no bids were made by tax buyers.

Many Owners Unaware of Sales.

Many of the property owners are unaware that their property has been sold for taxes, Mr. Sweitzer said. In many cases the property owners paid part of their tax bills, withholding the balance on grounds that their bills were exorbitant and discriminatory. These taxpayers were treated the same as those who failed to pay any of their bill, he said.

Of the 29,461 parcels sold, 16,637 are in the city and 12,824 in the country districts.

Many property owners who have failed to pay their 1928 taxes are contesting their assessments in the County court. Where objections have been filed in court the tax forfeiture is delayed pending a decision. Tax officials have expressed the opinion that many of the taxpayers filed objections to their assessments only for the purpose of escaping payment until they can find the money with which to pay their bills.

1929 Hearings Go On.

Hearings on the 1929 assessments were continued yesterday before the board of review. About 200 property owners are being summoned daily to explain why they think their assessments should be reduced.

It was revealed that a blanket complaint against the 1929 assessments on every parcel of property in Niles township has been filed by the United Appraisal company. The petition requests a reconsideration of the valuations on grounds that the assessors failed to take into consideration that the property is poorly situated in regard to transportation.

The petition was signed by M. J. Layden, who is said to be a former clerk in the office of the board of assessors. Niles township has more than 40,000 parcels of property.

Harry S. Cutmore, director of appraisals for the board of assessors, criticized the appraisal company, declaring that "too many such concerns have sprung up since the reassessment."

BLOCKS EFFORT TO HOLD UP SALE OF ALTON ROAD

Committee's Petition Is Denied by Judge.

An eleventh hour effort to forestall the auction sale of the Chicago and Alton railroad was defeated yesterday when Federal Judge George A. Carpenter denied a petition presented by a protective committee of Alton stockholders asking leave to intervene.

The auction is scheduled to be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the door of the Alton depot at Wilmington, Ill. Judge Carpenter denied a motion of the protective committee to postpone the sale, but agreed to help expedite presentation of the case to the federal Appellate court if the committee decided to appeal.

Prepare Appeal Motion.

Last night counsel for the protective committee, former Senator James A. Reed of Kansas City and Benjamin V. Becker of Chicago, announced that they were preparing a motion for appeal to present in the Appellate court today. It appeared improbable that the auction would be forestalled, but Mr. Reed announced that the appeal would be carried through on the theory that a favorable decision might affect the title of the successful bidders to the Alton properties.

The Alton's right of way and equipment, appraised at $120,000,000, will be offered for sale in five parcels, with Herbert A. Lundahl, federal master in chancery, as auctioneer. The only bidder in sight is the Baltimore and Ohio railway, owner of a large block of the Alton's outstanding bonds.

In denying the stockholders' petition, Judge Carpenter pointed out that they had failed to accompany the petition with a concrete plan of reorganization, although fully aware that the Baltimore and Ohio was seeking to gain control of the Alton. Under the interstate commerce commission's consolidation plan of 1929, the Alton was allocated to the Baltimore and Ohio.

Explains Stockholders' Stand.

Regarding the lack of a stockholders' plan of reorganization, Mr. Reed had argued that his clients had been led to believe that Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York financial house, was working on a plan of reorganization. The stockholders, Mr. Reed asserted, learned only recently that they had been "tricked" by the action of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in selling the bonds to the Baltimore and Ohio.

PEN GUARANTEED FOR LIFE

It will make the memory of this Christmas —and of you—live in their hearts as long as life lasts

Here, at the price people often pay for a pen alone, are both a Pen and a Pencil in a gay Christmas gift box. $8.75 the pair—and both are style-leaders—Parker's latest streamlined Duofold Jr. that sets low and unexposed in the pocket. Moreover, the Pen is Guaranteed for Life!

Barrels are lustrous, jewel-like, non-breakable Jade, Lacquer-Red, Lapis Lazuli, Blue, Mandarin Yellow or flashing Jet, all smartly black-tipped. Black-and-Pearl and exclusive new Green-and-Pearl at slightly higher prices.

All Parker Duofold Pens and Pencils are convertible at any time into tapered Desk Set models. If the owner later wants to get a Desk Base to hold them, this saves the price of a second Pen, or Pencil.

Beat this value? It can't even be equalled, so waste no time. Stop at the nearest pen counter, but be sure to look for this name on the barrels, "Geo. S. Parker—DUOFOLD." Others may imitate the Parker colors, but the Parker name on the Pen Guarantees it for Life. That's the first thing your loved ones will look for on Christmas. Accept none without it.

FIGHT TO REMAP STATE GETS AID IN ALTON AREA

Collinsville Senator Joins Reapportion Battle.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

One of the newly elected downstate senators, James O. Monroe, Democrat of Collinsville, enlisted himself yesterday for the reapportionment battle in the coming session of the legislature. He is from the Forty-seventh district (Madison and Bond counties), which finds itself in the same boat as Cook county on restricted representation due to population shifts and the rapid growth of the Alton industrial area.

Declaring that he was elected on a platform pledge to follow the constitutional mandate that the legislature must redistrict the state every ten years, which has been ignored by the lawmakers for the last twenty years, Mr. Monroe, who is a newspaper editor and publisher, wrote as follows:

"As a matter of plain justice and a mandate from the state constitution, I took the position during my campaign that the state of Illinois ought to be reapportioned, and those of my constituents who paid any attention to what I said now expect me to work to that purpose.

Not Prejudiced Against Chicago.

"I am one of the downstate senators who hold no prejudice against Chicago, and who, in seeking the reapportionment, will not undertake to limit Chicago in any way in the matter of representation in the state legislature in ratio of population. Some of the members of the lower house in my district hold to the notion that Chicago cannot be trusted with a representation based on its population."

The Monroe letter appeared to be a source of gratification to local readers in the struggle for legislative and congressional redistricting. They interpreted it as indicating that industrial centers outside of the Chicago area where population growth has cut down the constitutional voice in government are beginning to come over to make common cause with Chicago for reapportionment on the basis of the 1930 census.

Industrial Areas Grow.

Downstate itself is as helter skelter and askew among its districts as is Cook county, which has 52 per cent of the population but only 37.2 per cent of the senatorial districts. Cook county has 19 of the 51 districts, and on present population is entitled to 26 districts.

Downstate the great growth has been in districts containing industrial centers such as Joliet, Alton, East St. Louis, Belleville, Waukegan, Rockford, Springfield, Peoria, Aurora, Elgin, Decatur, Rock Island. The present districts were based on the census of 1900. The population surge has been such that nine of the downstate districts have even less population than thirty years ago, while others are far above the constitutional ratio.

Show Other Discrepancies.

In southern Illinois alone in four districts a population of 594,241 has four senators and twelve representatives while in four other districts a population of 351,192 has four senators and twelve house members. Down in the toe of the state on the Ohio river, in two adjoining districts, the 50th and 51st, a resident of Metropolis or Goleonda has twice as much voice at Springfield as an inhabitant of Cairo or Mound City. A coal miner in Williamson county has only half as much representation at Springfield as a miner in adjoining Saline county.

The discrepancies among districts downstate is perhaps best seen by a comparison of the five most populated districts with the five smallest; the name of one town being given as a tag:

Dist.	1930 Pop.	Dist.	1930 Pop.
41—Joliet	196,250	24—Mattoon	74,048
50—Cairo	170,536	32—Monmouth	75,327
47—Alton	157,559	16—Pontiac	76,132
10—E. St. L.	157,388	46—Mt. Vernon	76,979
8—Waukegan	153,527	12—Freeport	78,712

In southern Illinois alone the askewness of representation under the present system is shown in the fact that three districts have a combined population of 485,483, while five districts have a combined population of 459,930.

KILLS HOLDUP MAN WITH BALL BAT.

David Green, 22 years old, colored, died yesterday in the Bridewell hospital of a skull fracture suffered when John Barnes, 906 Orleans street, also colored, struck him with a baseball bat in resisting an attempted holdup.

SCIENTIST DENIES REPORT HE PRODUCED LIFE ARTIFICIALLY

Cleveland, O., Dec. 8.—(AP)—Reports that Dr. George W. Crile, noted Cleveland surgeon and scientist, has produced artificially a living one-cell organism, were categorically denied by the doctor today.

Dr. Crile said that while experiments have been made, no definite result has been reached. "No statement has come from me or from the clinic on the work that is being done," he said. "Somebody gave out some information that is not at all authoritative."

It was reported that Dr. Crile, in his experiments, had mixed the dry powder gained by burning brain tissues of animals, with other elements, and a mass was obtained which somewhat resembled a living cell. "We have not reached a point where we can tell whether our experiment is a success or a failure," the doctor said.

"I can not tell how long it will take us to reach a definite answer in our experiment," the scientist said. "It is a search into the unknown and nobody can predict when such results will be reached."

ASK COURT TO SET CITY PRIMARIES FOR SAME DATE

Would Save Half Million in Election Costs.

BY PARKE BROWN.

In an effort to save the taxpayers of Chicago $550,000 the Citizens' association, represented by Attorney Urban A. Lavery, asked the Illinois Supreme court yesterday to set the next mayoralty primary for Feb. 24, the day of the first aldermanic election.

Unless the high court intervenes the mayoralty test will be run off on Feb. 17, one week before the aldermanic election, thus imposing upon the taxpayers the burden of two elections and two registrations in the place of one each.

Due to Primary Amendment.

This situation is due to a hastily enacted amendment of the general primary act adopted by the last general assembly in an effort to give the election authorities a better time schedule for their work. The date for the nomination of candidates for mayor, city clerk and city treasurer was advanced one week without regard to the fact that the date for the aldermanic election could not be changed.

The Citizens' association filed a motion for leave to file an original petition for mandamus in the high court to compel the election board to hold the mayoralty primary in conformity with the law before the 1929 amendment was passed or, in other words, on Feb. 24. The court granted the motion and announced it will hear oral arguments on Friday.

Do Not Expect Opposition.

Former Mayor Edward F. Dunne, recently appointed attorney for the election board, is not expected to oppose the change.

In his petition Attorney Lavery set up not only that the two elections would impose an unnecessary financial burden but also that they would cause the work of the election board and the precinct election judges and clerks to overlap in such a way as to make proper performance of their duties impossible. He said it would be "physically impossible" for the election officials to perform the conflicting duties thus imposed upon them.

Attorney Lavery also explained that since the registration day required for a mayoralty primary on Feb. 17 would fall on Jan. 20 there was considerable doubt whether an emergency act of the legislature, which does not convene until Jan. 7, could be put into effect in time to meet the full needs of the situation.

FRANCE OPENS QUIZ ON BLAST AT BOTTOM OF SEA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. NAZAIRE, France, Dec. 9.—While funeral services were held at Lorient for Divers Francheschi and Bartzelleni, the only bodies of fourteen victims recovered from the salvage ship Artiglio, which was blown up off Belle Isle Sunday, French naval authorities today opened an investigation of the mysterious blast.

It was revealed that the entire crew of the Artiglio knew the sunken Italian munitions ship Florence, which the salvage ship had contracted to remove from the channel, contained tons of T N T, and that they had every reason to believe the explosives were harmless from thirteen years' exposure to the water. Several samples were brought up last summer and analyzed by government chemists, who declared that it had lost all its explosive power.

OPEN 95TH ST. AS AN ARTERIAL AUTO HIGHWAY

Ninety-fifth street between Lake Michigan on the east and Kean avenue on the west was made available to automobile traffic as an arterial highway yesterday when a ribbon crossing the thoroughfare at Cottage Grove avenue was cut.

The ceremony marked the recent completion of paving a part of the street, which is the only major east and west highway between 79th and 147th streets. It is also the first street in Chicago to be improved from gasoline tax funds. City, county, and state officials attended the opening ceremony.

A TIMELY WARNING.

The President has made recommendations for extraordinary expenditures. Most Americans recognize that extraordinary circumstances usually require extraordinary measures. Therefore the public has accepted the certainty of increased taxation with philosophy. But that is a long way from approving the raids on the public funds which unscrupulous politics and unwise radicalism are planning, and the President will have the support of sensible opinion in his protest against them.

That the present situation would be seized upon as an excuse for radical experiments and wholesale government expenditures was certain. Unfortunately the radicalism of a very small minority of the American people has acquired an inordinate power in the senate. It is up to the good sense and conscience of the majority of the senate to defeat it. Petty considerations of party advantage should not be permitted to divide the defense of the public interest. Republicans and Democrats should join forces promptly and unhesitatingly to keep government expenditures strictly within proper bounds. Only constructive public works and expenditures justified by sound principles should be authorized. To this end the President should be given decisive support. Excessive and ill advised expenditure will not bring back prosperity or stabilize employment. It will prolong and intensify our ills and injure those foundations of prosperity upon which restoration is based and which insure its return in due time.

CALIFORNIA REJOINS THE UNION.

It is apparent that Chicago regards the Notre Dame football team as civic. It is an honor which has been absorbed within the city limits heretofore accorded in full to Mr. Insull's opera and to civic Shakespeare, in a modified fashion to Mr. Wrigley's players, who are expected to be more civic next summer, and tentatively to several theatrical enterprises. When Chicago is civic it is something. It may seem another illustration of the overemphasis of football to give Mr. Rockne a rating even above Roberto Moranzoni or Emil Cooper, but it is probably true that Mr. Rockne could make a splendid quarter back out of Mr. Moranzoni and would be glad to add any Moran to his squad if Mr. Insull could spare him.

South Bend is willing to share the team with Chicago. It is almost as much at home on Soldiers' field as in South Bend, and in two years of extensive travel and intensive playing it has proved itself at home on any field. The latest demonstration of Mr. Rockne's genius, from which the boys are returning in triumph, was of considerable national importance. It has restored California, particularly southern California, to the Union. Welcome back, Sister Aimee.

The Boulder dam affair may have seemed to justify California illurions of grandeur. Los Angeles is the only city which has been able to take the federal government for a water system and subdivision irrigation, and the state concluded that its football teams were as good as its United States senators. This illusion could feed on itself so long as the Pacific coast teams played each other. The senators had proved their ability in free competition, and if Hiram Johnson had been running the Southern California team Notre Dame might have been in luck to get back home with its silk pants.

Aimee Semple McPherson, the Rev. Bob Shuler, vestiges of Annie Besant, Point Loma, the accessible exhilarations of Tia Juana and recollections of the vigilantes, the gold rush and Bret Harte, all have been heady influences not only on retired Iowa farmers but on native sons and other open pored citizenry affected by the climate. California is one of the glorious sections of the country, rich in traditions, beautiful in scenery, natural and female, vigorous in energy, and noble in ideals. Other states with regret saw it isolating itself from the rest of the country, in a superiority which could be somewhat granted and yet be desirable as a national asset rather than a parochial achievement.

Football being the accepted test of culture and worth in the United States, it would have required only a victory over Notre Dame to have lost California to the Union. Thereafter an American would have been a foreigner in California, if not on the entire Pacific coast. The nation regains this wonderful region, chastened probably but intact undoubtedly. The midwest is glad to have brought about the bloodless preservation of the Union.

Several other teams in the midwest could have done it, but Notre Dame had the opportunity. Michigan would have made it more tantalizing by keeping just a shade ahead of Southern California, possibly a point after touchdown, and seeming all through the game to present its opponents with a scoring chance still elusive at the final pistol. Northwestern could have battered the Californians into subjection. They might not have liked it as well. What they saw was the smartest football the country has ever seen. The brilliance of Rockne's players comes from individual ability trained in the fundamentals of the game such as blocking and tackling and brought into a rhythm of team play which no other eleven has been able to acquire. This rhythm (as good a word as any other for the precise sweep of the whole field) is directed by a chess mind. Plays are not separate incidents. They are related to each other. They are intended to create certain situations, certain placements on the board, from which certain results must almost inevitably follow. Schwartz and Brill do not score on one play from midfield by chance. Carideo may have been working in a dozen plays to get the opposing linemen into the position which makes the Notre Dame blocking irresistible. Then it's "Boys, let's go home." The play clicks and it is touchdown. If the opposition is strong and also smart it may not happen often, but it is there to happen often enough.

This section of the country, regardless of what may be the result or the import of the game between two other great teams, Alabama and Washington State, at the Tournament of Roses, insists on giving Notre Dame the national title. Even the enthusiasts who saw what was actually the game of the century at Dyche stadium Nov. 22 may concede that Notre Dame is the equal of Northwestern. No other concession is needed.

WRETCHED BUS SERVICE.

Bus riders in increasing numbers are complaining about the kind of service which is being given them. There is no doubt that these complaints are justified. The buses are overcrowded, and to make matters worse many of them are so designed that standing in them for a man of average height is little short of torture. He cannot stand erect, and to stand at all he must bend his neck into a position which would be trying to a swan.

To make matters still worse, the bus company has closed the rear platform entrances to its two decker buses. The customer must fight his way into the coach, and, if he is willing to climb to the upper deck, he must fight his way through the crowd at the entrance. If he succeeds he must expect to fight his way back through the crowd when he wants to get out.

The company operates its buses by contract with the park boards under a certificate of convenience approved by the state commerce commission. The park boards have permitted the service to go from bad to worse without protest and without complaint, so far as we can determine. The park administrations, which frequently appeal to the voters for support of bond issues, seem to have overlooked this opportunity to earn the good will of thousands of voters.

If the park boards cannot improve matters of their own initiative, we can see no excuse for their failure to press the issue before the state commerce commission, which has authority to order improvements in service.

THE MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting this week of the Military Training Camps association brings to mind that Chicago is the national headquarters of a country-wide nonpolitical, civilian organization which has played an important part in the establishment and development of the citizens' military training camps. The war department has for ten years recognized the association as its primary civilian agency. Three successive secretaries of war have appointed from its membership civilian aids in all states and corps areas. More than three thousand county chairmen and committees of the association have made the citizens' camps known to young men in all parts of the country, with such success that each year applications have far outrun camp capacity.

This voluntary military training for thirty days in the summer has genuine public support. Organized labor indorses it and more than seven hundred corporations are giving special attendance privileges to the best of their young employés. The camps are a stabilizing influence in our economic and political life; they promote good health, good character, and good citizenship. Educational authorities recognize their value. School credits for camp attendance are authorized by many state and local boards of education; colleges and universities are giving C. M. T. C. scholarships with an annual value of one hundred thousand dollars.

In 1930 there were 65,825 applications for 37,500 places. It is to be regretted that nearly 30,000 young men desirous of qualifying themselves better to serve their country were denied the opportunity. The Military Training Camps association is asking the house and the senate to provide for training a larger number in the camps of next year, and in this patriotic endeavor deserves the support of all public spirited citizens.

TRADITIONS AND PROGRESS.

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch.]

True enough, the matter of examinations and grading will require attention in the establishments of the University of Chicago's timeless system of education, but the further President Hutchins and his fellow workers go into the experiment the clearer it will be that there are many other fixtures traditional in college life whose alteration is of graver consequence. Take, for instance, the class dances, a leading argument in favor of the four year system. The green freshman from Silo Springs has never been to anything but a barn dance until he escorts his first sorority pledge blind date to the freshman frolic, or "frantic," as it is more properly known on some campuses. Year by year, through the sophomore cotillion and the junior prom, the metamorphosis takes place, until on the night of the senior ball a finished product, consummate in a tuxedo, he steps on clouds in the grand march and glides about from star to star in an ethereal whirl of satins and shawls. A system which can work a wonder like that must not be discarded without serious thought.

Then there are the yearlings' green caps, the jackets which belong to graduation year and the other paraphernalia of class dress. Does President Hutchins think he can dismiss them with the wave of a hand? Also, he had better give some thought to what will become of senior benches, class fences and the like, or he will have chaos on his hands. If he abolishes freshmen, how does he suppose the Greek letter nameplate will get shined, the phone and doorbell answered, senior laundry bags carried to the campus postoffice, floors waxed, books returned to the library—or anything else done around a fraternity house? We submit President Hutchins doesn't know what shoals lie ahead of him.

DEBATE VENTILATION.

THE long drawn out battle between the ventilation engineers and the New York commission on ventilation continues unabated. The commission continues to report in effect that mechanical ventilation is a total loss so far as improving health is concerned. They supply proof of their contention. The engineers reply by picking holes in the proof.

A late report made in July of this year by Dr. Cole and six associates is based on a long study of absenteeism due to colds in a group of schools equipped with modern mechanical ventilating apparatus well operated, and in a comparison group of schools ventilated by windows and gravity ventilation only. An effort was made to take into account the racial characteristics of the children, their sex, their age, their economic status, and all other influencing factors. Among their conclusions are these:

1. There is no evidence that slight difference in the temperature of schoolrooms exerts an appreciable effect on the prevalence of acute respiratory diseases.

2. There is no evidence that cutting the air flow in fan ventilated rooms from 30 cubic feet per pupil per minute to one-half that rate adversely affected the health of the upils.

3. The illness absenteeism of school children falls steadily with increasing age. It is twice as high among pupils 5 to 9 years of age as it is among those 10 to 14 years old.

4. The sickness absentee rate caused by acute respiratory infections is higher among girls than among boys. At age 5 to 9 it is 10 per cent higher among girls. At age 10 to 14 it is 25 per cent higher.

5. Foreign born children have lower sickness absentee rates than have the native born. The all-native stock children have rates that are 65 per cent higher than those of all-foreign born, and 40 per cent higher than those of children of mixed racial groups.

6. The children in the old fashioned schools with furnace inlets and gravity exhausts have lower absentee rates caused by acute respiratory diseases than prevails among children attending schools with up to date ventilating systems.

7. Conclusions from these reports should be drawn with caution.

The next move is up to the ventilation engineers.

ALUMINUM AND CANCER.

Mrs. R. D. K. writes:

1. Is cancer caused by cooking food in aluminum utensils? A friend told me she never used aluminum for that reason.

2. Will drinking extremely hot liquids, such as tea, coffee, and soup, cause cancer?

3. I see by the papers that grapejuice has reducing qualities. Is that true?

4. In what form should it be taken, diluted or as is, to have any effect?

REPLY.

1. No.
2. It may be and probably is a contributing cause of some cases.
3. No. The people who take the grape cure lose weight if they keep away from other foods. Otherwise they gain. The grape cure, long used in Europe, is merely a method of fasting.
4. Diluted.

DOGS AND DISEASE.

Mrs. J. K. writes:

1. Is there any truth in the layman's belief that a dog carries the eggs of worms in its saliva, and can infest man with worms by licking him.

2. What is the physician's knowledge regarding the harm of young and old or of sick and well persons sleeping together? Which saps the vitality of the other?

REPLY.

1. There is.
2. Of this there is no proof. When people sleep together they are somewhat likely to catch each other's diseases. As a rule, sleeping is less comfortable and restful when two or more occupy the same bed.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

ALL PARTIES LIABLE.

Chicago, Nov. 28.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A furnished apartment lease is signed by three parties. 1. Is each of the three responsible only for one-third of the amount stipulated in the lease? 2. Is each one responsible for the entire amount? 3. If one party fails in payments is it up to the landlord to catch that party and collect or can he force the other two to pay the entire amount? B. V.

1. See No. 2.
2. Yes.
3. The latter.

TRUANT OFFICERS.

Chicago, Dec. 3. — [Friend of the People.]—Are men eligible for positions of truant officer? When is the next examination for this position to be held? G. E. J.

Examination for truant officer is open to both men and women. In requesting certification from an eligible list, however, the department head has the right to specify sex required.

We have placed the name of this inquirer on our mailing list for notification of the next examination called.

J. D. OSBORNE, Secretary,
Civil Service Commission.

CASUAL EMPLOYMENT.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—We are urged to find odd jobs around our homes in order to give work to the unemployed. If I employ one man, by the hour, to do some rough carpenter work in my attic what is my liability in case he breaks a leg while at work? I am not a contractor nor an employer of labor of any kind. W. H. W.

The compensation act does not apply to casual employments, hence you would not be liable on the facts stated, unless you were in some way to blame.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TEN HOUR LAW FOR WOMEN.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Can a firm with office hours from 8:30 to 4:30 keep the office force working from 10 to 12 hours a day? If there is any way to remedy such a situation please advise. C. R.

There is a ten hour law applicable to women in specified employments.

TUNING IN WHEN FOOTBALL'S GONE.

Hello, this is KQKQ broadcasting at Larnem university. Well, folks, since the schools gave football the bum's rush it's not so easy to tell you what's doin' around the campus. Football was a wow—plenty of action, big crowds yelling, cheer leaders all over the place, and bands whooping it up every few minutes. We got the habit of broadcasting from colleges in those days and we're still keeping it up, but since they don't do anything any more but study their lessons, go to classes, and play croquet and checkers there isn't much to get excited over. There's a croquet game going on right now. A senior is just about to try for the first two arches—there he goes—HE HITS THE BALL—HE HITS THE BALL—HE GOES THROUGH THE TWO WICKETS! Now he has two shots more and he's playing for the side wicket. WOW! He hits the wicket and bounces away out of bounds. Now he drives for position and gets a good place near his wicket. Now a co-ed is going in! She drives through both wickets! Folks, you ought to see that girl; she certainly slings a nasty mallet. Now she's aiming at the other ball. She's done it! She's done it! Now she's going to drive that other ball away down to the corner of the lot. You've got to watch this little girl, folks, she's sure a comer. Some day she's going to be the croquet queen of the middle west. Yessir, take it from me, she's good! Well, there goes the bell and they throw away their mallets and start for the classroom! There goes Prof. Prunes on the run. He's got a class in English history! No, wait a minute! Wait a minute! There's quite a fog over the campus today and I can't see very well! That was Prof. Hooey-Hooey on his way to his Greek class. What any one wants to learn Greek for I'll never tell you, folks, but there's a lot of boys and girls going in there with books and papers and everything. I suppose they'll learn to speak Greek, but what's the use? There's a Greek restaurant down the street where these college Johnnies and Janes go, but the Greek waiters all speak English—"whatta want, rosta bif, lamba stoo, appla pie er peacha pie?" That's good enough English for anybody; you know what they're talking about, so I can't see the use of teaching Greek in these colliges. Well, folks, I could turn the mike and let you heard them recite, but I don't think you would find it interesting. There come two noo stoodents in their car—fifty miles an hour. They're stopping at the dean's office and rushing in. Now they're rushin' out. The dean told them there was no more football and they'd have to play croquet. Here comes the dean. Gosh, folks, he's got a pair of shiners—you know what I mean—black eyes. There's a good checker game going down here on the steps, but I can't see who's playing, so there's no use trying to tell you about it. Well, folks, that's about all there is doing around the college today. Not much like the good old times when we had football games, but it's the best there is. We will now go back to the studio and listen to the Whiz Whang jazz band. Stand by for station announcement.

You did not. Now, I got a cousin that is way up in the Rotary, and another that is way up in the Kiwanis, and I got a uncle that is a big Kleagle in Missouri, and if there is going to be discrimination in the Academy—if Indians can cop off the fat jobs while native American girls are on the outside looking in—all I got to say is that certain persons ought to get put on a boat and shipped back to Russia. You hear me, now.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 10, 1914.

LONDON.—Information received in London indicates that the destruction of the German fleet in the South Atlantic, with the sinking of three cruisers, was preceded by the sinking of three German merchant vessels. A Buenos Aires message said that a division of warships believed to have been either British or Japanese, aggregating five ironclads and one transport, on the morning of Dec. 6 sank one of the Germans and the other two were sent to the bottom that evening. The admiralty stated that the German cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, and Leipzig were sunk in a battle with the British fleet under Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Sturdee off the Falkland islands.

BUENOS AIRES.—Three German merchantmen were sunk by the British or Japanese warships off the coast of Tierra del Fuego, the southernmost extremity of South America, on Dec. 6, the advices received here state.

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Ella Flagg Young was reelected superintendent of schools. The vote stood 15 for Mrs. Young, 5 votes passed, and one member of the board of education left the room. Clubwomen who attended the meeting to give their moral support to the Young faction wept and cheered when the result was announced. No candidate was nominated against Mrs. Young. John D. Shoop asked his backers not to nominate him and a perfectly good nominating speech prepared by Dr. Peter C. Clemensen went begging. Michael J. Collins was elected president of the board and Jacob M. Loeb vice president.

ATLANTA, Ga.—Leo M. Frank was sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 22 for the murder here in April, 1913, of Mary Phagan, a 14 year old factory girl.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 10, 1900.

CHICAGO. — Theatrical managers frustrated plans of Frank Hall, former owner of the Maze, and Attorney S. O. Cavette, its present owner, to enforce the state law against Sunday amusements and close the theaters. Hall and Cavette were acting in retaliation for the closing of the Maze and other resorts by the police, and obtained warrants for performers and employés in five theaters. To prevent service of the warrants by constables police were stationed at the doors of the theaters.

PHILADELPHIA.—Michael F. Lawlor, who died here recently, was one of the chief leaders of the notorious Mollie Maguires during the reign of terror in the anthracite coal region. He was finally expelled from the order and became a witness for the commonwealth in the trials at Pottsville, which resulted in the execution of a score or two of murderers and their accomplices.

DECEMBER 10, 1880.

NEW YORK.—The special committee having charge of the American subscription to the De Lesseps Panama canal project reported that it had received private advices from Paris that the subscription had proved a great success there, bids having been received for much more than the original amount of stock offered. It was unofficially stated that the subscriptions received by the local committee from residents of this country total in the neighborhood of $8,000,000.

NEW YORK.—Daniel O'Leary has accepted the challenge to walk against Frederick Krohne, the Prussian pedestrian who is backed by Luke Welsh, for $5,000.

LONDON.—As Irish matters look now, it is not improbable that Charles Stewart Parnell will soon find himself indicted in connection with the speech at Waterford, when he was tendered the freedom of that city, in which he denounced in unstinted terms the government and its methods in Ireland.

NEW YORK.—The convention of The National Baseball league made several changes in playing rules. By the changes the pitcher's position is moved five feet further from home base; the number of called balls is reduced to seven and the strikes to three—the warning of "good ball" being stricken out, and no substitute is allowed to take the place of a player after the beginning of a game, except for illness or injury.

FREE LODGINGS.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—I have just made a canvass of the cheap rooming houses in a district east of Ashland, north of Harrison, and south of Washington boulevard, and I found that these places are being vacated by roomers at the rate of two or three to each house every day.

I asked each and every housewife just why this condition was being so manifest all of a sudden. In each instance I was told that the roomers were taking advantage of the free board and room which is now available just for the sobbing. I asked each party whether or not the men who were leaving were employed at the time, and in almost every case I was given to understand that the roomers were working as teamsters, on railroads, as laborers, etc.

It makes some of us wonder whether all these breadliners really need what they want or even deserve what they need. M. E. DAVIS.

GIFT CERTIFICATES.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—May I most emphatically protest against Mr. Jacob Loeb's plan to interfere with the workers' privilege of receiving cash bonuses or gifts of money at this time? It seems to me that we workers are being enslaved by the moneyed dictators who have already prevailed upon us to deny ourselves even necessities in order to help those who are less fortunate. Riches do not give any the right to dictate what others should do with their belongings. H. S.

JUDGE OLSON FOR MAYOR.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—It seems funny that no one has suggested Mr. Harry Olson, our former chief justice of the Municipal court, for mayor. Mr. Olson has as much or more experience than any politician in Chicago.

IVAN O. ROSENQUIST.

A VOTE FOR ORR.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Mr. Carey Orr's election to the office of mayor would not only be a suitable appreciation for his work against prohibition and other evils but it would also give Chicago a first class mayor, which it has not had for a long time. DAVE KNOBB.

FOR CLARK.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—There is no man better qualified to occupy the mayor's chair than John S. Clark, alderman of the 30th ward and chairman of the important finance committee.

WILLIAM P. HERBERT.

SISTER AIMEE.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Can THE TRIBUNE not even let one day go by without taking a slam at Mrs. McPherson? It is truly disgusting to keep picking on one poor sick woman. I would not care so much if you ever even mentioned the tremendous good this great and wonderful woman is doing. Please have mercy and practice a little of that justice your paper is always boasting of.

[Mrs.] SUSAN BIRCH.

EXAMINATIONS FOR TEACHERS.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—I read about an examination for county school teachers to be held in December. Now there are about 1,000 substitutes idle now, girls who have been out of Normal about 3 years, rarely working a day a month. I am not opposed to the examination, but why not place our girls? Some of them need it very badly. M. M.

FROM A RECLAIMED FARM.

Montrose, Colo., Nov. 26.—I have just read a recent editorial of yours quoted with approval in the National Grange Monthly. Allow me, a settler for many years on a reclamation project, to echo the approval of the National Grange. You have the reclamation situation exactly right.

However, in the next to the last paragraph we read in regard to the return of the money: "Experience with other reclamation projects demonstrates that the cost is seldom repaid. The settlers simply repudiate their debts to the government."

"Repudiate" is an ugly word that we sometimes hear from officials. Perhaps it is meant for eastern consumption. It is something that the settler cannot do. Bureaus do not leave any loopholes for farmers to escape paying. Repayments mean to the officials more and bigger jobs. They are very good collectors. Shylock could take lessons from them. Thousands of farmers have met disaster and lost their fortunes on reclamation farms. But that is not repudiation. The farmer on a project is not the beneficiary of reclamation; he is the victim. On his shoulders fall all the charges; his land is mortgaged for the return of the project costs and that mortgage holds until the return of the last dollar. Projects are not built for farmers; don't think for a moment that they are.

If the Columbia basin project is built it will produce enough to cause distress on many of the other projects as well as in the middle west. Reclamation tends to force land into production that ought to be left in its virgin state for future generations to use.

GRACE V. SMITH.

BUY NOW.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—I am quite aware that this "Buy Now" publicity is a determined effort to obtain the money of the working class with the ultimate view of breaking us and then endeavoring to compel the worker to take a job upon the employer's terms.

Now if you will guarantee my salary, which is less than President Hoover's until the return of prosperity, I'll buy a new car, radio, overcoat, suit of clothes, a hat, cap, shoes, socks, underwear, handkerchiefs, and donate my bit to charity. Of course, you will not accept my offer and, consequently, your publicity of "Buy Now" is not accepted by me, considering the possibility of being unemployed immediately after the holiday buying is over, at which time I'll need all the money I save by not "buying now." E. J. HUTH.

IDEA FOR A CONTEST.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—I have been a reader of THE TRIBUNE for a number of years and have been especially interested in the various contests held in your paper. Although I have never won a prize, I keep trying. It seems to me, however, that too many of the contests are designed primarily for women and children, and just now and then one for everybody. If a suggestion would not be out of place I would propose an essay writing contest, the competitor to choose his own subject from a limited number of topics, such as Life, Death, Prohibition, for instance. And 500 words seems to be about the most attractive length for a contest. If longer than that the reader loses patience, while a shorter one is not a fair test for the contestant.

ASKS ACTION TO HARMONIZE ALL TRANSPORTATION

G. O. P. Aid Says Lamont May Call Meeting.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Administration action to harmonize the conflicting interests of the railroads, waterways, and other types of national transportation was forecast today by James Francis Burke, general counsel for the Republican national committee, in an address before the national rivers and harbors congress.

The Republican leader urged the 500 delegates attending the congress to aid in the formation of an American council of transportation which would be charged with the task of working out some sort of an agreement among the railroads, waterways, bus lines, and other transportation agencies which would allocate to each one its rightful place in the national transportation system. Such a council would be nongovernmental and composed of leaders in every department of freight and passenger traffic "from the ocean liner to the plane that speeds through the clouds from coast to coast."

Put Problem Up to Council.

It was learned such a council soon may be called by Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont. Once called, it is understood Mr. Lamont will simply outline the problem facing the transportation industry and leave the question of finding a solution entirely to the membership of the council.

"American transportation is today confronted with more perplexing problems than ever marked its history," Mr. Burke said. "Trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific, Panama canal, coastwise, inland waterway, railroad trunk line, trolley line, bus line, and air line transportation suddenly find themselves part of a great network confronted with constantly increasing prospects of conflicting interests which, if not studied and mastered, may prove of the most destructive character to those interests and to the detriment of the general public."

In urging solution of the transportation problem Mr. Burke pointed to the present conflict between the railroads and inland waterways over joint rates.

Given Cheaper Transportation"

The necessity of giving the central states cheaper transportation was stressed by Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley and Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of engineers. Secretary Hurley said that solution of the farm problem lay in the development of cheap waterway transportation from the interior of the country to the seaboard. He promised bigger river and harbor appropriations for the immediate future.

Maj. Gen. Brown visualized a great industrial expansion at Chicago.

"There seems to those," he said, "who like to look into the future with optimistic vision an industrial development along the canals projected by the Chicago sanitary district unsurpassed in America or elsewhere." A prediction that Detroit, Milwaukee, and other lake cities which have fought continuance of the water diversion at Chicago will soon be fighting for an adequate flow of Lake Michigan water through the Illinois link of the lakes to the gulf waterway was made by William R. Dawes, president of the Mississippi Valley association, in addressing the Illinois delegation at a luncheon today. Mr. Dawes said the business men of the lake cities would be quick to see the advantages of the route once it was opened.

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Four men were killed and three others were injured this afternoon when a scaffold on the tenth floor level of a building under construction in West Sixteenth street fell.

PASTOR ADOPTED LINDSEY WEDDING FOR DAUGHTER

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—With the Protestant Episcopal clergy hereabouts divided into two factions and a rift spreading throughout the church, the gospel of companionate marriage according to Ben Lindsey occupied the undivided attention of the high figures of the diocese today.

Lawyers, detectives, and process servers were searching for witnesses to the incident at the foot of the cathedral altar last Sunday, prominent members of the clergy were declaiming and many were praying that Lindsey's trial Friday afternoon in West Side court, to which Bishop William T. Manning has been summoned, would end the controversy.

The Rev. Eliot White, assistant rector of Grace church, one of the fashionable parishes of Manhattan, who recently matched his belief in the marriage theories of the former Denver judge against the stand of the bishop of New York, disclosed today that two months ago he had married his own daughter into companionate wedlock.

Manning Denies Comment.

Meanwhile Bishop Manning withheld comment, although he did disobey the orders of his physician and attend the rededication of St. Bartholomew's church, at which he spoke briefly. The bishop is suffering from a cold.

Discussing the companionate marriage of his daughter, Dr. White said.

"I am proud of them. My son-in-law is a fine, sensible chap, and he and my daughter are in perfect accord. They were married here in my church Oct. 18 last. The full Episcopal service was used. Companionate marriage is to my mind a legal marriage, performed in a church or elsewhere, according to the wishes of the parties involved. It includes the purpose of postponing the arrival of children until the economic condition of the couple makes possible the proper care of the children. It also includes a thoroughgoing reform of present helter-skelter bootleg divorce procedure."

"Was a Love Match."

The marriage of his daughter, Shirley, to Chester C. A. Zucker of the metal polish manufacturing family was a love match, the minister explained. Both now are in their early twenties.

"In addition to signing a pledge," said the Rev. Mr. White, "my daughter and her husband indicated at the time of their marriage that they were going to postpone for a time the having of a family. That, to my mind is the most important element in Mr. Lindsey's ideas of companionate marriage."

Mr. White explained that the couple's decision not to have children now is for financial reasons and that later his daughter hopes to rear a family of five.

Alludes to Own Case.

"Why, my own marriage in 1904," he said, "was in some respects companionate, although Mr. Lindsey had not so named it at that time. My wife and I were in accord, and my ideas are unchanged, although they have grown some since then."

The minister said he had not questioned the bridal pair on their ideas on divorce, but that for himself he believed in divorce.

"We just talked it over frankly with Dr. and Mrs. White," said the young man, "for we were serious. We are companionately wed so far as we understand companionate marriage. There is nothing of free love connected with it. We believe that if we postpone having children until we can ably care for them our happiness, the happiness of our children, and the happiness of the world will be promoted."

HOLD THREE YOUTHS AS ROBBERS.

Charged with robbery and automobile theft, James Dooley, 2418 Van Buren street; John Brassell, 1317 Van Buren street, and Melvin Nielson, 1725 Warren boulevard, all 19 years old, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $12,500 each yesterday.

BANK CLOSES IN BALTIMORE; CITY FUNDS TIED UP

$400,000 in Municipal Deposits Involved.

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The state bank commissioner late today took charge of the Chesapeake Bank of Baltimore. A typewritten notice on the door announced: "This institution is in the hands of the state bank commissioner." Two branches also closed.

The bank, established 19 years ago, was not a member of the federal reserve system or of the Baltimore clearing house. In its most recent statement, issued Sept. 2, it showed deposits subject to demand of $1,833,089.

George W. Page, bank commissioner, said he had been asked by the board of directors to take over the institution. "There has been something of a run and the bank was unable to pay," he said.

Included in the funds on deposit in the bank was a $400,000 account of the city government.

New Haven Bank Closed.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Citizens Bank and Trust company in this city was closed today. A notice on the door said the state bank commissioner had ordered that no deposits be paid out.

The bank was incorporated in 1921 with a capital of $140,000 and a surplus of $14,000.

The state manual for 1930 gives the undivided profits of the institution at $32,302, savings deposits of $742,068 and commercial deposits of $448,076.

The bank is the second in Connecticut to suspend operations within the last week.

Ohio Bank $100,000 Short.

Warren, O., Dec. 9. — (AP) — With Reese B. Jones, president of the First State bank of Newton Falls, held in the Trumbull county jail, federal bank examiners continued an audit of the bank's books tonight with the belief expressed that a shortage there may be in excess of $100,000. No charge has been filed against Jones. Directors of the bank said they were prepared to cover any shortage.

North Carolina Bank Closes.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Bank of Lilesville, Anson county, closed its doors today. John Mitchell, chief state bank examiner, was notified. The bank was capitalized at $25,000.

One in South Dakota.

Meckling, S. D., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Bank of Meckling here closed its doors this morning and a state bank examiner took charge. Officers said "frozen assets" was the cause. The bank had a capital of $25,000.

Bank Stockholders Sued.

Edwardsville, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Depositors of the Tri-City State bank of Madison have filed suit here for a special assessment of the bank's stockholders to assist in paying losses of the depositors. Fifty-six stockholders, owning the entire $50,000 capital stock of the bank, were named defendants.

He Can Eat Anything Now

Acidity, Heartburn Suffering Ended

Severe attacks of heartburn, pain from acidity no longer torture Frank Hall of Youngstown, Ohio who says "ACIDINE has helped me very much. I had been annoyed with acidity of the stomach and heartburn. These attacks, coming about one hour after eating, would sometimes be very severe. I find, as you advertise, that I can eat anything I wish, and eat heartily; then use ACIDINE and have no ill effect."

Almost everyone who takes ACIDINE raves about it. More than two million packages have been sold. It's absolutely amazing the way this new prescription succeeds when other known remedies fail.

ACIDINE is the only known remedy which contains Japtase, that in laboratory tests, digests 800 times its weight of certain heavy, starchy foods which cause trouble. It neutralizes burning acids, soothes irritated stomach linings stops gassy headaches, sleeplessness and nervousness. No other known remedy contains this combination to end acid stomach. ACIDINE also fortifies you against colds by reducing acidity.

Get ACIDINE today at Walgreen's. Watch how quick acid indigestion, burning stomach, belching, pain, heartburn, dizziness, fullness, short breath vanish. Eat, drink all you want. Maker refunds money if not delighted.

YOUR HAIR and WHY IT FALLS

Advance Publication of Chapter 1 From Wellington's Book on the Hair

If you should put a leather band around a child's head and tighten it up a bit, and then make him wear it two or three hours every day for the rest of his life, WOULD YOU WONDER what caused his hair to fall? Or why he finally became bald? That is exactly what you have been doing to your own hair. Your leather hat band obstructs the flow of blood. Sunlight and air are shut out also. Moist exudations are confined near the roots, making a perfect "culture" for destructive germs.

Robbed of a proper blood supply and attacked by microscopic bacteria the roots of your hair dry up. The tiny muscles which grip and hold the hair relax, the hair "falls." Another hair with new root grows in the same place, in the same starved, germ-ridden scalp. Smaller in diameter, lighter in color, shorter in length. It falls earlier. This is repeated until the root making cells are too weak to function. The hair fails to appear. You are becoming bald.

Falling Hair Means Baldness and the Above Fundamental Cause of Baldness Has Been Disregarded

Humanity, always eager for a quick, easy cure, has been trying for many years to get hair health out of a bottle. A half century of "tonic" advertising has led people to believe that years of mistreatment of the scalp and hair could be quickly remedied at trifling cost of time or money.

The very nature of the hair itself leads to this thoughtless attitude.

Starved, decaying, dying hair roots give no pain, and years are allowed to pass while the quiet destruction continues, without proper treatment to prevent it. Decaying teeth, which ache and pain, demand immediate attention, and are saved. After years of neglect the individual takes alarm at the increasing hair fall and vainly tries to remedy the abuse of years by putting drugs he knows nothing about on a scalp condition he does not understand. If that were the remedy there would not be tens of thousands of bald heads.

It Should Be Understood

That restoration of the scalp to a healthy hair growing condition requires patient, skillful scientific treatment for bringing back an abundant blood supply to the starved root making cells—and the mildest yet most effective means of doing away with the microscopic germ organisms which have multiplied as a result of years of insufficient circulation.

Wellington's Scientific Scalp Treatment

VIBRATORY and HAND MASSAGE fill the blood vessels with rushing blood. Starved, dormant cells feel the touch of increased circulation. Microscopic germ organisms are cleansed from the entire scalp (not burned upon it by alcoholic "tonics") by a truly wonderful OINTMENT applied directly to the scalp (not the hair) and warmed into its diseased surface by rays from the INFRA RED LAMP. The gentle, pleasureable application of the HIGH FREQUENCY CURRENT electrifies and tones the gripping muscles and tissues. Buoyant, positive health is restored to the entire scalp and it resumes its function of growing hair. The success of this treatment is so sure that we give a thorough

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

PLAN PARLEY TO DRAFT TERMS FOR FREEING BURMA

New Conference to Draw Up Constitution.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The principle of separation of Burma from India was agreed on unanimously by the Burma committee of the India conference which finished its work today. The committee sent a report to the main conference recommending that a special conference be called in London after the present round table discussions, in which all the Burmese parties and interests be represented, to frame a new constitution for Burma.

That constitution, the committee advised, should make the fullest provision for the protection of minorities in Burma, for a fair financial adjustment between Burma and India, for the transfer of the administration of subjects not classed as central to the new Burmese legislature, and for the continuance of certain common scientific services now run by the government of India.

Debate Type of Government.

The committee refrained from indicating the nature of the new Burmese government. There are two schools of thought, the strongest of which advocates immediate dominion status, with perhaps some temporary reservations, while the other thinks that a crown colony government would be safer for some years to come.

The federal structure subcommittee of the round table conference also made important progress today. The princes of India withdrew their demand for a unicameral federal legislature and agreed to accept a two chamber government, in both chambers of which they would be represented, not by personally appointed delegates, but by members chosen by the state governments.

The princes also insisted that the preservation of law and order be entrusted to the states and not to the federal government. This is due to the great variation of the civilizations of the states. A penal code suitable for one state might be quite inadequate for another.

Regarding defense, the princes preferred retention of this by the crown, but it intrusted to the federal government they claimed an equal voice in its administration with British India.

British Officer Murdered.

(Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.)

LAHORE, Dec. 9.—Capt. P. L. W. McClenaghan, a young officer in the Eighth Punjab regiment, and an Indian sergeant were murdered at the Lahore cantonment today by an Indian lance corporal, who afterwards committed suicide.

The company was on parade when the lance corporal, without any warning, turned upon the sergeant and shot him dead with his rifle. Almost before the troops realized what had happened he ran across and shot McClanaghan in the back, killing him instantly.

GIBSON INSISTS DISARM TREATY DRAFT IS 'WEAK'

"Falls Short of U. S. Hopes," He Says.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The preparatory disarmament commission finished its work tonight and adjourned sine die, leaving as a legacy the outline of a general disarmament treaty the value of which history only can assess.

This outline, or draft convention, is to form the basis for the deliberations of a world disarmament conference which will probably be called to meet early in 1932.

Before its final adjournment the commission took solemn inventory of its extensive labors and acknowledged that their results were imperfect. The draft convention, however, the majority agreed, while providing little more than the stabilization of present armaments as an immediate prospect, holds great possibilities for reduction if only governments will be of a mind to reduce.

Gibson Strikes Vigorous Note.

In a series of valedictory declarations, among which that of Hugh S. Gibson, the American delegate, struck a vigorous note, the commission summoned public opinion to tireless activity in pushing governments of the world along the road of disarmament.

So far as is known at Geneva the Franco-Italian naval controversy has not undergone any modification during the five weeks' delibertions here.

Mr. Gibson summarized the American estimate of the commission's achievements in his closing statement. He called attention to the "anxieties and worries that have arisen from the special preoccupation felt by numerous governments for their national security." By this expression, observers said, the American government for the first time acknowledged the existence of the problem of security which forms the basis of French policies and is supported by a strong group of France's allies.

Short of American Hopes.

The draft convention, Mr. Gibson told his colleagues from thirty states, "falls far short of our hopes and expectations." He spoke of the failure to incorporate in the draft convention the various methods which Americans regarded as essntial to real disarmament.

By this he was understood to refer chiefly to the absence of provisions for limiting trained reserves and for the direct limitation of land materials. He consoled himself, however, with the belief, he said, that the scheme adopted would permit at least the stabilization of armaments, the setting up of machinery to receive and spread information on armaments, and "to prepare systematically for the work of future conferences."

He indicated he hoped, therefore, that the commission's work might form the foundation for a future edifice of disarmament. He warned the delegates against indulging in mutual congratulations and suggested that frank recognition of the shortcomings of the present draft and the responsibilities upon governments would be more fruitful.

The declaration of Lord Cecil of Chelwood, chief of the British delegation, was equally frank as to the weaknesses of the commission's work.

BRITTEN PUSHES HEARING ON NEW NAVAL PROGRAM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Comparative figures illustrating why the United States must add new warships to the American fleet at once if it is to attain anything like tonnage parity with Great Britain before the London treaty expires in 1936, will be presented to the house naval affairs committee tomorrow. The hearings, which will center on the merits of the navy's new 134 million dollar naval construction program, will be pushed to completion within the next two or three days so that passage of the measure can be expedited, Chairman Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.] said today.

The fighting characteristics which are to be built into the new cruisers, submarines and aircraft carriers will be outlined before the committee by members of the navy general board, navy bureau chiefs and Admiral Williams.

It was learned today that the United States probably will revise its plans for construction of a 7,000 ton six inch gun cruiser and build a vessel of considerably greater weight and offensive power. Receipt of information from Tokio disclosing that the Japanese are preparing to lay down four 6 inch gun cruisers of 8,500 tons displacement each has strengthened the hand of American admirals who wish to build 6 inch gun cruisers approaching 10,000 tons in displacement.

Controversy has developed in the navy over the fighting characteristics to be built into the new 6 inch gun flying deck cruisers included in the authorization program.

Studebaker Leadership Today

The outstanding achievements of the industry during the past five years

Studebaker was the first manufacturer in the World to offer the motoring public, as accomplished facts, the following fundamentally sound and progressive developments in automobiles, namely:

Free Wheeling, with positive gear control, was presented on July 10, 1930, in the Studebaker President and Commander models. Several previous free wheeling efforts in Europe failed of general approval because the conventional type of transmission was not instantly available. Studebaker has the honor of being the first manufacturer in the world to introduce the present successful free wheeling mechanism, which permits instant interchangeability between free wheeling and conventional gear transmission.

Two Studebaker Commander Roadsters made a test run of 25,000 miles at the Atlantic City Speedway in October 1927. They completed the distance in 22,968 minutes elapsed time, at an average speed of over 65 miles per hour and thereby established new world's records for endurance and speed which remain unequalled and unchallenged to this day, except by the Studebaker President Straight Eights as mentioned below.

30,000 mile speed record

Believing that the new Studebaker President Eight could beat the Commander records, four of them were started on the Atlantic City Speedway on July 21, 1928, at 9:39 A. M. on a run of 30,000 miles instead of 25,000. Two roadsters finished the 30,000 miles on August 8th, at an average speed of 68.37 and 68.36 m.p.h. respectively. Two sedans finished on August 9th, at an average speed of 64.15 and 63.99 m.p.h. respectively. Therefore, for nineteen days and eighteen nights all four cars travelled 30,000 miles at faster than a mile a minute, counting stops for all purposes. The Contest Board of the American Automobile Association had charge of the records and timing of these marvelous performances. They prove the superior design and durability of these cars.

RUSSIA ACCLAIMS "MERCY" SHOWN IN TREASON TRIAL

London and Paris Call It "Put Up Job."

MOSCOW, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Russian public, which only a few days ago howled for the death of the eight engineers convicted of treason, today apparently approved the action of the central executive committee in commuting sentences of those doomed to die to ten years' imprisonment.

Isvestia, organ of the central executive committee, declared:

"By confessing and repenting, leaders of the Industrial party disarmed their organization, which is crushed fully and completely. Therefore the central executive committee has found it possible to commute the death sentences to imprisonment.

"Such sentences by the supreme workers and peasants' government once more shows the economic and political power of the soviet union. Such sentences would not be possible in a capitalistic country."

Ridicules "Frameup" Charges.

Isvestia, commenting upon attempts of foreign "bourgeois" newspapers to picture the recent trial as an artful frameup of the secret police, declares that these attempts failed completely and "the denials of Poincare and Churchill only show that they lost their wits when faced with the crushing facts and proves that they have been caught with the goods."

The speedy action of the central executive committee came somewhat as a surprise to many people, since decisions on pleas of clemency usually require several days' deliberation after sentence.

"No Middle Row."

Newspapers see numerous "lessons" in the trial, such as the danger of foreign invasion and the necessity for continuance, as Isvestia says, "of battles against political neutrality among the intelligentsia."

Isvestia declares that there can be no middle class in the future for the intelligentsia of Russia.

"They must either adopt the ideal position of the proletariat and be loyal to the cause of socialism or become counter revolutionists and play the rôle of servants of foreign imperialism."

London Calls It "Put Up Job."

LONDON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Daily Express, commenting today on the commutation of sentences imposed by Moscow on eight men charged with plotting against the soviet government, characterizes the trial as a "put up job."

In an editorial, headed "The Ogpu Farce," the newspaper said: "Thus ends the biggest burlesque of justice which has been staged in our time. Its confessions and its broadcasting paraphernalia have been what is colloquially known as a put up job."

"Too Beautiful for Words."

PARIS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The French press, which has been inclined to take the proceedings of the Moscow treason trial with a grain of salt since it first began, today accepted commutation of the five death sentences to terms in prison as confirmation of its doubts.

Œuvre, organ of the Radical Socialist party, commented that it was all too beautiful for words.

"As it was easy to see," the paper said, "the tragedy ends in comedy. The whole trial is an elaborately prepared piece of trickery."

Seek Real Cause of Mystery Deaths.

BY ANN SOMERS HOUSE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, Dec. 9.—An artificial fog will be prgduced in Brussels and Liege shortly and will be shot through with various industrial plant gases in an effort to discover the cause of the 67 mysterious "fog deaths" in the Meuse valley last week.

Lungs, brains and blood were taken today from the bodies of two fog victims for chemical analysis.

Plan Five Weeks of Tests.

Queen Elizabeth has privately appointed a commission of physicians to make an investigation. The commission plans five weeks of experiments, eliminating one toxic gas after another in an effort to discover if factories in the district were responsible.

Prof. Nolf, the queen's court physician, declared this morning to Premier Jaspar that "fog cannot kill." Dr. Felix Bertyn of the royal weather bureau here said that "it was the industrial residue, especially smoke and coal particles in it, and the strong, solid contents of the fog which probably caused breathing disorders and lung hemorrhages."

3 Killed in London Fog.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—The worst fog in several winters descended on London this morning and the old fashioned pea soup gloom literally obliterated the city. The old test of whether your hands were visible in front of your face proved that it was a real fog. Traffic was disorganized, trains were delayed, and thousands of office workers were late to work.

This visitation sent most city bound persons scuttling for the subways and the overburdened trains were loaded to capacity. Three deaths occurred from street crashes. Trains from the south coast were an hour late.

Blames Sand from Sahara.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—North Germany was covered today with a fog, which paralyzed air service and disrupted train and other services.

Dr. Lammert, chief of the Muenster meteorological station, declared today that in his opinion the fog deaths in Belgium were due to the impregnation of fog with sand swirled up and transported from the Sahara desert.

CAPT. WALLACE, OF GREAT LAKES STEAMERS, DEAD

Capt. Wallace began his career on the great lakes at the age of 12, when he left the home of his parents in Cleveland to become a cabin boy on a freighter, and subsequently spent most of his life afloat. He is survived by his widow and two children, Mrs. Gertrude W. Webster and Kenneth Wallace, and two sisters.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Friday at the funeral chapel at 2118 Lawrence avenue, and interment will be in Memorial Park cemetery.

UNVEIL STATUE OF HENRY CLAY IN VENEZUELA

Memorial Is Token of U. S. Friendship.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Dec. 9.—Representatives of the United States government today formally presented to Venezuela a statue of Henry Clay, American statesman, as a token of friendship for the South American republic.

In the center of a wide plaza bordered by great trees, the statue, given in return for a statue of Gen. Simon Bolivar, hero of South American independence, was dedicated by James Rockwell Sheffield, former United States ambassador to Mexico. The Bolivar statue was unveiled in New York in 1921.

Pays Tribute to Venezuela.

In his dedicatory address tributes were paid by Mr. Sheffield to President Perez, Minister of War Gomez, and Gen. Bolivar.

"Clay's unquenchable spirit still lives," he said, "in the policy of our department of state toward our neighbors and friends in the republics of South America.

"In speaking to the people of Venezuela, I am trying to interpret to all the republics of South America the friendly attitude of my country and its faith in the complete triumph of free institutions and governments in the western world.

"We aspire to no leadership in your affairs. We only wish to help you in attaining the highest development of your national consciousness and sovereign rights."

Inscription on Statue.

"Henry Clay, 1777-1852, apostle of fraternity between the countries of America and valiant defender of their independence. The United States of America presents to the United States of Venezuela this statue of its illustrious statesman, speaker of the house of representatives, senator, and secretary of state."

BART KENNEDY, 'TRAMP AUTHOR,' DEAD IN LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Bart Kennedy, the "tramp novelist" who fought Indians in the American southwest and gold-rushed in Alaska, meanwhile writing twenty books, is dead at the age of 69. He died Saturday, but his death did not become publicly known until today. He had been in ill health for some time.

Reared in Manchester and a worker in a cotton mill at the age of 6, Kennedy shipped before the mast while a youth, turning up in America. He tramped about in the southwest, and years before the gold rush of 1898 had gold-mined in the Klondike.

Tiring of the outdoors, Kennedy turned his attention to other pursuits and became an opera singer and actor. Among his books were "A Tramp's Philosophy," "Darab's Wine Cup," "A Man Adrift," and "The Hunger Line." His recreation, as he cheerfully gave it, was "doing nothing."

JAMES COWAN, ART COLLECTOR, TAKEN BY DEATH

James M. Cowan, 72 years old, general agent for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance company for the Chicago district, died yesterday of apoplexy at his home in Downers Grove. He was an authority on modern American art and a director of the Art institute here. His home in Downers Grove was the gallery for more than 300 oil and water color paintings valued at a half million dollars. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon from the home.

Blass, U. S. Born Opera Singer, Dies in Germany

BERLIN, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The death was announced today of Robert Blass, an American born opera singer, who for a long time was with the Metropolitan Opera company in New York and later sang with the Charlottenburg group. Blass, also known as Lloyd D'Aubigny and Tom Dabney, began his operatic career in Germany.

HOLD MEMORIAL SERVICES HERE FOR DR. BARTON

Memorial services for Dr. William E. Barton, who died in New York on Sunday, were held in the First Congregational church of Oak Park yesterday afternoon while funeral services were being held in New York. Dr. Barton was pastor of the church for 25 years and was an authority on Lincoln.

Dr. Albert Buckner Coe, pastor, conducted the services, and an address was given by Dr. George T. McCollum of Oak Park, classmate and lifelong friend of Dr. Barton.

The services in New York were held at the Broadway Tabernacle. The Rev. Dr. Allen Chalmers, pastor of the Tabernacle, officiated.

A telegram from President Hoover to the family said: "I am profoundly grieved to learn of the death of your father. . . . The nation will long cherish the memory of his outstanding contributions to literature and religion."

SONSTEBY TELLS OLSON: RETURN MISSING FILES

New Chief Justice Says Records Are Gone.

John J. Sonsteby, chief justice of the Municipal courts since Dec. 1, yesterday wrote a letter to Harry Olson, who was chief justice since the Municipal courts were created twenty-four years ago until last Dec. 1.

"Please return at once," the letter read, "all the files and records of the Municipal court of Chicago which were removed under your orders before my induction into the office of chief justice."

The letter was registered, and a receipt was requested.

Says Records Are Gone.

"All I am asking for are the papers necessary for an efficient conduct of the business of this office," said Judge Sonsteby. "I have been unable to find any records of the chief justice's office for the last twenty-four years. All I have found is empty files and empty cabinets."

The judge was seated at a table in what was Judge Olson's outer office. There were filing cases and cabinets standing against three walls. They were all empty. Most of the labels had been removed. A few that remained read, "Municipal court vouchers," "Current," "Newspaper clippings," "Briefs."

Judge Sonsteby said the files pertain to the administrative duties of the chief justice, auditors' reports, psychopathic laboratory reports, interoffice communications, and the like. The court files, the papers of record in the lawsuits, are kept in the clerk's office.

"I have tried without success since taking office to get in communication with Judge Olson," said Judge Sonsteby. A telephone call to Judge Olson's residence last night brought the information that he was en route home from New York.

Finds Funds Are Low.

Joseph L. Gill, the clerk of Municipal court who was inducted on Dec. 1 to succeed James Kearns, said he found that in his office there were not only empty filing cabinets, but also that the 1930 budget was nearing exhaustion. The empty cabinets, he said, were not for court records, but apparently for administration records.

"We have 157 employes," said Mr. Gill, "but only enough money to cover 9 clerks on the December pay roll. However, I expect the council to appropriate $18,000 to carry us through the year.

"The council received $74,612 from Mr. Kearns on Dec. 1. It was the accumulated compound interest on bank deposits of the clerk's office covering the twelve years that Mr. Kearns was in office."

This interest on deposits of the Municipal court clerk's office belongs to the city's general fund and must be appropriated by the council for expenditure, it was said at the city controller's office.

STRIKE AND RIOTS GRIP VALENCIA; UNION HEAD SLAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VALENCIA, Spain, Dec. 9. — This city's port lies silent and deserted tonight, and under the guns of hundreds of civil guards after a day in which street cars were derailed, automobiles overturned, lamp posts smashed, and windows broken during a 48 hour strike. One striker was killed and several civil guards wounded.

The trouble began at dawn when a group of striking workers fired on civil guards who were attempting to disperse them. The guards returned the fire and the national secretary of the iron workers syndicate was killed. Storekeepers drew iron blinds over their shops, and traffic halted. Workers everywhere left their jobs. The police were forced to fire into the crowd several times to disperse groups of disturbers.

O'BRIEN TO PLEAD IGNORANCE IN U. S. TAX TRIAL TODAY

Says He Considered Legislator Exempt.

State Representative Lawrence O'Brien will take the witness stand before Federal Judge Lindley this morning to tell how he believed his legislative position exempted him from payment of income tax. He is being tried for willful attempt to defeat and evade payment of the tax in 1926, 1927, and 1928, during which time, it is charged, he did not even file a return.

At the conclusion of testimony yesterday First Assistant United States Attorney Cassius Poust had virtually completed his case after witnesses had identified checks totaling almost $500,000 which were issued to O'Brien for teaming and trucking work he performed for the sanitary district, the city and the Lincoln park commissioners. His concern, the Red Line Teaming company, received its heaviest returns from the canal district when it was under the régime of Timothy Crowe.

Tells of Interview.

The last witness of the day, George L. Machin of the special intelligence unit, bureau of internal revenue, the branch which investigates all income tax cases, testified that he had an interview with O'Brien on Jan. 24, this year, in which the representative admitted he had not filed a return.

"O'Brien told me," Machin testified, "that he had believed himself exempt from payment of tax until the sanitary district investigation early in 1929. [A number of legislators were disclosed then as pay rollers.] He went to Florida shortly after that, he said, and when he got back he found a return blank waiting for him. He said to me, 'I didn't know one thing from another then, so I just let it go.'"

Machin then gave a computation of tax owed on O'Brien's alleged income, which aggregated $81,894 for the three years.

On cross-examination, Defense Counsel James A. O'Callaghan asked why the government had not made any claim for tax from O'Brien and why no deficiency tax assessment was served on the defendant. This drew a sharp rebuke from Judge Lindley.

"This witness," said the court, indicating the agent, "is not on trial. It is the duty of the defendant to pay the tax whether it is assessed or not. It is not for the government to make the demand."

The other witnesses were officials and former officers of the Cosmopolitan State bank, where O'Brien's funds were deposited, and clerks and cashiers from the public taxing bodies whence came the majority of his receipts. These witnesses included A. F. Madlener Jr., who married Harriet Lowden, daughter of former Gov. Frank O. Lowden. Mr. Madlener was an assistant vice president of the Cosmopolitan bank from 1923 to 1930, and handled some of the stock O'Brien bought with his funds.

ORDER ETTELSON TO DRAFT GAS TAX CHANGES

Corporation Counsel Ettelson was directed yesterday by the council judiciary committee to draft amendments to the state gasoline tax law cutting the tax from three cents to one and one-half cents a gallon. The action was taken on the resolution of Ald. John Toman [23d], which was approved at the last council meeting and sent to the committee for further consideration.

Under the Toman resolution the lower tax would be divided equally between the state, the counties, and the cities, each getting as revenue one-half cent on every gallon of gasoline.

The funds set aside for the counties and the cities would be divided proportionately among the individual counties and cities on the basis of the number of vehicle licenses registered in each.

"The original purpose of the tax was to carry out the program of paying the highways known as the state bond issue roads," said Ald. Toman. "This project is nearly complete and there is no necessity now of continuing the three cent tax. Under the proposed plan of dividing the money Chicago will get a fair share."

NEW YORK JUDGE QUITS UNDER FIRE IN RACKET QUIZ

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Magistrate Francis X. McQuade, belligerent figure of the baseball world and judiciary, today resigned from the bench to avoid facing charges before the Appellate division. The resignation was accepted by Mayor James J. Walker.

Announcement of the magistrate's resignation was made by Samuel Seabury, referee in the "magistrates' racket" inquiry.

"The evidence which has already been accumulated in regard to City Magistrate McQuade," the referee, Seabury, said, "while it does not show corruption in office, it does show personal conduct and business and other activities which demonstrate his unfitness to continue to serve as a city magistrate.

"The magistrate has been advised of this evidence. The most that could be accomplished by the presentation of the evidence in his case is that if it were presented to the Appellate division, that court, in my judgment, would remove him from office.

"His resignation this morning, when he was to be placed upon the witness stand to be interrogated as to his conduct, obviates the necessity for a trial and avoids delay. This enables us to take up other pressing matters."

For years McQuade served as treasurer of the New York Giants baseball club, and many legal authorities contended this was a violation of the law.

With the McQuade case eliminated, the inquisition turned back to the charges of graft and framing of innocent women leveled against members of the police vice squad.

While Lieut. Peter J. Pfeiffer of the vice squad was being grilled about bank deposits greatly in excess of his salary, Police Commissioner Mulrooney suspended four more members of the vice squad against whom charges have been made by Chile Acuna, stool pigeon. That brought the number of policeman ordered to trial up to 18.

5 GARY YOUTHS INDICTED FOR "DEATH OF GIRL

An indictment charging first degree murder was returned yesterday by a Lake county grand jury against five young men of Gary, accused of killing 18 year old Arlene Draves, Gary high school graduate, in the course of a gang rape during a drinking party on Nov. 30 at a Gary home.

The defendants, who confessed the attack to Gary police, have since pleaded not guilty and are being held without bail in the county jail at Crown Point. They are: Virgil Kirkland, Leon Stanford, David Thompson, Paul Barton and Henry Shirk. The county prosecutor, Oliver Starr, and his special deputy, John Underwood, have pledged themselves to demand the death penalty against all five.

EXTRADITE BIGAMY SUSPECT.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Extradition of Harry W. Reynolds from Toledo, Ill., to Milford, N. H., was asked in warrants presented to Gov. Louis L. Emmerson today. Reynolds is charged with bigamy.

THOMAS A. CLARK, DEAN AT U. OF I., ILL IN HOSPITAL

Thomas Arkle Clark, dean of men at the University of Illinois, is a patient at the Presbyterian hospital suffering from a serious intestinal ailment, it was learned yesterday. His condition, it was said, is not immediately critical.

The dean was taken to the hospital on Nov. 25 and underwent a major operation about a week ago. Because of the nature of his illness another operation may be necessary, it is said. Dean Clark is under the care of Dr. Edwin M. Miller, a member of the hospital staff.

Dean Clark is 68 years old and was appointed to his present office in 1909, becoming the first official dean of men of an American university. He is well known for his writings, but more especially for his supervision over many thousands of students.

Motoring Protection in Zero Weather

Cold motors will delay thousands of motorists this winter. In the morning, after business hours, and after the theatres, thousands of car owners will be seriously inconvenienced.

You can feel perfect security, however, when you protect yourself by means of membership in the Chicago Motor Club.

Call for service at any hour of the day or night. In Cook county you are served by club mechanics. In sixty-one other counties in the territory of the club in northern Indiana and Illinois, you are served by official service stations. You may call the club if for any reason you cannot operate your car, for example: If you are out of gas, if your battery is dead, if your starter is stuck, or if your car is disabled and must be towed. 86% of the trouble cases are remedied by mechanics on the spot; the remainder are tow jobs. Some of the other services are:

Insurance service, which provides the following features: The valued form policy, which in the event of total loss, pays the face value of the policy. Accessories are covered without additional charge. Last year the "exchange" returned cash savings to subscribers amounting to $711,332.11. Automobile insurance sales amounted to $3,894,706.04. Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed; accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering schoolboy patrols; travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions; and bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of one hundred dollars is demanded.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Detroit Falcons tonight defeated the league leading Chicago Blackhawks, 1 to 0, in a rough National Hockey league game here. The lone score came within three minutes of the close of the battle. It was the second defeat of the season for the Hawks.

The Falcons were left without the services of Reg Noble, their defense star, who was injured seriously when a skate pierced his side during the first period. They came back to battle the flashing Hawks every inch of the way, staving off repeated Chicago assaults, chiefly because of the work of Clarence Dolson, Falcon goalie. In the last period they drove in to score while the Hawks had two men serving time in the penalty box.

McInenly Starts Score.

Burt McInenly, Detroit wingman, made the play that gave the Falcons the game. With Bostrum and Graham serving penalties, Cook carried the puck into Detroit ice and fell behind the Falcon net. McInenly drove through to gain the puck, and four of his playmates swung down the ice, with only Wentworth and Abel before them. McInenly eluded the defense and passed to Ebbie Goodfellow, who beat Gardiner cleanly to score. The Hawks staged a wild five man assault in the last minutes, but the Falcons were strictly on the defense.

Injuries were numerous and bumps were traded with abandon throughout the game. Seventeen penalties were called, Bostrum, Hawk defense man, taking four.

The Hawks sprang a surprise at the start of the game by sending out their second line, both defense and forward. From the start it looked like a wild evening for the fans, with the Hawks flashing into threaten Dolson on every occasion.

Noble Gets First Penalty.

Noble got the first penalty for handling the puck, and Dick Irwin sent in the first string, but the Falcons saved them off until Noble came out. Lewis followed Noble into the box and the Falcons again were on strict defense, but they held. Aurie got through for a pretty shot but Gardner met it squarely. Bostrum took a trip for handling the puck, and in quick succession Lewis and Aurie followed on the same charge, both protesting.

With Noble definitely out of the line-up, the Falcons sent Evans in his place at the start of the second period and Detroit made a desperate effort to score, swinging into Hawk territory several times to threaten.

Hawks Use Four Wing Men.

With three minutes to go the officials came in for prolonged booing, and the game had to be halted to clear the ice of programs when Frederickson and Bostrum were sent to the box after a mixup in front of the Hawk net and McInenly followed on a charge of carrying a high stick.

The Hawks loosed another surprise at the start of the third period, when, with Evans of the Falcons still in the penalty box, they sent in four wing men. Cook shot a hard one through McInenly's legs and Dolson made a spectacular save.

McInenly was knocked unconscious when he collided with Bostrum, and had to go to the bench. Cook got away all alone through the Falcon defense and had only Dolson to beat, but the Falcon goalie outguessed him and saved.

Goodfellow Makes Goal.

Bostrum went out on a tripping charge, and Graham followed, leaving the Hawks shy two men, with five minutes to play. Then Cook made a dive into Falcon ice and McInenly took the rubber away from him. With Cook out of the play and only two defense men facing them, the whole Falcon line swung down the ice, McInenly passing to Goolfellow just in front of the net and Gardiner was cleanly beaten for the first goal of the hard fought game.

Shamrock Ice Team Defeats Hornets, 3 to 2

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Shamrocks had to do a sight of third period skating, bumping, and shooting to conquer the Duluth Hornets in the hockey game last night at the Chicago Stadium. But in the end they were on top, 3 to 2.

The Shamrocks have been defeated three times this year, and two of those whippings were determined by these same Duluth persons. This record may have had something to do with the fact that the game was played before the largest American league crowd of the season—9,000.

Despite the inspirational qualities of the large assemblage and the enthusiasm of the Ladies' night guests—those good old Cub squeals were to be heard from every side, just like Friday at Wrigley field—the first period was about as sluggish a performance as you could imagine.

Headley Scores for Chicago.

Then, when the second period opened, the contest got rough and the Shamrocks, who had been trailing, 1 to 0, at the close of the first period, got busy after 5 minutes of skirmishing and forthwith slammed in two goals, the first by that rarest of humans, an American born hockey player, Mr. Curly Headley, on a pass from Andy Mulligan. The next one was the accomplishment of Brydson on a pass from Bouncer Taylor.

The score was tied in the second period, however, on a nice bit of work by a porky little man entitled Langlois, who spent the entire evening showing that there are some athletic acts which a fat man can perform with great dexterity and expedition.

Duluth Plays Seven Men.

The third period, after Burland and MacKenzie had coöperated for the winning goal in 3:17, was quite a rousing affair in which the Duluth fellows become so intent upon tying the score that they twice were caught with seven men on the ice, six on the offensive on each occasion.

The roughness of the game brought only one casualty, but it was a serious one. In a clash with Carl Bergi, Donnie McFadyen suffered a leg injury which is expected to keep him off the ice for at least a couple of games.

Langlois Sent Off Twice.

The first 17 minutes of the first period consisted mostly of fellows either trying to make long shots or sliding on their trunks, the sliding being aided somewhat by the charging and tripping of Charley Langlois, who took two trips to the penalty box, and Laurie Scott, who also went off the ice as punishment for tripping.

At 17:38 the Hornets caught almost the entire Shamrock troupe drowsing here and there about the rink. Whyte

10 BADGERS WILL STRIKE IF GRID COACH IS FIRED

Sign Petition to Keep Thistlethwaite.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—All sophomore members of the 1930 University of Wisconsin football team have signed a petition asserting that they will not play next fall unless Coach Glenn F. Thistlethwaite is retained. It will be presented to the athletic council when it meets to decide the football situation on Dec. 22.

Praise Coach's Ability.

The sophomores, ten in number, are John Schneller, Buckets Goldenberg, Gregory Kabat, Walter McGuire, Joe Linfor, Ralph Lovshin, Harry Pike Jr., Ed Schwoegler, Clarence Edwards, and Warde Stout. The petition follows:

"We, the undersigned sophomores, having two years of football competition left, believe that we are in position to know the ability of Coach Thistlethwaite better than anyone else, and are convinced that he has the necessary qualities, such as an analytical mind, is a keen student of the game, and has good qualities of leadership and personality, and ability to build a psychological inspiration.

"Convinced that he has been fair in his contacts with us, convince1 that the football situation will not be bettered by his removal, convinced that coöperation from alumni, student body and other branches of athletics at Wisconsin will do more to build a winning football team than to get a new coach.

Hope for Consideration.

"Convinced that the last season was as successful as could be expected with the material, and deploring the nomenclature of the 'coaches' graveyard' which has been given to Wisconsin, believe that the press which is so essential to proper publicity to a winning football team, will not give the necessary publicity if Coach Thistlethwaite is not retained.

"Hoping for a fair consideration of the situation, we hereby agree sincerely and faithfully not to participate or in any way coöperate with the football authorities unless Coach Thistlethwaite is retained as as head coach."

Ft. Wayne Holds Pro Cage Lead; Beats Paterson, 18-14

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Fort Wayne Hoosiers held the lead in the American Basketball league by beating Paterson, 18 to 14, here tonight. After an even first half which ended 9 to 9, Paterson took a lead of 12 to 9 after the intermission. Then Husta, secured from Cleveland, came in to score five points and swing the game the other way. Borgmann and Shimek led in the scoring.

Majors Meet to Count Their Baseballs and Customers

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 9.—A lot of baseball persons, active, passive and passé, are hanging around the lobbies and corridors of the Commodore hotel this week, blotting up heat, including steam heat, and it was at this fortunate time that his late honor, Francis X. McQuade, of the New York Giants' firm, chose to do the handsome thing by the national game. His late honor resigned his position as a New York City magistrate and by his sacrifice dissolved an unpleasant situation.

E. S. BARNARD.

After all, there were some lines of activity in which a major league baseball magnate, mindful of the good repute of the game, could not consistently engage, and you will readily understand that it no boast to the baseball business that one of the important stockholders openly and notoriously occupied a bench in the city courts of New York.

It Must Have Worried Landis.

There had been some pressure on his late honor from the other side, too, it being the contention of certain critics that a magistrate could not do justice to his position as judge while holding office in a private concern. The baseball business, however, considering the reputation of the magistrates' courts, doubtless felt that the reflection, if any, was on them and the resignation was a happy solution of an embarrassing problem.

His late honor, K. M. Landis, as commissioner of the national pastime, must have pondered the problem many hours. Many baseball players had been whispered out of the leagues under mere suspicion of activities or associations which were deemed inimical to the best interests of the sport. But here was a magnate, once an officeholder in the largest firm in the league, who publicly sat upon the woolsack every day, some days and, being a stockholder, not an employé, could not be ejected from the sport.

Now the magnates may hold their heads up again and the fact that Francis X. McQuade chose to resign from the court instead of resigning from baseball may be regarded as just what it infers.

They Use 115,488 Balls.

In the presence of this optimistic news the announcement that the National league consumed 5,144 dozen baseballs and the American league 4,480 dozen in the season of 1930 was almost overlooked. Mr. John Heydler, the president of the National league, whose annual duty it is to ascertain and make public the precise number of baseballs used in his league's season, issued the statistics with that firm self-control which he has developed in years of experience. Originally he fluttered a bit as he dealt out the little strips of flimsy and the baseball reporters for the p. m.'s broke madly down the corridors to the phones to tell the figures to the re-write men.

But that was years ago and by now, after announcing the consumption of almost half a million baseballs, Mr. Heydler merely indicates the flimsies lying on the desk amid the cigar butts and the secretary's pencils and says in a calm, low voice, "There's some figures there, boys, on the number of baseballs we used up last year."

American Records Fancier.

The American league statistics on the baseball consumption were much fancier than Mr. Heydler's this year, another victory for the junior circuit, as it is called. E. S. Barnard of the American league, who was reëlected president for a five year term, incidentally, furnished a table stating precisely how many balls has been fouled into the left field stands, how many had been fouled into the right field stands, how many had been hit for home runs, and how many had been snatched out of the bags by the athletes to be autographed and presented to their admirers. Two-thirds of the 4,480 dozen American league balls, or precisely two-thirds of 4,480 multiplied by 12, were knocked among the customers of the American league in pursuance of the new major league policy of "a baseball for every mantel shelf and back bar in the country."

Mr. Heydler also announced the attendance statistics of the National league, saying, "There's some more figures there for you boys; about the attendance last year. It was a pretty good year."

These slips revealed that the league drew a total attendance of 5,500,000 in eight cities, or about 500,000 less than the population of New York City and 500,000 more than the 1929 attendance and 136,000 more than the previous record established in 1927 by Charlie Paddock in the National A. A. U. indoor attendance championships.

Cubs' Trade Heaviest.

The Cubs drew the largest trade at home, 1,463, 624; the Giants drew 850,000, the greatest number, on the road; Brooklyn drew 1,100,000 at home, exceeding a million for the first time, and the National league used up 5,144 dozen baseballs, a fact which cannot be emphasized too strongly.

Mr. Julian Curtis of the Spalding firm, the manufacturers of the balls, spent a long time showing that the ball was no more frisky today than in 1913, and at the end of his oration the athletes and ex-athletes in the lobbies adopted a resolution to the effect that the jackrabbit ball must go, if hit.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson, the manager of the Brooklyn daffiness boys, not being invited and prepaid by his employers, who are having a spat with him, did not appear, so the congestion in the hotel was not as bad as it might have been. Probably it was just as well for him, as there was a room understood to be a sort of social hall and lying-down room near the

HARVARD PICKS EDDIE CASEY TO LEAD GRID TEAM

All-American of 1919 to Succeed Horween.

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Edward Laurence Casey of Boston, known in his college days as "Lightning Eddie," will be made head coach of the 1931 Harvard football team to succeed Arnold Horween of Chicago, it was learned today.

The announcement will be made Saturday at a dinner given at the University club in Boston by Harvard graduates to the Crimson team of this year, at which time Arthur G. Sampson, formerly head coach at Tufts and now back field coach at Columbia under Lou Little, will be named Casey's assistant.

Had Bad Break in 1916.

Casey was the player who in 1916 slipped off tackle in the game against Yale and ran the length of the field for a touchdown, only to have the score nullified by holding on the part of Dick Harte, Crimson end.

Yale won that game, 6 to 3, but Casey, after serving in the war, returned to Cambridge and was a factor in Harvard's 10 to 3 victory in 1919, the year he was picked for all-American honors. He received his A. B. degree in February of 1920 and commenced his coaching career at Mount Union college in Alliance, O.

For the last two years he has been back field coach under Horween. It is generally accepted that as head coach he will discard the entire Horween offensive, including the back in motion, and build a new offense based on some variation of the double wing.

Taught Frosh to Beat Yale.

Casey's freshman teams won three straight victories over Yale, and his last and best team, which stopped Albie Booth successfully, included Charley Devens, Eddie Mays, Bernie White, Barry Wood, and Jack Crickard.

Horween's achievement at Cambridge was to repopularize football among the players—to make them like the game. Casey is believed to be an ideal leader to carry on Horween's policy, while at the same time abandoning many of the latter's football tactics that have been, except against Yale, barren of major victories at Cambridge during the last five seasons.

Shrine Reveals Charity Game Expense Lists

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Will H. Wade, chairman of the committee which had charge of the Shrine hospital benefit football games played at Soldiers' field on Thanksgiving day, yesterday replied to the charges that the committee had been negligent in meeting its obligations.

The big part of Wade's reply was the revelation of the expense accounts turned in to the committee by the former Notre Dame stars, who were assembled to play a team of Northwestern's former grid greats in a curtain-raiser to the Oregon State-West Virginia game. No expense accounts were turned in by the Northwestern graduates.

Wade explained that the purpose in making public the expense sheets was to show that the committee had been placed in an "erroneous light" by statements in which Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, who paid the expenses out of his own pocket and who was responsible for recalling his old stars, intimated he had been left holding the bag.

Calls Expenses Excessive.

Wade, in a statement accompanying copies of the expense accounts, declared that the obligations hadn't been met because the amounts asked by the various athletes were excessive.

"There is no question," said Wade, "as to ability to pay, but in justice to the crippled children at our hospital we cannot feel justified in paying twice as much per man to the gentlemen of the Notre Dame team, who volunteered their services, as it cost to bring to Chicago the men of the West Virginia team.

"When the proposal first came to me to play the preliminary game, the B teams of Notre Dame and Northwestern were suggested. It developed that conference rules made it impossible for Northwestern to accept. Mr. Rockne then suggested that he gather a group of former Notre Dame players and, Dick Hanley, coach at Northwestern, agreed to get together a

U. S. CHAMPIONS WILL PARADE IN LOOP FOR HOUR

W-G-N to Broadcast Squad's Reception.

N. Y. Plans Greeting

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Once again Lower Broadway will be strewn with confetti as a triumphal procession marches up New York's architectural canyon, Knute Rockne, coach of Notre Dame's championship football team, will be welcomed at city hall by Mayor Jimmy Walker when he arrives in this city to lead a team of former Notre Dame star gridders against the professional Giants next Sunday. The proceeds of the game will go to Mayor Walker's unemployment fund.

BY ARCH WARD.

This may be your day with somebody else, but it is Father Dearborn's day with Uncle Sam's football champions.

Notre Dame's national championship gridiron squad, back from its conquest of the Pacific coast, this morning will receive the greatest demonstration Chicago ever has accorded distinguished athletes.

The squad will arrive on the Golden State limited at the Rock Island station, Van Buren and La Salle streets, at 9:25 o'clock. For one hour Notre Dame will be Chicago's guests. The team leaves at 10:35 for South Bend, where the home town folks have prepared a welcome that will be second only to Chicago's.

It's Irish Day.

This has been designated as Irish day by the county board, and if the Notre Dame club of Chicago is right, it will go down in history with the night of the big wind in Ireland.

The team will be met at the station by a committee of former Notre Dame monogram men appointed by the Notre Dame club and by an honorary committee made up of the following: Ernest R. Graham, D. F. Kelly, Samuel Insull, Edward J. Kelly, Edward N. Hurley, Dr. Richard Tivnen, Judge Marcus Kavanagh, Judge Kickham Scanlan, Vincent Bendix, Byron Keneally, Julius Rosenwald, Peter J. Angsten, and Frank N. Wohllever.

There also will be representatives from the county building appointed by Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board.

To Parade Through Loop.

Immediately after arrival the players will be escorted to automobiles for a parade through the loop. The route will be north on La Salle street to Jackson, east on Jackson to Michigan, north on Michigan to Washington, west on Washington to La Salle and South on La Salle to the station. The lines of march will be decorated in the gold and blue of Notre Dame by the south park board. Police escorts provided by the city and the south park commission will lead the athletes through the loop.

As soon as the players alight from the train they will greet Chicago over W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE radio station. Quin Ryan will be at the microphone at 9:15, ten minutes before the squad arrives, and will broadcast the reception until the party leaves the station.

Oldest Grad to Greet Them.

Among the Notre Dame men who will be there to welcome the boys home will be W. P. Nelson, the school's oldest living alumnus. He was a student 61 years ago. He arrived yesterday from his home in Santa Barbara, Cal. Mr. Nelson was in Los Angeles last Saturday to see the Irish swamp Southern California, 27 to 0.

A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago and Kenneth L. Wilson of Northwestern have been invited to ride with Coach Rockne and Frank T. Fitzsimmons, president of the Notre Dame club of Chicago, in the parade.

De La Salle's High school's 60 piece band will be at the station to play the Victory march.

ROCKNE ADMITS THEY'RE GOOD.

Pratt, Kas., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Knute Rockne, en route back to South Bend with his Notre Dame football champions, broke down and confessed here today that he had a pretty good team this year. But next season—well, Mr. Rockne had his doubts.

The Notre Dame squad here briefly on the way from Los Angeles, where it capped a season of victories by defeating Southern California.

Rockne said he would join a motor car corporation as soon as he reached South Bend, but would return to his coaching duties next autumn.

PRO FOOTBALL.

PROFESSIONAL football, which received its greatest public stimulus when Red Grange joined the pro ranks after his meteoric career at Illinois, is making substantial progress both from the viewpoint of attendance and caliber of play.

Pro football elevens no longer are an aggregation of stars who take the field after vicarious practice and depend upon individual prowess for their gains. Instead, the best elevens now have regular practice and players give practically their whole time to the sport during the season. The teams are composed almost exclusively of ex-collegians.

As a result, pro football is a good exhibition. In its preciseness, its hard tackling and blocking, its generalship, it is superior to the usual college article. It often lacks the thrills because of the absence of collegiate setting, but spectators understand the tactics surprisingly well, as well as collegiate crowds.

In another respect pro players are proceeding sanely. That is, in their attitude toward one another. So far as we have observed there is seldom intentional roughness. In the Bears-Packers contest Sunday, a contest of great rivalry, we saw corroboration not once but several times. A blocker would take his man out with an impact which sent both sprawling. As the whistle blew, ending the play, both would join in helping each other up with perhaps a word or two of joking comment.

In one respect, however, pro football is handicapped. That is, lack of long standing rivalries such as many colleges enjoy. The season is about half over before the leaders have established themselves in the percentage standing. Thus, when their drawing power is at its highest, bad weather frequently occurs. That hurts attendance, for pro crowds have not yet shown a willingness to sit through rain and drizzle as 110,000 persons did at the Notre Dame-Army game.

In its early years The Wake was lukewarm toward pro football. As an exhibition we now enjoy it. While not willing to forego the family Sunday dinner every week, three or four times a season we yield to the lure.

Participation in such contests is for the player to decide. If he uses the liberal salary earned for completing a course leading to a professional degree or for some other specific purpose, he accomplishes something. If he regards the salary only as "easy money," with no thought of the future, there is real danger of becoming an "athletic tramp."

Bones to Tell If Prep Gridder Is Over Age Limit

Cleveland, O., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The age of London Gant, 6 foot, 195 pound back field star of Sandusky High school football team, which opponents think is more than his claimed 17, is to be settled by the bones.

Dr. T. Wingate Todd, director of Brush foundation and head of the anatomy laboratory at Western Reserve university, has agreed to apply his age test, by which he says approximate ages can be determined by X-ray photographs showing density of the bones. Principal Karl Whinnery of Sandusky High, to whom opponents protested, consented to the test, which will show whether Gant is under the 20 year old eligibility age.

Gant has no birth certificate recording his advent in North Carolina, but records in the family Bible put his birth in 1913.

STRIB OR TUFFY MAY GET CHANCE AT TITLE, BUT—

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's fight fans have been devoting much time recently to speculation concerning Max Schmeling and the possibility that an American fighter will bring the heavyweight championship back from Germany. Perhaps Jack Kearns, Mickey Walker's manager, is responsible for the uproar, for Kearns is conducting a blatant campaign to prove that Walker is the only real fighter in this country.

The situation is almost out of control. Young Stribling has posted a forfeit to bind a match with Champion Max. Tuffy Griffith has followed Really the only interesting and certain fact is that Griffith and Stribling will fight ten rounds or less Friday night at the Stadium. Of that Chicago can be certain. There may be no heavyweight championship bout in Chicago, notwithstanding Kearns' confident assertion that Schmeling will fight Walker next summer at Soldiers' field and the timid hopes of the Stadium officials that Max will meet the winner of the Stribling-Griffith fracas.

Stribling Has Best Right.

According to developments in the last six months, Willie Stribling, now approaching his 300th professional fight, has the best right to demand a match for the title. He defeated Otto Von Porat in one round when Tuffy Griffith would have no part of the Norwegian. Then he put Phil Scott in a familiarly recumbent position in his home town of London, and stepped aside to remark that his workmanlike performance might well be envied by Jack Sharkey.

Of course, if Tuffy Griffith can score a decisive victory over Stribling, the Georgian's former triumphs will go to Tuffy by conquest.

But it is important to remind gullible fight fans that championship fights seldom are awarded to outstanding challengers. For instance, Billy Petrolle defeated Tony Canzoneri here in the Stadium, and then added to his prestige by whipping Jimmy McLarnin. This same McLarnin [a welterweight] had knocked out the lightweight king, Al Singer. But when the title bout was awarded, Canzoneri got the contract, and made good by socking Singer a plenty.

LaBarba Case Cited.

If it is necessary to go farther, consider the case of Fidel LaBarba. Fidel won from Bud Taylor last spring at the Coliseum and repeated recently in New York. After considerable campaigning Fidel finally cought up with Kid Chocolate and whipped the Cuban decisively. Did LaBarba get a match with Battalino for the championship? You know the answer. Kid Chocolate will fight Battalino Friday night.

Fight titles are business assets. And such assets are not subject to the rules of sport. When a champion has sidetracked challenges of worthy opponents as long as is possible, and avoided insistent boxing commissions until he is threatened with forced abdication, he chooses his own opponent, one whom he thinks he can defeat and at the same time draw enough dollars to make the title risk worth while.

Stribling or Griffith may be Schmeling's next opponent. Or Jack Kearns may be correct when he predicts Mickey Walker will fight the German. But when the articles are signed Schmeling and his manager will have their candidate in mind. The only advantage, apparently in the heavyweight division, is that almost any American can whip Schmeling. And this includes Jack Sharkey, providing of course, the sailorman close bits his temper, if such a harness can be found.

Max May Fight Any One.

Kearns' latest publicity excerpt, issued from southern headquarters, now that Mickey is en tour, calls attention to Johnny Risko's defeat of Jim Maloney, who in turn is the only human to hold a decision over the Gargantuan Primo Carnera. This doesn't clarify the heavyweight problem, for Schmeling might fight any of these men, but he certainly won't if his management believes the public won't pay to see it.

So Young Stribling or Griffith best can insure a chance at Schmeling by winning favor with the customers. And action is the only path to a customer's heart. A slow ten round bout Friday night, with cautious, timid boxing, will not help either of the fighters. It will be disastrous for Griffith, since he is rated that kind of a boxer. At least, he fought Jack Gagnon with marked reticence. And Stribling's recent popularity is due to knockout punches. If Strib reverts to previous form, even if he wins, there'll be no demand for him to meet Max Schmeling.

These remarks probably are unnecessary, for the man who lays down $10.80 to see Stribling and Griffith is not considering that the winner may be the next champion of the world. Rather, he wants $10.80 worth of fighting right now and doesn't care a whoop about tomorrow.

CATHOLIC CAGE CHAMPS TO PLAY BENEFIT GAME

Two national Catholic basketball tournament champions will meet when the De La Salle teams of Joliet and Chicago, victors of the national tournament in 1928 and 1929, respectively, clash at the Coliseum a week from tonight. The games are being sponsored by the Illinois state council, Knights of Columbus, for the Catholic Charities of Chicago.

SONNENBERG TO WRESTLE DEC. 18 IN COLISEUM RING

Gus Sonnenberg, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, will wrestle at the Coliseum on Dec. 18, according to an announcement yesterday by Promoter Joe Coffey. The net proceeds will be turned over to Gov. Emmerson's unemployment committee, of which George Getz, member of the Illinois state athletic commission, is chairman. His opponent has not been chosen.

MOON MULLINS—PEEP! PEEP!

$3,000.00 OR NO $3,000.00. COMMODORE GRUNTMORE NEEDN'T THINK HE CAN BREAK OUR ENGAGMENT LIKE A CRACKED SAUCER, JUST BECAUSE HE'S HIT IT RICH. OH I'D GIVE A PRETTY PENNY TO LAY MY HANDS ON THE HOUND.
WELL, IF HE'S IN THE CITY YOU'LL SOON KNOW IT, MISS SCHMALTZ. WHEN THE COMMODORE'S MOUTHPIECE MR. STRINGHALT LEFT HERE, LITTLE DID HE REALIZE THAT MOONSHINE WAS TAILING HIM.
GOOD EVENING.
COME IN, MR. STRINGHALT.
I WISH THEY'D TURN ON THE LIGHT IN THERE. I CAN HEAR 'EM WHISPERIN' AND MOVIN' AROUND BUT I CAN'T SEE NOTHIN!

16 Derbies Fill Chicago Ice Skating Card

Chicago's biggest ice skating season will get under way on Dec. 28.

Sixteen ice skating derbies, fifteen of which are to be held in Chicago public parks, have been scheduled by the Illinois-Western Skating association for the winter season. This is the largest number of meets ever planned for a Chicago ice program.

More than 2,000 skaters ranging from several of the fleetest champions of both sexes in America to novices and juvenile skaters will engage in the competition in the various classes. Twenty member clubs of the recently consolidated Illinois and Western Skating associations will equip skaters. Hundreds of unattached entrants will also don skates to race.

Hold Olympic Tryouts Here.

Chicago fans will also have the opportunity to witness the local tryouts for the 1932 American Olympic team, which will be held as part of the program of racing in the Norwegian American A. A. Derby on Jan. 4, and the Northwest Skating club Derby on Jan. 11.

Winners in these competitions, to be skated in both the European and American styles, will represent the association in the national Olympic tryouts to be held at Lake Placid, New York. Paul Staff, manager of the U. S. Olympic team in 1928; Roy McWhirter, former national champion; Oscar Hansen, famous skating coach, and Oscar Lundgoot, former distance star, are serving on the local Olympic tryout committee.

In each of the fifteen Derbies to be conducted in local city parks there will be events for boys and girls of all ages. Skaters who make the best showing in the local Derbies will be sent east to represent the Illinois-Western Skating association in the national and North American championships.

Franklin in First Derby.

The first Derby of the year, which will take place Dec. 28, has been awarded to the Franklin Skating club. The traditional New Year's Day Derby was awarded to the Sleipner Athletic club, oldest skating organization in the city.

Championship of the state, at present held dividedly by Art Conroy of the former Western association, and Frank Stack of the former Illinois group, will be decided on Jan. 18 at Elgin in a meet sponsored by the Elgin Skating club. The city titles, held by Wally Mitchell and Conroy will be up for decision on Jan. 31 in a Derby to be held by northwest parks.

More than seventy officials, including figures widely known in the skating world, will coöperate in conducting the Derbies. Among the chiefs are:

Referees—Gen. John V. Clinnin, Roy McWhirter, Herman Hofmann Herman Fischer.
Chief judges—Andrew Ellingsen, president Illinois-Western Skating association; Walter P. Steffen, Walter Wright.
Chief starters—Wallace Fee, Leroy E. Davis, Max Fischer.
Chief scorers—Harry Johnson, Toby Orr.

The schedule:

Dec. 28—Franklin Skating and Athletic club at Humboldt park.
Jan. 1—Sleipner Athletic club at Humboldt park.
Jan. 3—Elcaya Athletic club at Humboldt park.
Jan. 4—[Olympic tryouts], Norwegian American A. A. at Humboldt park.
Jan. 10—Amphion Athletic club at La Follette park.
Jan. 11—[Olympic tryouts], Northwest Skating club at Humboldt park.
Jan. 17—Henry A. A. at Humboldt park.
Jan. 18—[Illinois state championships], Elgin Skating club at Elgin, Ill.
Jan. 31—Henry Playground Skating club at Humboldt park.
Jan. 24-25—Chicago Tribune Silver Skates Derby at Garfield park.
Jan. 28—Harmony club, Electricians union, No. 134, at Humboldt park.
Jan. 31—[City championships], Northwest Parks at Portage park.
Feb. 1—Opal A. A. at Douglas park.
Feb. 7—Walton Arrow Athletic club at Humboldt park.
Feb. 8—South Chicago Skating club at Bessemer park.

WOODS DEFEATS TABERSKI, 125-76, IN CUE TOURNEY

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—In a battle of safeties and scratches lasting more than three hours, Arthur Woods of New York defeated Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., 125 to 76, in the world's pocket billiard tournament at Dwyer's Billiard academy this afternoon. Woods ran out in 38 innings after holding a lead of 91 to 0 at the end of the seventeenth inning following his high run of 53. Taberski also got his best cluster, 21, in his seventeenth appearance at the table.

Onofrio Lauri of New York played consistent billiards to defeat Benny Allen of Kansas City, 125 to 44, in 27 innings. Allen held the national title in 1912-'13-'14. Lauri's high run was 26, made in the 19th inning, while Allen's best cluster was 16, made in the first frame.

Irvin Rudolph and Pasquale Natalle of Chicago staged another of their old fashioned duels tonight, Rudolph winning, 125 to 108, in 16 innings Natalle got away to a long lead in the first inning with a high run of 42, but Rudolph, who was runner-up to Greenleaf last year, picked up 36 points in his fifth appearance to go out in front.

Top Minnow New Discovery in War Against Mosquito

BY BOB BECKER.

To a fisherman most of the finny tribes are considered according to their fighting qualities, and the objective of many trips to distant waters is to catch more than one species. But there is one species that lives down south, and so important is it to the scientists that they are spending thousands of dollars on this one fish, and so far not a hook and line has been exhibited in the course of all the money spending.

This valuable member of the American fish families is known as the top minnow and he belongs to the Gambusia family. As something for the sportsmen to get excited about, he's a dud, but to the scientists and to those cities suffering from an excess of mosquitoes this top minnow is worth its weight in gold, because he is the most efficient mosquito destroyer known.

Bats get a high rating as consumers of mosquitoes and other insects, but can't do business until the mosquito has hatched out and is buzzing around tormenting people. Gambusia, the little top minnow eats mosquitoes before they get a chance to fly. Feeding on the surface the little dwarfs pick up the insects while the latter are still in an aquatic environment, as the pestiferous mosquito lays its eggs in water and from the water the adult insect must arise.

The City of Washington recently tried transplanting some of the diminutive top minnows to see if they would live that far north. The fish were brought from North Carolina and survived. In fact, they not only endured the rigors of a northern winter, but multiplied many times.

This winter 15,000 of the top minnows are being given a trial in three different pools. If they live they are going to be used in the start of an anti-mosquito war around Washington.

So great is the fame of the top minnow as a mosquito fighter that thousands of the fish have been shipped to Spain, Italy, and Palestine to aid in mosquito control. Successful experiments also have been made in Bermuda. Italy already has reported success with minnows sent over there.

Judging by the success of scientists in growing this fish away from its original home down south, it looks as if the tiny top minnow will spread widely over the country.

BRUINS TO PLAY PATERSON PROS HERE TONIGHT

Paterson's second place American Professional Basketball league team will play the Bruins tonight at the Stadium. Honey Russell, who formerly starred at guard for the Bruins, will be with the easterners, as will Benny Borgeman, for two years leading scorer in the league.

Last year Borgeman made 416 points, averaging eight a game. In his last game, which was against Cleveland Sunday, he scored 15 points, which enabled Paterson to take an easy victory over the champion Rosenblums.

The Bruins have been drilling for five days in an effort to prepare a defense to stop Borgeman. Nate Hickey, Borgeman's greatest scoring rival, has completely recovered from his recent injury, and will be back at his old post at forward. Probable lineups:

BRUINS.		PATERSON.
Bramhall	I. F.	Borgeman
Hickey	R. F.	Conaty
Herlihy	C.	Nagle
Murphy	L. G.	Russell
Kennedy	R. G.	Artus

DAYTON, SYRACUSE MAY ENTER.

Since Cleveland's withdrawal from the league, Dayton, O., and Syracuse, N. Y., have made application for franchises. Lopchick, Dehnert, Spindel, Schultz, and Barry of the Cleveland quintet have been signed by Toledo. Carl Husta now is with Fort Wayne.

George Halas, Bruins' manager, last night announced he hoped to sign Gaza Chazmadia, who has not come to terms this season with Rochester.

Shrine Reveals Charity Game Expense Lists

No Expense Anticipated.

"It was understood at the time," continued Wade, "that the efforts of both of these teams were to be entirely charity donations and there was no intimation of any expense other than paying the railroad fare of Adam Walsh, which was estimated by Mr. Rockne to approximate $150."

Following, according to information produced by Chairman Wade, are the individual totals of the expenses asked for by the former Notre Dame players:

Joe Bach, Pittsburgh	$178.32
Jack Cannon, Auburn, Ala.	174.55
Fred Collins, Chicago	58.89
W. T. Connell, Beloit, Wis.	127.45
Gene Edwards, Weston, W. Va.	165.09
Rex Enright, Chapel Hill, N. C.	275.29
Jack Elder, Chicago	36.45
V. F. Harrington, Sioux Falls, S. D.	130.18
T. F. Heardon, Racine, Wis.	31.09
William B. Jones, Chicago	53.25
Noble E. Kizer, Lafayette, Ind.	53.52
O. Joy Larson, Chicago	9.83
John B. Law, New York	74.90
John McMullin, Austin, Minn.	93.88
Fred C. Miller, Milwaukee, Wis.	56.50
Tim Moynihan, South Bend, Ind.	35.30
Joe Nash, Chicago	43.35
Art Parisien, South Bend	94.38
Ted Twomey, Duluth [came from Sheridan, Wyo.]	215.57
E. Young, South Bend	45.50
John Wallace, Garr, Ind.	66.48
Manfred Vezie, South Bend, Ind.	66.00
Adam Walsh, New Haven, Conn.	326.06

The majority of the players started their expense accounts on Sunday, Nov. 23, and carried them through Nov. 29, which was two days after the game. They were called to South Bend on Nov. 24 for practice and came to Chicago the evening of Nov. 26.

Cites Walsh's Train Fares.

Among the items Chairman Wade pointed out as objectionable was $221.28, the railroad fare asked by Adam Walsh, who came from New Haven, Conn., where he is assistant coach at Yale.

"The New York Central railroad's rate on the highest extra fare train was quoted to me as $38.50 from New Haven to Chicago," said Wade. "The Pullman fare is $9. That would make the total round trip fare just $95. I can hardly reconcile these figures with those on Mr. Walsh's expense account, unless he brought some one with him, and we certainly did not authorize that.

The character of many of the items that compose the individual expense accounts do not justify themselves. The charges in these accounts do not look or sound like the original proposal which Mr. Rockne made. As he has not had an opportunity to examine them I am satisfied he will realize, as I do, that the young man [Notre Dame student manager] who took care of this detail for him overlooked checking these items.

Wanted Them Only One Hour.

"At no time did we understand," concluded Wade, "that the services of these gentlemen were ours for anything more than one hour on Thanksgiving day morning, and since none of the gentlemen who came from a distance hurried home after the Thanksgiving day game, it would appear that their real interest was being here for the Army-Notre Dame game the following Saturday."

Among the single charges showing on the itemized accounts was one of $25 for incidentals from Sunday to Sunday. One player had $35 for seven days of auto hire at $5 a day. He also used taxicabs, according to his submitted account. Another charged a total of $35 for "miscellaneous" over a six day stretch as well as two days wages of $10. The same man asked $1 a day for storage, presumably garage, and also charged railroad fare.

Mr. Wade hopes to talk to Mr. Rockne today about these matters.

Hoppe to Broadcast from W-G-N Station Tomorrow

Willie Hoppe, former 18.2 and 18.1 billiard champion of the world, will speak from W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE radio station on the Drake hotel, tomorrow from 5 to 5:15 p. m.

Brooklyn suite, and from this room there came frequent tinkles of ice and glass and in a left handed voice cries of "Who says I'm cock eyed?"

Unemployment Conditions Bad.

The unemployment crisis became more critical. Jumping Joe Dugan, an old third baseman of 34, came in shopping for a job and encountered Lena Blackburne, Cy Perkins, Walter Schang, and Jack Quinn, all similarly occupied. The Messrs. Dugan and Perkins probably will receive some chores to do with major league teams, but the other boys have no assurance yet. Mr. Blackburne, Art Shires' old sparring partner, wishes to challenge Primo Carnera, but his first overtures have been rejected by Carnera's manager, Mr. Will Duffy.

"He weighs 175; too big," said Mr Duffy. "He's only 42 years old; too young. And anyway he looks too tough."

Harry Dublinsky Wins on Foul from Mickey O'Neill

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Mickey O'Neill, Milwaukee, lost on a foul in the eighth round of a scheduled ten round fight here tonight with Harry Dublinsky of Chicago. O'Neill landed the foul after he had been warned repeatedly by the referee against low blows.

Purple to Face C. A. A. Swimmers in Benefit Meet

Northwestern university's swimming team will open its season in a dual meet with the Chicago Athletic association at Patten pool in Evanston tonight. All proceeds will be turned over to the United Charities of Evanston.

Coach Tom Robinson faces the coming season with the loss of most of the Purple stars who last year won the National Collegiate championship. Four of the Wildcat aces have been graduated. They are: Al Schwartz, Bob Howlett, Don Petersen, and Dick Hinch.

Both Petersen and Hinch will swim for the Cherry Circle tonight. In addition, a number of other former Northwestern stars will be on the squad which Coach Harry Hazelhurst will send against the Purple. They are Dick Howell, Wally Colbath, Ralph Breyer, and Paul Corbett.

Only two letter men, Capt. Bill Covode and Bill Wilson, both free style swimmers, are available for the Purple varsity. Covode will swim the short sprints and will perform in the 220 and 440 yard swims.

Several members of last year's team who won letters are back again. They are: Harold Boyer, back stroke; Wheeler Tracey, Ed Reiter, and Edward Vauria, free style; Wayne Browning, diving; Harvey Kauffman, breast stroke, and Bill Roberts and Milton Grey, water polo.

Prominent among sophomores who will make their initial varsity appearance are: Max Cogdill, Roger Debenham, Jack Durin, Robert McManus, and Paul Throope, all free style; Dick Anderson, diving, and Sam Rosen, back stroke.

Shamrock Ice Team Defeats Hornets, 3-2

took the puck down the ice with a modicum of opposition and passed to Red Green who leisurely jockeyed Timmins and then banged in the tally for the most unimpressive score of the local season to date.

The lassitude which characterized the Shamrock play in the first period vanished once the second period got under way.

Headley Scores Tying Goal.

Shortly after the five minute mark had been passed, Andy Mulligan got the puck in the neutral zone and carried it down for a close shot which Turner halted with his shin pads. Headley was on the play, however, and neatly rammed home the tying counter.

Before the visitors had regained their composure Taylor seized the disc and took it down for a perfect pass to Brydson who pushed it past Turner's boots. This second marker was accomplished 32 seconds after the first. The score was Shamrocks, 2; Hornets, 1.

The Shamrocks' advantage did not survive the period, however, for Langlois, pudgy defense man, skated the length of the rink with the puck and registered, unassisted, in 14:47.

Timmins Stands Out.

The remainder of the period saw some fine skating with the two goalies taking the spotlight through acrobatic saves, a pair by Timmins from Whyte's stick being especially noteworthy.

The Shamrocks again took over the lead before the third period was very old, when they hung up their third score. McKenzie swished it home on a pass from Burland. The time was 3:17.

BOWEN CAPTURES FIFTH STRAIGHT DOUBLE HEADER

Bowen basketball teams won their fifth consecutive double header on the home floor yesterday, the heavies defeating Phillips, last year's City league champions, 29 to 18, while the lights took a 25 to 13 decision. Joe Celmer, with 14 points, and Bill Harlow, with 11, starred for the heavies, while Sloan and Schohl led the lightweight scorers.

Tilden heavies handed St. Rita a 23 to 5 trimming, Prove heading the scorers with 10 points. McAuliffe led the St. Rita lights to a 17 to 14 victory.

Parker and St. Philip divided a double header on the former's court, the St. Philip heavies winning, 22 to 11, while the Parker lights, led by Birge, won, 22 to 17. Foster featured for the St. Philip heavies.

Tracy Cox Knocks Out Billy Shaw in 5th Round

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Tracy Cox, Indianapolis featherweight, knocked out Billy Shaw of Detroit in the fifth round of a scheduled ten round bout here tonight. Shaw claimed he was fouled but physicians said they saw no evidence of a low punch. Cox knocked Shaw down for a no count in the second round and stopped him again in the fourth with a right to the jaw.

CHICAGO CURB STARTS TRADE IN TRACTION STOCK

Lists $216,000,000 in New Securities.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Confidence that better times are in prospect for Chicago's traction system and its security holders was manifest yesterday when trading in some of the shares of the new Chicago Local Transportation company began on the Chicago Curb exchange.

More than $216,000,000 of the new securities were listed for trading on a "when issued" basis and prices were relatively higher for some of the issues, figured on the proposed exchange basis, than for the securities of the old companies, which will go into the consolidated system.

The exchange admitted to trading the following securities of the new company: $40,595,875 first and refunding mortgage 5½ per cent bonds, series A; $40,595,875 of $7 prior preferred stock, series A; $57,592,432 of $6 preferred stock, series A; $29,409,558 of class A common stock; $47,662,806 of class B common stock, and $208,919 of class C common stock.

Inaugural Prices.

The $6 preferred stock sold between 50 and 51, the class A common stock sold between 25 and 25½, and the class B common stock sold between 4 and 4¼. There was no trading in the new bonds, the $7 prior preferred stock or the class C common stock.

On the basis of the proposed exchanges announced yesterday morning, the Chicago Railways consolidated mortgage 5 bonds would be worth around $558 per bond, or nearly $56 per hundred, whereas recently they sold around 44. The Chicago Railways "B" bonds would be worth about $119, or nearly $38 per hundred, compared with a recent market price around 22. The Chicago Railway purchase money bonds would be worth around $433, or more than $43 per hundred, compared with a price of 33, and the adjustment income bonds would be worth about $258, or nearly $26 per hundred, against a recent price of 20. The Chicago City and Connecting railways bonds would be worth around $540, or $54 per hundred; Chicago Rapid Transit debentures would be worth around $314, or $31 per hundred.

Show Enhanced Values.

The Chicago City and Connecting railways preferred participating certificates would be worth about $8.41, compared with a current price around 7¾. Chicago Rapid Transit prior preferred stock, series A, would be worth about $63 and the series B about $58, while the common stock would be worth around $15, compared with a recent price of about 7.

The 1,000 shares of capital stock of the Chicago Railways company will be allotted 134,889 new class B shares, worth about $573,278. But the Chicago Railways stock is represented by 26,100 participation certificates, divided into four series. There are 20,850 in the first series, whose holders have several million dollars in equities.

RECOMMEND PLAN

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The financial plan for consolidating the surface and elevated lines into one comprehensive transit system for Chicago was recommended yesterday by the protective committees of three classes of securities. These committees represent the first mortgage bonds of the Chicago Railways company, which are the west and north side surface lines, and of the Chicago City Railway company, and of the Calumet and South Chicago company, surface lines of the south side.

After 30 days, within which the owners of securities can withdraw them, these protective committees will place a formal and final approval upon the financial scheme.

On the other side came two protests, both of which were expected. One was made by C. H. Wilmerding, vice chairman of the protective committee for the Chicago Railways participation certificates. It was announced in yesterday's Tribune that these security holders were dissatisfied and were expected to fight.

Favors "L" Securities, Charge.

"Obviously the plan," reads his statement, "as proposed is more favorable to the elevated lines than to the surface lines in the light of the earning contribution made by each of these properties to the united program. Under the proposed plan approximately $1,000,000 of earnings will be diverted annually from the Chicago Railways [west and north side surface lines] alone to the security holders of the elevated lines.

"Instead of respecting the rights of the participation certificates, the proposed plan works a substantial confiscation of their rights for the benefit apparently of the elevated lines. Earnings available for the participation certificates of $1,584,000 last year are reduced by the plan to about $46,000 a year, while earnings to be available for the elevated securities are very substantially increased."

Hits Bond Trade Proposals.

The other protest came from William Hughes Clarke, who was an opponent of the franchise. He says in his statement:

"All holders of certificates of deposit for first mortgage bonds of the Chicago Railways, Chicago City Railway and the Calumet and South Chicago companies should, for their own protection, immediately withdraw their bonds from the Harris and Traylor committees. The third modified plan evolved by Mr. Samuel Insull and his associates after months of deliberation and promulgated today by Halsey, Stuart & Co. persists in continuing many of the vital faults of the original plan and creates some new fatal defects which must be discarded if a settlement is to be accomplished without further delay."

He repeats his previous advice that first mortgage bondholders in the present companies should not accept half bonds and half preferred stock in the new company.

Signs Point to Recovery in Business, Ayres Says

COL. L. P. AYRES.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 9.—(AP)—The bottom of the business depression is at hand, according to all the "old signs and symptoms," and recovery next year should be expected, Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust company and internationally prominent business forecaster, said today.

He made this forecast in his annual address before the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce. He cautioned, however, that it "is already clear that we are not warranted in expecting a rapid recovery.

"The purchasing power of an important part of our population is still seriously restricted by the paying down of debts incurred in unsuccessful stock speculation," he said.

Cites Reason for Delay.

Another reason for a delay in business recovery is that although we have an abundant supply of credit "we have not developed any new wave of constructive enterprise such as canals, railroads, war materials, highways, and automobiles. These activites have usually come from men of courage who took advantage of the low interest rates to float bond issues for financing expansion and improvements.

"Such new construction is the most effective force making for business recovery, because the wages that are paid produce a prompt restoration of the purchasing power of the workers without resulting in output of new goods which the workers must buy if work is continued," he said.

He continued that "it now seems likely that business recovery will begin as a combination of many minor improvements and that it will be accompanied by the developments that normally occur in such a period. These should include rising trends for short term interest rates, bond prices, and stock prices and advances before the end of the year in wholesale prices and industrial employment. Some increases over 1930 seem probable in building construction, iron and steel output, and the production of automobiles."

Sees Favorable Balance.

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—This is the season when a slowing down of manufacturing activity customarily occurs to offset the expansion in retail trade and there is no evidence that business has slipped any lower in the cycle during the last month, but the balance, if any, is on the side of the favorable developments, says the current issue of the American Bankers' Association Journal in its monthly discussion of the condition of business. The Journal continues:

"Extreme pessimism today would be as unwarranted as extreme optimism was a year and one-half ago. Manufacturers and merchants, with the false upturn and subsequent reaction in business this spring still fresh in mind, will naturally move slowly in their commitments for merchandise or their expansion of plant facilities.

"The condition of the member banks in the federal reserve system has been steadily strengthened by the continued liquidation of secured loans.

"The suspension of banks last month, some of which have since reopened, was a distressing development for th communities concerned, but the banks were, with few exceptions, relatively small and the effect upon the general business situation is therefore not believed to be serious."

DR. FRIDAY'S VIEWPOINT

"Business will get but little better throughout the winter and early spring, but by late spring I expect to see it begin to pick up with increased speed," said Dr. David Friday, economist and author, and past president of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, in addressing the Rotary club at luncheon yesterday at the Hotel Sherman.

"It is more than probable that we shall witness a gradual increase in productive activity throughout the winter months. This will be slow and it will escape the notice of many people. After this has taken place, industry will improve at an accelerated rate. This is just what occured in the spring of 1922 after a six months period of gradual improvement.

"Many people believe such a revival of industry will be marked by rapid rise in commodity prices. It is much more likely that prices of industrial products as a whole will go forward on about its present level. It is not probable that they will have any very marked rise. Raw materials, such as rubber, copper, and cotton will rise somewhat, but finished products are almost certain to be pushed to lower prices by the competition of producers who are operating with lower cost materials, with more efficient labor and management; and with cheaper credit."

Belgian Says Speculators Depress World Wheat Price

BRUSSELS, Dec. 9.—(AP)—American and Canadian speculators were blamed for the low price of wheat by the Liberal deputy, Joris, speaking during an interpellation in parliament over restrictive measures proposed by the government to end the "dumping" of Russian wheat at Antwerp. American technicians and makers of farm machinery, the deputy declared, were responsible for the ever increasing appearance of Russian wheat in the world market, comparing with pre-war times. He asked that the government either declare a boycott against soviet Russia or resume political and commercial relations.

FIRST UNION TRUST PLANS STOCK MELON FOR FIRST NATIONAL

Instead of paying a 2 per cent extra dividend, as was done last year, directors of the First National bank last night announced plans for what will be, in effect, a 10 per cent stock dividend.

The directors of the First Union Trust and Savings bank, which is affiliated with the First National, voted to increase the capital stock from $7,500,000 to $10,000,000, subject to approval of the stockholders at the annual meeting on Jan. 13. The $2,500,000 of new stock will be issued to the trustees who hold the stock of the First Union for the benefit of stockholders of the First National. As the capital stock of the First National is $25,000,000, the new stock to be issued by the First Union will be, in effect, a 10 per cent stock dividend.

The increase in the stock of the First Union will be made by transfer of $2,500,000 from the bank's undivided profits, which stood at $6,682,323 on Sept. 24, the date of the last report to the state auditor. The combined capital, surplus, and undivided profits of the First National and First Union exceed $75,000,000. The First National directors yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of $4.50 a share, payable to stockholders of record Dec. 31.

SILVER HITS NEW BOTTOM AT 33 CENTS

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Silver reached a new low on the New York market today at 33 cents, a drop of a full cent since yesterday. The previous low was 33¼ cents reached last June 21. A steady decline has continued since Nov. 1, due primarily to the weakness of the Chinese exchange.

Liberty Mutual Insurance Declares 20% Dividends

Says Loomis Views Future of Rails as Public Sees It

BY SCRUTATOR.

A number of railroad men see the future of the railroads in much the same light that the public sees it. One of these is E. E. Loomis, president of the Lehigh Valley.

E. E. LOOMIS.

His way of restoring the carriers to some measure of their former prosperity has the merit of simplicity. He discards the idea that the way to greater net revenues is through the raising of rates on freight. That, he explained, would only result in driving more traffic to competing means of transportation.

With at least two of the three suggestions he makes for remedies it is not difficult to agree. They are: First, that the railroads be relieved of the enormous expense of eliminating grade crossings, and second, that they be relieved of hard and fast regulation that prevents them from meeting competition from other transportation.

Form of Taxation.

The building of grade crossings is one form of taxation, in substance. In some states the carriers are the largest taxpayers. Something might be worked out whereby any sums spent by the rails in eliminating highway grade crossings could be considered as offsets against their tax bills.

As for the second argument, that a railroad should be given a little more control over its own destiny, that seems correct. The interstate commerce commission, in insisting that any rate made shall be made by formula that will apply to any like shipment for a similar distance anywhere in the country, is taking away the ability of rail presidents to be realists, to meet conditions as they are.

In fact, a rail freight rate usually should have no relationship to the cost of operation. Or if it should, it is impossible to enforce that relationship. An ex-railroad man who once started a railroad operating in northern Canada has explained how his and all other rates grew up.

"The present railroad sent out a certain amount of equipment. There was no traffic to handle. Finally a settler cut a carload of pulpwood. Obviously it was impossible for him to pay for the whole operation of the road. We made his rate by finding out what he got for his pulpwood and charging him as much as we could while still allowing him enough margin to make it profitable for him to cut some more pulpwood. That's the way all the rates in the United States were made originally."

Must Meet Prices.

Any railroad that can't offer service at prices that will keep business moving on its lines has lost its grip. It is true and will for long be true that the rails are the backbone of our transportation. But they are not now or in the future going to get traffic from other agencies unless they can meet prices. We know that some railroads are making more than the government estimate of a fair return even now. They earn because they can defeat competitors and keep traffic.

The attempt to link up profitable roads with unprofitable and to say that the whole, including those which never should have been built, should earn a stated return on a capitalization that has no foundation in actual fact, was always wrong. It is not certain that abandonment of some mileage might not make for better profits. Regulation is generally hostile to this as to rates made for specific places. Loosening of the bonds to permit proper handling of capital assets could conceivably better the plight of the rails.

WEEK'S FREIGHT CAR LOADINGS DECLINE 77,672

General news of trade and industry continued mixed yesterday. Quiet in general business again was evidenced in the weekly report on the railroad movement of commodities. Revenue freight loadings for the week ended Nov. 29 totaled 702,085 cars, a decline of 77,672 cars from the preceding week, chiefly as the result of Thanksgiving day, but also a decrease of 134,225 cars from the corresponding week in 1929. The largest recessions, compared with a year ago, occurred in miscellaneous freight, merchandise, coal, and forest products.

On the other hand, the petroleum industry again reported cheerful news in the shape of a further recession in production. The daily average gross crude oil output last week totaled 2,229,250 barrels, a decline of 36,650 barrels a day from the preceding week, according to the American Petroleum institute. Oklahoma led off with a curtailment of 35,050 barrels a day. Refiners took less oil last week and operated at 61.2 per cent of capacity. But stocks of gasoline again increased 455,000 barrels to a total of 37,742,000 barrels, while stocks of gas and fuel oil remained almost stationary.

REVERSAL OF POOL POLICY IS APPROVED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Montreal, Quebec, Dec. 9.—Eastern Canada learned with intense satisfaction and not a little enthusiam today that the wheat pool will reverse its overseas selling policy, withdrawing its European representatives, and sell its wheat through the competitive trade channels.

In the past the pool has sold direct to the consumer wherever possible, ignoring established trading customs, and letting the middleman go hang as far as they were concerned. Many firms, which formerly figured in a large way in the disposal of Canada's annual wheat crop, have been forced out of business while others have held on with only a fractional quantity of the business formerly enjoyed. The news came to them as a new lease of life.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 9.—Stocks bid a little better today. The leaders were fairly well bought after an early sinking spell and an assortment of special issues enjoyed upturns for special reasons. So the final table had an improved look despite the many minus signs it had to bear.

Even the rails, or some of them, managed to brace up smartly in a mid-afternoon rally, New York Central, New Haven, Baltimore & Ohio, Erie and others finishing with small gains to their credit. This, from the bull viewpoint, was the big feature of the market inasmuch as the carriers have been belabored from all sides for the last week or ten days.

More New Lows.

Some of them came in for a bit of further rough treatment in the earlier dealings today, a majority of the group in fact establishing brand new lows for the year or longer. Atchison, Delaware & Hudson, Norfolk & Western, Nickel Plate, Lackwanna, Frisco and others were down 1 to 2 points or more around noon but the buying spurt which developed a little later was of sufficient vigor to more than restore these losses on the average.

United States Steel met with good support in anticipation of an increase in the unfilled tonnage for November on which figures will be announced at noon tomorrow and the stock after an early dip recovered to sell up a half point on the day. The example of the old leader proved an inspiration to other pivotals and American Can recovered 1¾ points of the loss it has been suffering, Consolidated Gas came back 1¼ points, and Standard Oil of New Jersey, Radio, General Electric and other favorites did enough to get themselves recorded with the sheep.

A handful of issues continued under somewhat heavy pressure, however, despite the disposition elsewhere to make a better showing. International Telephone & Telegraph broke 3 points to a new low on selling induced by fears for the safety of the present dividend. Bearish professionals have

How Revival will come

A tree grows slowly, imperceptibly, over a period of years. There is nothing spectacular about the process.

But when a tree crashes in a storm, the event is swift, definite and dramatic.

The course of business and the stock market is much the same. Depression is ushered in by impressive events—panic, failures, general distress. It becomes a topic of conversation and the subject of much writing.

Prosperity follows a different course. It is built up slowly, almost inappreciably, over a period of time. Its beginnings are tentative and uncertain. It gains momentum quietly. Its presence in the early stages is acknowledged, if at all, almost grudgingly, and before many are aware of it, it is in full course.

The new prosperity that is now in the making will be built up in the same way. While public attention will still be focused on the decline, the rise will begin to get under way. It will attain considerable proportions before the turn of events will be general knowledge. That has been the experience of the past and it points the way to the opportunity of the present.

TRADERS DESERT WHEAT PIT TO DEAL IN CORN

Latter Mart Offers Better Speculative Medium.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Trading in May wheat yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade consisted in buying of old style at 81c and the new at 81½c, and selling at ¼c above these figures. There was practically no interest in the market by either commission houses or the local element, and at times the pit was almost empty due to a general exodus on the part of brokers into corn which market showed fair activity and offered a better speculative medium.

For the third straight day houses that usually act for the Stabilization corporation had buying orders for May wheat at 81@81⅛c, and even the July delivery which is not subject to stabilization operations held within a range of ⅝c. Closing trades were ¼c higher to ¼c lower, the latter on July which finished at 73⅝@73½c, while old December was 77¼c; March, 79⅛@79¼c, and May, 81@81⅛c to 81c.

Foreign News Favors Holders.

While the wheat market held within a fractional range the general run of the news was more encouraging to holders. Broomhalls' Australian agent reduced his estimate on the wheat crop of that country to 168,000,000 bu, or 47,000,000 bu below the recent official returns, and heavy rains were said to have caused damage amounting to 2,500,000 bu in the province of Victoria. A liberal reduction in the acreage in that country for the crop of 1932 is expected as the result of low prices. Advices from Argentina showed cloudy weather in all provinces with high temperatures. Buenos Aires, however, closed ¼@⅜c lower as compared with Saturday. Liverpool was dull and ⅛@⅞d higher, with a lack of demand for cash grain. New crop Argentina for January-February shipment was reported offered at equal to 71⅛c c. i. f. Europe, compared with the close on Liverpool March of 73⅞c.

Slowly the Canadian wheat trade is coming back to normal, and Winnipeg messages expressed the view that the announced abandonment by the pool of its foreign selling agencies would result in a more normal export business. Futures in the local market finished ⅛@⅜c higher.

More Interest in Corn.

With trade in wheat down to the vanishing point there has been considerable increase in local operations in the corn market, and a majority of commission houses are suggesting to customers that speculative operations be confined to the latter grain. Prices held within a range of ⅞@1⅛c with rather erratic fluctuations. Locals sold early, but were forced to cover later and the finish was at net gains of ⅛@⅝c with old December, 73¾c; March, 77⅜c; May, 79¼@79⅝c, and July, 80⅜@80⅝c.

While there was little in the news during the day that attracted much attention the small crop and prospective demand tends to keep a majority of corn traders on the bull side of the market. There is a fairly general belief that the present movement of grain will not last long. Country offerings were small and shipping demand only fair with the spot basis steady to 1c higher. Buenos Aires closed 1@1⅛c lower due to rain and hot weather which is favorable for the development of the new crop.

GEN. FOODS HEAD FINDS IMPROVED SPIRIT IN TRADE

"Business recovery is dependent largely upon a more hopeful state of mind," says C. M. Chester Jr., president of General Foods corporation, who, with Clarence Francis, president of the General Foods Sales company, is making a study of food industry conditions in a group of districts between New York and Denver.

C. M. CHESTER JR. [Blank & Stoller Photo.]

"The feeling seems to be rather general," Mr. Chester states, "that commodity prices have reached bottom in numerous cases and that the tendency is likely to be upward. Many corporations are beginning to buy raw materials in large quantities. The apparent stability in the banking situation is having a good effect.

"General Foods officials expect that their organization will close this year with a showing approximating that of 1929. They plan a substantial increase in the promotion of their company's advertised food products during the next year. Employment is normal or higher in practically all of their factories, and employés have been assured that no reduction in wages or salaries is contemplated."

CROSS CURRENTS AT WORK AMONG CHICAGO STOCKS

Early Weakness Yields to Firmer Market Tone.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The irregular closing quotations in the Chicago list yesterday reflected the cross currents which were at work in the market throughout the day.

The close found most of the active shares selling slightly above Wednesday final prices. Declines were not uncommon, however, in all classes of stocks.

General weakness at the beginning of the day gave way early to a firmer tone which carried throughout the remainder of the session. The selling pressure which had ruled the trend in the previous day's trading eased up and the market was able to benefit from the buying that came in. The professional traders took their cue from the outside speculators and watched for indications of a rallying movement.

Eke Out Small Gains.

Trading centered in Insull Utility and Middle West, and each issue was able to eke out a small gain. In the case of the former the price was bid up to 38½, but last minute selling forced it back below 38. Middle West after a turnover of more than 10,000 shares was a bare fraction above its previous closing price.

Small gains were registered by a number of representative issues including U. S. Gypsum, Bendix, Commonwealth Edison, Auburn and National Standard.

The action of directors of the Gleaner Combine Harvester company in omitting the quarterly dividend of 50 cents on the common stock was no surprise, but the issue was forced down to a new low of 7¼ in anticipation of the action. In late dealing the issue was lifted back to 8. The volume of sales in the issue amounted to about 7,000 shares, the largest in several weeks. That the payment would be passed at yesterday's meeting had been rumored for several days in the financial district.

Other Shares Decline.

Other shares in which volume accounted included Merchants and Manufacturers, Modine and Quakers Oats. Merchants and Manufacturers lost over a point on light trade. The issue has been comparatively steady during the recent selling movement and yesterday's decline was regarded as a recognition of the previous general weakness in the market.

Missouri Kansas Pipe Line drifted to another new low yesterday. It is understood that the company will issue a report on the financial condition giving the effect of recent sale of a 50 per cent interest in its pipe line project.

Chicago Curb Exchange Stocks

Trading went forward at a sharply higher pace on the Chicago curb yesterday, the day's total of 27,063 shares surpassing that of every session since Oct. 17. Commonwealth Edison rights, with a volume of just under 12,000 shares, provided the bulk of the day's trades, responding to a late brisk buying wave to close firm at 12⅝ after marking up a new low at 11⅜ shortly after the opening.

Looking Ahead with Business

Banking representatives told the National Thrift club members at a luncheon in New York yesterday that gain in financial advertising appropriations for 1931 and reports of $28,485,000,000 in savings banks and trust company deposits indicated that depression in business is leveling off and nearing an end. Forty per cent of the country's banks, it was disclosed, have decided to enlarge their appropriations for the new year, 40 per cent will retain last year's figures, and the others will cut expenditures. An average gain of 22½ per cent is the net result of the budget making.

Business of Mid-West Utilities company is showing satisfactory improvement, with more than 650 new customers added in the system during November alone, reports Lon J. Jester, vice president and general manager.

Dow, Jones & Co. reports rail mill operations in the Chicago district have increased operating schedules 10 per cent to close to 40 per cent of capacity. Sheet steel mills are averaging between 40 and 45 per cent of capacity.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company has notified between 750 and 1,000 employés to return to work. The company is slightly increasing its operations.

Increased production at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company factory at Akron was announced together with resumption of employment on a basis of eight hours a day, five days a week.

The number of employés will not be increased at present, but nearly all men on the pay roll with have full time work. They have been working six hour shifts, four days a week.

All money in the United States at the end of November totaled $8,450,616,840, an increase of $105,000,000,000 for the month. Of this amount $4,044,575,223 was in the treasury, $3,508,928,424 in gold coin on bullion.

Retail sales of Lincoln automobiles at the New York automobile show totaled 105 cars, exclusive of sales to dealers for stock and demonstration purposes. The sales were more than three times as great as those reported during the 1929 salon.

The Battle Creek, Mich., plant of the Oliver Farm Equipment company has resumed operations. The company's Charles City, Ia., plant resumed full operations last week and operations have been resumed on a modified scale at the South Bend, Ind., and Springfield, O., plants.

Sheet mills of the Sharon Steel Hoop company and the Empire Steel corporation, in the Youngstown district, have resumed operations after a shutdown of more than ten days.

RUBBER.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—RUBBER—Futures closed easy: December, 9.40c; March, 9.60c; May, 9.80c. New contracts: December, 9.50c; March, 9.71c; May, 9.90c. Spot smoked ribbed, 9½c.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was steadier today with spots advancing 1-32 of a cent to the basis of 3.39c, while later shipments were even higher.

Raw futures were unsettled and following an irregular opening price firmed on increased covering and European demand, but later sagged, with the market closing 1 point lower to 1 point net higher. Approximate sales were 33,450 tons. Prices follow:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
December	1.26	1.29	1.26	1.27	1.28
January	1.31	1.34	1.31	1.31	1.31

Dec., 1931	1.71	1.72	1.68	1.68	1.67

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Cotton goods ruled quiet today, with prices softer on gray and finished lines. Wool goods demand continued very light. Raw silk showed some easing in early cables and remained unchanged here. Silk goods were selling in moderate quantities. Hosiery production was being cut down sharply in some mills. Selling agents for rayon companies were of the opinion that current guaranteed prices represent the minimum for some time to come.

SYNOPSIS.

Richard Chandos and his wife, Leonie, former grand duchess of Reichtenburg, are ruled at their estate near Littal, in Austria, by George Hanbury. A telegram arrives from Marya Salm, countess of Dresden, an expected guest, stating that she dare not come. Prince Paul, ruler of Reichtenburg, had hoped to marry Leonie and was incensed at her marriage to Chandos. Fearing for Marya's safety, because of her friendship for Leonie, Chandos and Hanbury, with their servants, Bell and Rowley, depart for Virgil, capital city of Reichtenburg, where Marya resides. Because of the enmity of the prince they travel under the country in stealth. They drive to the frontier and leave Rowley with the car at a farm and proceed by foot. A peasant, named Ramon, whom they befriend, carries them over the border by a secret path under a waterfall. They reach the home of Countess Dresden, and learn from her that she sent no message and that she plans to drive across Austria that night. Realizing the telegram was a ruse to lure them within the prince's domain, they are preparing to flee with Marya, when the prince arrives. The prince kills the prince and his servants at point of gun and escape in the royal car. They find the border so closely guarded that hope of crossing is abandoned. Chandos remembers Ramon, who lives in the nearby town of Gola. They seek him for aid. He agrees to hide Marya and Carol, her trusted servant, in his house. Chandos and Hanbury join a traveling circus, where they feel fairly safe from discovery. They are planning to leave the circus and return to Gola when Carol reaches them with a car to take them to Austria, across the border, where he says Marya is waiting. They recognize the car as that of the chief of police.

INSTALLMENT XV.

FREEDOM AT A PRICE.

Presently we came to Elsa and George and I sat back while the others handled on the floor.

The precaution seemed to be needless, for the car and its police were plainly known to the sentries and those of both countries merely nodded their heads.

Even at this distance of time I find it hard to express the relief we felt at regaining Austrian soil. For four full days we had lived and moved in a nightmare of apprehension, helplessly stumbling upon ground which we knew very well might any moment give way. Riechtenburg was a cage in which we had been decoyed. Its keepers were men from whom, if we were taken, we could expect no mercy because both we and they were without the law. No unhappy wretch stepping out of the jurisdiction of the Court of Star Chamber ever breathed more freely than we.

"The Countess Dresden," cried George. "Which are her rooms?"

Before the woman could answer—

"Excuse me, sir," said Bell's voice.

"What is this?" said I, for the envelope bore no address.

"I've no idea, sir. Carol put it into my hand and asked me to give it to you."

"My dears:—I am to have a pardon but I could not get one for you. You must never, never enter this country again. One condition of my pardon is that I do not leave Reichtenburg and another that no communication whatever shall pass between you and me. I am sure you will respect this for my sake. Good-by. MARYA."

As he did so I heard the sound of gears being hastily changed.

I took the stairs at one bound but George was first in the street. The car, which had gone about, was thirty yards from the inn and was gathering speed. Carol was standing on the step holding fast to the screen.

"Stop!" yelled George Hanbury. "Stop!"

He turned at that, as though I had aroused him from a stupor, and I cannot forget the tragedy in his face.

"She's bought us off," he said thickly. "Marya's bought us off. She's actually done a deal with the prince or our being seen by the sentries wouldn't have mattered a damn. Grieg's car, Grieg's men. She's done a deal with Grieg."

Sitting in a tiny room at The Broken Egg we sought to piece together what fragments of truth we had.

Marya had made some arrangement to which she knew very well that I should never consent. Carol had, therefore, been taken into her confidence and had been charged to betray us into playing her game. Everything was said to some private arrangement with Grieg, who was without any pretense double crossing the prince. Her statement that she was to be pardoned was, therefore, no more than surmise; only the prince could pardon and the prince so far knew nothing of what had been done. As for the "conditions" of her pardon, these she had clearly invented to keep us out of the country and prevent us from asking questions to which she could make no satisfactory reply.

Of the nature of her bargain with Grieg we dared not think. The man was harsh and brutal and knew no law. More. He had good reason to hate us with all his might. The price he had set upon our freedom must have been very high. . . .

Before twenty minutes were past our plans were made.

I made them and George approved them. What Marya meant to him I had not guessed. But now there was no mistaking the frantic look in his eyes.

I think we both shrank from using the bridle path. That way was too near and was now most likely suspected as one which lawbreakers took. Besides, we could not take it except by night and that would mean wasting time, for darkness was three hours off. What was more, that path would lead us into the danger zone. If we were to come to Vigil—and that, of course, was our aim—we must not attempt to traverse the region through which we had fled. Now, Reichtenburg is only a little country, some half the size of Ireland, or thereabouts. By using the Rolls, therefore, in a very few hours we could reach the western frontier without leaving Austrian soil. As I have said, that border would be easy to cross, and since it was the nearest from Littal, it was not likely that, if we were still to be sought for, Vigil should be sought for there. That it lay far from Vigil could not be helped. At least we were sure we could cross it, while of the southern border we knew nothing at all.

I have said we were bound for Vigil. Our one idea was to get into touch with the countess and so with Grieg. Now that she had struck some bargain with the fellow was likely to allow her to go to her house. The bargain, whatever it was, must depend on the countess' health and this had been put in peril by what she had undergone. And so he would send her home. The prince might rave about treason but Grieg would not care for that. The man knew too much. If he wished to preserve the countess the countess would have to be preserved.

Here I may say that so far as appearance was concerned we were much more fit for our venture than we had been five days before. Our linen was filthy, we had not shaved for four days, and our heavy work with the horses had gone far to ruin our clothes. I do not pretend that we could have passed inspection but it was perfectly clear that we could pass in a crowd.

The first thing, then, to be done was to reach the car. To this end we hired a cab and were driven up to the farm.

Rowley's relief to see us was overwhelming. Between fear for us and chagrin the poor man was at his wit's end. Three nights running he had crossed the bridle path and had actually tracked us to the side of the mountain stream only to return more troubled than he had set out and more than ever uncertain what he should do. He had had no razor and stood in as sorry a plight as we, for, to pass the time, he had been tending swine and helping to rights a byre which was very foul.

The state decided me to take him with us and to send Bell back to Littal to give Leonie our news. This, when we had been brought to the car we meant to cross, for events had shown that to keep a car in waiting was an unprofitable precaution and that though, as luck would have it, we were glad of the car, this was a chance in a thousand, which would not occur again.

Good Fellow Dance Tonight at Drake Hotel

Sorority Girls Hostesses; Radio Stars Going.

BY ROBERTA NANGLE.

Tonight's the night to don your gladdest rags and join the Good Fellows in one of the gayest benefit dances of the season. The place is the Drake hotel and the time is 9 o'clock or as soon afterwards as you can get there.

The attractions include dancing to the sublimated jazz of Clyde McCoy's orchestra and songs, stories, and pleasant nonsense by some of the brightest stars of W-G-N. The entire proceeds will go to THE TRIBUNE Good Fellow fund for needy families.

The girls of Zeta Sigma Psi sorority, headed by their president, Miss Mary Enright of 6219 Ingleside avenue, are sponsoring the event, which was made possible through the generosity of John B. Drake. Mr. Drake is contributing the use of the hotel's main dining room and Avenue of Palms.

The use of the orchestra is being donated jointly by the Drake hotel and the Kin-a-Way productions.

The entertainment is to be provided by Herr Louie and the Weasel and by Tom, Dick, and Harry of W-G-N, who have promised to be on hand just as soon as they've concluded their broadcasts at THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the top floor of the Drake.

Mr. Drake and Miss Enright of Zeta Sigma Psi are hoping that the affair will enrich the Good Fellow fund by something like $3,000. Tickets are only $2 per person and may be had either at the Drake or at the Kin-a-Way offices at 64 West Randolph street.

The entire active membership of the sorority of 200 girls has been conducting the ticket sale under an executive committee including Miss Enright, Miss Lora Kinally of 29 West Garfield boulevard, Miss Alice Davenport of 5941 Ohio street, Miss Irma Thompson of 158 North Mason avenue, and Miss Helen Seldhake of 7300 Yates avenue. The dance is to be formal.

Washington Bishop Will Speak Here Friday Night

The Rt. Rev. James E. Freeman, Episcopal bishop of Washington, D. C., and builder of the national cathedral, and former Senator George Wharton Pepper of Pennsylvania will be principal speakers at a dinner to be given Friday night at the Drake hotel. The addresses will tell of the work of the national cathedral organization.

LEWIS TO RECEIVE NOBEL PRIZE FROM THE KING OF SWEDEN

The red haired American author of "Babbitt" and "Main Street," will receive from the hands of King Gustav of Sweden the literature award at the Stockholm concert house in the afternoon. In addition to the American novelist, the other winners will attend the ceremony. Members of the Swedish academy, the Swedish Academy of Science, the Carolinian Medical institute, the royal family, the diplomatic corps, and high government officials will be present.

Lewis will be the last to receive the embossed diploma and the specially engraved check for $46,350. He will be introduced by Dr. Erik Axel Karlfeldt, permanent secretary of the Swedish academy and one of Sweden's foremost poets. Lewis arrived from Gothenburg this afternoon with his wife and went to the American legation for dinner.

The physics prize will then be awarded to Sir Chandrasekhara Venkata Raman of Calcutta, India, after an address by Prof. Henning Pleijel of the Stockholm university, chairman of the Nobel prize committee for physics of the Swedish Academy of Science.

There will be a welcoming address by Gov. Hjalmar Hammarskjold of Upsala, also a member of the Swedish academy and president of the Nobel foundation.

Next Prof. Hans Fischer of Munich will receive the chemistry prize, following a speech by Prof. Henrik Soderbaum, chairman of the prize committee for chemistry of the Academy of Science. Dr. Landsteiner will then be presented with the medicine award, Prof. Gunnar Hedren, president of the Carolinian institute and chairman of the prize committee for medicine, making an address.

U. of C. Alumnae.

The Chicago alumnæ of the University of Chicago will hold its annual dinner meeting this evening at Mallard's. Dr. Faye-Cooper Cole will give an illustrated lecture on "Rediscovering Illinois."

Wife Christens Liner Named for President

Owner Hails Steamer as Prosperity Omen.

Newport News, Va., Dec. 9.—(AP)—Amid cheers from a distinguished assemblage and the scream of harbor craft, the President Hoover slipped gracefully down the ways here today to take its place in the American merchant marine.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the President, smashed a bottle of brine, collected from the seven seas, against the prow to start the huge vessel toward the waters of the James river.

R. Stanley Dollar, president of the Dollar Steamship lines, owners of the vessel, and Mrs. Dollar stood with Mrs. Hoover on the launching platform. The vessel is the largest merchant vessel built in an American shipyard, it is said.

"In giving the President Hoover to world commerce we feel that we not only show confidence in our nation's support of the American merchant marine, but confidence in business conditions," Mr. Dollar said.

"This is the first of four large liners to be built by the Dollar company within the next few years. Such is our answer to rumors of business depression."

Miss Suzanne Pollard, official hostess of Virginia and Gov. Pollard, Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr., and little Herbert Hoover III., were other members of the official launching party.

The great ship, with an overall length of 653 feet and of 33,800 tons displacement, representing an investment of eight million dollars, was gayly decorated in patriotic colors.

Josephine Forrester Wins Spelling Test; 875 Words in 9 Hours

Pana, Ill., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Spelling correctly 875 words in the Christain county grade schools contest, after nine hours on the floor, Josephine Forrester, 12 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Forrester of Harvel, will represent that county in the state contest at Springfield Dec. 29. Perhaps she also set a new national and state record. Jack Stokes of Taylorville was second. He spelled 874 correctly, failing on "narrative."

MR. STOCK PRESENTS LECTURE ON MUSIC WITHOUT ANY WORDS

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Quite the most interesting incident in yesterday afternoon's concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra was a lesson in the appreciation of music by Mr. Stock which the audience did not know it was to get.

It consisted in presenting the Chausson symphony in B flat and following it immediately by Honegger's "Pacific (231)." After the magnificent coloring, the gorgeous melody of the first, the contrast with the second was unmistakable. The school of composition of which Honegger is one of the representatives has evidently come to the end of its sessions. What it had to give to the world has been given, and it took only a few seasons of rest to prove that the gift was of comparatively little importance. Comparison of these two works showed all over again that it makes little difference what idiom a composer chooses, but there is a tremendous difference in whether or not he has something to say.

Martha Baird, pianist, was the soloist, playing the Mozart D minor concerto. First impressions of the performance is that a piece so often used or abused by students and so seldom put into public hearing by mature artists is a welcome number on a symphony program. So, if Miss Baird did not invariably make use of the Mozart tempo or the Mozart traditions, she at least disclosed the possession of fluent, highly trained fingers and a certain amount of personal effect in her playing.

Mr. Stock opened the program with Cherubini's "Anacreon" overture, and, to the great joy of the audience, closed it with the dances from Borodin's "Prince Igor."

Allen Spencer's piano recital in the Crystal room of the Great Northern hotel last night was the performance of a classicist, the term applying less to his choice of program than his manner with it. For though he dealt chiefly with music of other generations, Telemann [his own arrangement], Scarlatti, and Philip Emanuel Bach, Beethoven, Schumann, Brahms, and Liszt, leaving such modernists as O'Donnell and D'Albert to the end of the program, his habit of playing was that urgently seeking the intention of the composer as expressed in notes and directions, leaving, with what seemed in certain cases extreme modesty, his own personal views of the situation out of it. Mr. Spencer is an authoritative player, with the authority that arises from careful, intelligent study, wherefore it was a pleasure to observe that he is also a popular one.

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Ethel Barrymore's Broadway engagement in "Scarlet Sister Mary" will be terminated next Saturday night after a run of less than three weeks.

"My friends in New York are determined not to come to see me in blackface," Miss Barrymore said, explaining the short run of the Negro drama in which she stars and her daughter, Ethel Barrymore Colt, made her debut.

"That is all right, but I believe in this play and I'm going to take it to some cities on tour which have expressed a desire to see me in it."

The play will go to Boston Christmas week. A dramatization of Julia Peterkin's Pulitzer novel of 1929 about the Gullah Negroes, it opened in Columbus, O., on Sept. 25 and played a lucrative road engagement before opening in New York two weeks ago tonight.

Yankee Desire for Condensed Theories Terror to Einstein

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The trepidation with which Dr. Albert Einstein looks forward to his arrival in New York Thursday on the liner Belgenland is founded on his recollections of a previous visit, an acquaintance of the German scientist related today.

Prof. Einstein came to New York in 1921 as a guest of the Palestine Foundation fund, shortly after his theory of relativity had made him a figure of world interest.

His wife prevailed on him to meet newspaper men through an interpreter. But when somebody asked the physicist to "sum up in a sentence your theory of relativity" he threw up his hands and exclaimed: "Himmel! I have been trying for years to put it into one book apd have not succeeded."

In his hotel room Dr. Einstein was pestered by the curious from morning to midnight.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

WHEN an art theater feels that its faithful audience deserves a little relaxation, it can become amazingly light minded and feather headed. And so we now find on the pleasantly decorated stage of the Goodman, friskily acted by the improved company of the new régime, Noel Coward's "Hay Fever"—a farcical comedy eminently fitted for performances by schools, colleges and amateur dramatic clubs.

It is offered, no doubt, as a piece of natty nonsense, and was accepted as such by the first nighters, who laughed in the most utter abandonment that the austere precincts of the Goodman have witnessed. I found myself thinking, however, that there is no need to endow playhouses and conduct subscription drives, and beat the bass drum for the drama's salvation, if plays like this are to be the end-product. The proper place for "Hay Fever" is the dramatic class at Senn High school or the little theater movement in Hinsdale.

Mr. Coward, of course, is a "smart" young man with a slick London veneer, and he can rattle off the sort of dialogue that passes as brilliant among the circulations of the fashion magazines. At the curtain's rise a British lad, who should have been out winning battles on the playing fields of Eton or Harrow, uses the phrase "au fond" in a casual remark to his sister; and then you know that Mr. Coward has delicately kinked his little finger and set out to dazzle the suburbs with his literary floss.

This is one of those week-end plays, traditional for the British drama in its lighter moments—a high jinks from Saturday afternoon to Monday morning. Mamma is a retired actress, papa is a practicing novelist, and their son and daughter represent the sophisticated younger set now much in evidence before the footlights and between book covers. They form an eccentric gang of artistic temperaments, and their guests—one for each of the family—find them decidedly bewildering.

The plot revolves around mamma, always a better actress off than on, who insists upon theatricalizing and burlesquing the incidents of everyday life. The thin, eccentric story is reminiscent of "Sanger's Circus," in that fairly well dated novel called "The Constant Nymph."

"Hay Fever" distils little of the essence of true humor. But it bears down heavily upon the element of travesty, and thus evokes laughter. Veteran comediennes, out for a minor lark, find such rôles as the hifalutin ex-actress in this piece a means of exercising their skill with good results at the box office; and usually apologize, in private, for their lapse into the utterly frivolous. Marie Tempest has acted "Hay Fever" in London and Laura Hope Crews in New York. Margaret Wycherly appears with the Goodman company, as a guest member, in the central character, and handles it with skill but without the bounce and comic bravura that it demands. She, too, is a veteran—but not as a farcical comedienne.

Two others make their debut as regulars in the company—Kent Smith as a strapping young gentleman, Margaret Love as the old family retainer. They round out a repertory group which appears to be capable of almost anything. The performance, on the whole, is deft and effective.

Miss Krug and Mr. Brenton pair neatly as the impertinent minors of the family, Ellen Root and Florence Williams are attractive as guests of contrasted types, Earl MacDonald plays papa the novelist with assurance, and Harry Mervis is at home in the rôle of a cautious diplomat.

No explanation, reason, or cue for the title is given in the text. Maybe Mr. Coward wrote the play during an attack of hay fever. Or perhaps he intended to convey the idea this opuscule of his may easily be sneezed at.

Senators Argue Does U. S. Make the Best Nurse?

Or Shall States Remain in the Nursery?

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Who takes better care of the baby, the federal government at Washington or the sovereign states back home?

Club women of the land seem to think that the federal government is the better nurse, while the doctors of the nation vote for the individual states. Both groups are interested in the Jones maternity and infancy bill, known more informally as the famous baby bill, which today engaged the masculine attention of the United States senate.

Senator Wesley L. Jones [Rep., Wash.] thinks that the now lapsed Sheppard-Towner bill, with its federal grants to states for maternity and infancy work, made such a good seven years' job of it that he has drafted and given his name to a similar new bill. And up in the gallery Miss Grace Abbott, head of the children's bureau which administered the old bill, smiled down encouragement to him. So did Miss Marguerite Wells, acting president of the National League of Women Voters, and a score of other women representatives of national organizations.

But Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] believes that these seven years from 1922 to 1929 were such lean ones that they produced, so far as the federal bureau was concerned, not one new fact and not one new method with regard to maternity and infancy hygiene. So he wants the federal government to get out of the business of telling the states how to bring up their babies.

He got his encouragement from a sheaf of telegrams and a bundle of letters which he had received from representatives of the American Medical association and other medical groups.

Senator Bingham has two big objections to this legislation: "It is a bribe to the several states to make them accept the decisions of a bureaucracy at Washington regarding the health of their children"; and "it doesn't do what it proposes to do, namely, cut down the maternity and infant mortality."

On the first point, he said, accepting federal aid for health problems is subversive to our dual form of government. The million dollars given by the government is really the purchase price for the surrender of state's rights. If this dictation in the method of handling infant health problems is permitted it will be an easy step to dictation in adult health problems, and from there there may be an endless extension to all manner of personal activities."

Arguing his second point, that the Sheppard-Towner bill did not accelerate the decline in infant mortality and in some cases actually slowed up that decline, he produced a long list of statistics.

He showed, for instance, that between 1915 and 1921 the infant mortality rate dropped 24 points throughout the country, while between 1922 and 1929, when the bill was in effect, it dropped but 8 points.

Then he compared the record of Illinois, one of the few states which refused federal aid, and neighboring Indiana, which took the aid and the advice. In the seven years 1922 to 1929 Illinois' infant death rate dropped 15 points, from 76 to 61, while Indiana's rate dropped but 7 points, from 71 to 64.

"These two states have similar climates, similar racial complexions; it is fair to assume they have similar infant problems. Yet the state that handled its problems with its own agencies progressed far more than the state that let the federal government come in and tell it what to do."

Similarly, his figures showed that the District of Columbia, refusing federal grants, had decreased her rate 14 points in the seven years, while adjacent Virginia, accepting the grant, had seen her rate go up 2 points.

Tomorrow Senator James J. Davis [Rep., Pa.] is expected to make his maiden senatorial speech in favor of the bill and the bureau. As former secretary of labor he had jurisdiction over the children's bureau, and it was he, during the recent White House conference on child health and protection, who helped Miss Abbott fight her battle with Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming, head of the public health service, who wanted to transfer all child health activities away from the bureau and into his service.

America Still Acts as Child, Speaker Says

America's judgment still is immature regarding the relative worth of achievements, Dr. Sachar said. He cited tree sitters, endurance airplane flights over air fields, and football as things given too much attention.

"We work in gusts of enthusiasm. Remember the rage of Coueism? Then of behaviorism? After Watson a whole psychological school followed suit. Then came the crossword puzzle craze. We recently have been afflicted with miniature golf. Surely there is something wrong where an entire nation does the same thing at the same time," he said.

"In England a man may be cultured and be prominent in politics. Not so in America. Every man who aspires to politics has to give the public a song and dance act, go around kissing babies, and making a fool of himself.

"It is heart sickening to find what the best of the American youth in colleges is interested in. It seems to me natural that young people should be interested in something serious, at least part of the time, but are they? "No; they can discuss nothing but dates and clothes. If a student makes Phi Beta Kappa, he or she is ashamed of it and says, 'Well, I didn't crack a book.' It is thought a disgrace to study."

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, who were at the Savoy-Plaza, have returned to their home in East Seventy-third street. Mrs. Gibson's brother-in-law, Viscount Astor, remains at the hotel.

Mrs. Walter Phelps Bliss will introduce her daughter, Miss Priscilla B. Bliss, at a supper-dance on Dec. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Stone will give a dinner-dance on Dec. 27 at Sherry's for Miss Justine Allen, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Winthrop Allen.

Mrs. Harold Brown has returned to Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Wood will sail on Friday on the Ile de France.

Cornell College, Iowa, Will Receive $145,000

Mount Vernon, Ia., Dec. 9.—(AP)—A gift of $100,000 for the endowment fund of Cornell college has been announced by Dr. H. J. Burgstahler, president. The name of the donor was not made public. Dr. Burgstahler also announced that to the gift would be added $45,000 by the general education board of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Newer Art Bestows Colorful Gifts Upon Unsuspecting Greeks

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The latest exhibition to open at the Arts club is one of paintings by Giorgio De Chirico. Of all the modernists who have brought modernism into repute, Chirico is, to my mind, the least important. Surely he is the least inspired and the least convincing. He freights his convases with weighty bodies, whips the lash of a heavy imagination across their surfaces and indulges in pyrotechnics with color so solid it could sink a liner.

There is in the exhibit one picture which skirts the humanities. The "Utopian Derisives" is the gallant escape of a wardrobe and other domestic furniture upon a raft headed for places remote where neither dustcloth nor mop may interrupt the frolicsome gambols of the recently rejuvenated objects. It has humor, of a sort. But what of the "Surrealistic Houses" with octopus arms of red coiling from low windows? What of the Roman gladiators of gigantic size and the Roman steeds of bulky proportions? What of the little zebra with its pathetic coat of brilliant hue?

What of the "Greek Girl"? If she is Greek then may Indians be French. The only detail that gives the title any truth is the detail of the white robe in which the painter has encased the plump body of this extremely modern flapper, common, pert, blonde and of Scandinavian descent. The exhibit will remain on view to Dec. 30.

U. of C. Students to Honor Prof. Tufts, U. C., Tonight

Prof. James Hayden Tufts, who is retiring from the University of Chicago after 38 years as a member of the department of philosophy, will be honored tonight by students at a farewell dinner in the Flamingo hotel.

Prof. Tufts came to the university at the time of its founding in 1892 and has held many positions of responsibility, including that of acting president of the university during the interval between the administrations of Presidents Burton and Mason in 1925.

Sixty present and former students will attend the dinner tonight. Prof. Tufts leaves next week to make his home in Santa Barbara, Cal.

When Doctors Say So They Must Be Good

UNGUENTINE RECTAL CONES

This Hemorrhoid Treatment Quickly Banishes All Distress

Doctors have proven to their own satisfaction that pile trouble swiftly vanishes when UNGUENTINE RECTAL CONES are used. That's the reason they've prescribed them for their own patients for over 30 years.

The relief they bring is instant. But that's not all. In a very few days the swelling disappears—irritation and inflammation no longer make your life miserable. Finally, your trouble is gone.

So put your faith in UNGUENTINE RECTAL CONES. They're but 75c a box. And when you can get such blissful relief and certain satisfaction, why wait? Ask your druggist—he knows. Every drugstore in America carries them. The Norwich Pharmacal Co., Norwich, N.Y.

Italian Senate Votes 12% Salary Cut for Members

ROME, Dec. 9.—(AP)—The Italian senate today reduced its own salaries by 12 per cent per member this afternoon and voted a similar cut in the salaries of senate clerks. Among important measures to be considered at this session are the commercial accord with the soviet government, Foreign Minister Grandi's report on the Young plan and the Hague financial conference, and several measures designed to relieve economic distress in industry and agriculture.

Women's Dresses Sell for 7 Cents Each in New York

New York, Dec. 9.—(AP)—A record low of 7 cents apiece for 100 women's dresses was established today at the quarterly sale of unclaimed articles conducted by the postoffice department. The greatest demand was for clothing. Items like "seven pheasant and one muskrat skins" were knocked down for $1. A large crate of toys, drums, puzzles, and dolls went for $16 to an early Christmas shopper. There were false teeth, greeting cards, corsets, and saxophones.

Society Boosts Bazaars to Aid Varied Charities

BY THALIA

SOCIETY beamed with beneficence all day yesterday. It did—actually—thereby proving that bazaars can be as gay as dances, and that there is a great deal of truth in the idea that this business of giving is a cheerful and cheering sort of occupation.

There were as many stylish motors drawn up in front of 700 North Michigan avenue yesterday morning as though the Christmas sale of pretty painted toys, made by the crippled children of the Convalescent home at Fries Crossing, were a reception for royalty. I daresay Mrs. William J. Chalmers greeted as many fashionable customers as she does guests at her most elegant parties. She sold Mrs. Gellu Armour on the idea of letting the children make a miniature village, patterned after an antique one that she (Mrs. Armour) saw in Nürnberg, Germany, and performed other prodigious feats of salesmanship. She looked slightly Napoleonic in a long black cape, and seemed to be everywhere at once showing off the wares. Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe had promised to donate $5 for every new customer who made a purchase, so there was spirited service on the part of the other women assisting Mrs. Chalmers.

Luncheon Sunday for Count from London.

Mrs. Schweppe is, by the way, to give a Sunday luncheon at her Lake Forest residence for Lady Ludlow of London, who arrives this morning to be Mrs. Chalmers' guest. Lady Ludlow owns what are probably the finest gardens in the entire British isle, and it's only fitting that she should see Chicago's country attractions.

A few blocks north of Mrs. Chalmers' sale the Grant hospital bazaar was taking place at the Drake hotel. The ballroom was a pale hued bower of lovely handwork, and the women of the auxiliary were not having a hard time dispensing their collection. I saw Mrs. John J. Mitchell looking over the supply of Christmas wrappings, and Mrs. Clifford Templeton was modeling a lovely lounging pajama outfit of pale pink and blue.

In the afternoon there was Mrs. William A. Yager's tea and linen shower for the Passavant hospital at the Casino. Mrs. Yager confessed that she had been slightly dubious as to whether people would come when they were asked to bring a present, but her fears were apparently unfounded. There were three long tables piled high with sheets, pillow cases, and towels. Mrs. George Rasmussen's contribution was the most stupendous. It seemed to me. Her chauffeur accompanied her with an enormous box containing 30 dozen towels. And Mrs. John Curtis brought a set of sheets and pillow cases already marked with "Passavant Memorial Hospital" in fine embroidery.

Magical Couple Trains Children That Way.

From parlor prestidigitation to partial professionalism sums up, in a mouthful, the career of a young Hinsdale couple, Fritz and Peggy McElhone. They've been astounding their friends with magic feats for several years, wrote a book last year on "Magical Mysteries," and have even trained their youngsters, Fifi and Frisie, in the intricacies of mystification.

This afternoon and tonight they are having a regular show at the Hinsdale theater, offering "music, fun, mystery, Ol' Man River" at depression prices, with the John V. Hasbrooks assisting, and Walter M. Sheldon serving as general manager.

Had I the time and a commutation ticket to Hinsdale, it would be certainly worth the trip to see Mrs. McElhone do the multiplying billiard balls trick or the alphabetical sugar, and to see the McElhone youngsters, 4 and 7 years old, make coins, thimbles, and eggs appear and disappear while their father magnetizes wands, tears dollar bills in two, and produces all sorts of things out of nothing.

If the Chicago Yale men don't give Luther B. Hammond Jr. a bright shiny medal or a large red apple for his strenuous efforts on behalf of the Yale Glee club's appearance at Orchestra hall on the evening of the 24, they don't appreciate industry when they see it. He's been interesting high school choruses, choral clubs, and other groups engaged in mass singing, and is, in general, putting more effort into the managing of the affair than has ever been done before. The men in the club are going in the debut ball for Ghita Watson and Fayette Smith after their concert.

Dr. Johnson Will Tell Where West Begins.

"Provincialism, or Where Does the West Really Begin," which is the subject on which Dr. Burges Johnson of Syracuse university is to speak at the Chicago Vassar club dinner at the Blackstone next Monday evening.

BEAUTY AND FASHION DEMAND A FACE POWDER FOR EACH SKIN TYPE

"Stylists agree that a beauty-wise woman is fashion-wise, too, when she uses a powder made for her own skin-type," says Peggy Martin, famous beauty expert. That's why Plough has created three new face powders—one for oily skin, one for dry skin, one for normal skin. And that's why your own Plough powder makes you look your loveliest—and your most stylish! Small blemishes are instantly concealed by this fine fragrant powder—the natural beauty of your skin is instantly enhanced—your complexion attains marvelous new radiance and bloom—and keeps it for hours!

Plough's Three Face Powders come in white, flesh, pink, brunette and sun-tan shades. Fine quality, reasonably priced wherever beauty creations are sold.

REHEARSE PLAY FOR CHARITY

The Seventh Ward players, directed by Mrs. George E. Q. Johnson, had a dress rehearsal last night of the show that they will present Friday night at the Eighth Street theater for the benefit of the Christmas basket fund of that ward. The name of the play is "The Command Performance," and those in the picture are Miss Emily Rost as Princess Katherine and Gerald B. Carrick as Prince Alexis.

reminds me, for some reason or other, of the newcomer to Chicago who was advised by an older woman, who supposedly knew the social regime here, never to exhibit the least signs of intelligence. "My dear," she said, "people won't like you at all if they think you have a brain."

December 9 in future years will mean birthday parties for Andrew Whitbeck Aishton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Aishton of Winnetka, born yesterday at the Evanston hospital, and also for the son of Mr. and Mrs. William I. Howland of Evanston. Mrs. Howland was Miss Elizabeth Hazlehurst and Mrs. Ashton was Miss Martha Kelsey before her marriage.

A perfect backhand stroke with a tennis racket means more to Theodosia Smith than great proficiency on the ballroom floor, to be sure, but nevertheless she has been induced to come on from California for the party season. She's with Betty Williamson now, and later on will visit brother and sister-in-law, Wilbur and Edwina Smith, in Lake Forest for several weeks. Theo and her mother, Mrs. Theodore White Smith, have taken a house in Pasadena, Cal., where tennis courts and players are plentiful.

Would you be interested to know that . . . the idea for the Junior league's children's Chauve Souris, to open at the Selwyn theater on Saturday morning was conceived by a group of leaguers who thought that the children might like to see a play that didn't necessarily point a moral as almost all the previous plays have? . . . That Mrs. Ira Nelson Morris has taken an apartment at Claridge's in London? . . . That Jimmy Simpson Jr. has been hunting in England with the Quorn and plans to do some steeplechasing? . . . That the Watterson Rothackers, former Chicagoans now living in Beverly Hills, Cal., and Miss Virginia Rothacker have been at the Drake hotel? . . . and that Mrs. LeRoy Kramer and Miss Helen Herndon Smith are giving a luncheon for Betty Offield at the Woman's Athletic club today?

Have you been invited to . . . the tea Mrs. Samuel Gale Taylor is giving at the Taylor residence at 73 East Division street this coming Saturday afternoon? . . . Miss Laura Jacoby's wedding reception on Dec. 17 at the Ambassador following her marriage to Theophilus Noel II. of Oak Park (the wedding service is to be at the St. James cathedral chapel for only the families and intimate friends)? . . . Another tea Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jaques of 6294 Kenmore avenue and their daughters, Miss Annie Ri Jaques and Miss Lois, are to give at the Drake on Dec. 27? . . .

The premiere of Hamilton Forrest's "Camille," with Mary Garden, tonight at the Civic Opera house promises to be one of the high lights of the season. The regular Wednesday night boxholders are all giving dinner parties before the opera and Miss Peggy Hambleton and Arthur Meeker Jr. are to be hosts at a large party at the Electric club following the performance.

Everybody will be asking Ellen Root where she got the lovely black crepe dress with the draped neckline and splashy bow of turquoise down the back that she wears in the second act of Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" that opened at the Goodman theater last night. The first night audience was a fashionable one, and enthusiastic, too. Present were the habitual first nighters, and besides, Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Arthur Aldis, Mrs. Charles Chadwick, the Fletcher Durbins, Mrs. Lloyd Laflin, Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott Jenkins, and many others.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 9.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover were dinner guests of Vice President Curtis tonight in the Chinese room of the Mayflower hotel. The Hoovers will be given dinners by each member of the cabinet, on Tuesday evenings. The first will be given by Secretary and Mrs. Stimson the first Tuesday in January.

The Vice President's invitations were sent out some weeks ago and were in his name only. His sister, Mrs. Gann, was his hostess at dinner, however. The guests were seated at a large oval table decorated with low mounds of pink roses, pink candles and other accessories which carried out the color scheme of pink and white. The coffee was served in the Pan-American room of the hotel, after which the company returned to the Chinese room and enjoyed Will Rogers' moving picture of "Lightnin'."

Mrs. Hoover returned this afternoon from Newport News, where she went to christen the new cruiser, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Santa Claus was given a stern order to "move on" today through a temporary injunction issued by Justice Bennett, restraining Gamage's department store from displaying an ingenious electric sign, because crowds gathered about it and hampered traffic. The sign is a huge winter village scene of brilliant lights, showing old St. Nick dropping toys from his bag. Counsel for the store pleaded that the sign be allowed to remain until the hearing is resumed on Friday.

"No," the judge roared. "You cannot hold entertainments in the streets without collecting crowds. I cannot understand how the police allow it."

The action was brought by Nathaniel Burstein, a furrier, who signed an affidavit that crowds watching the display on the store front destroyed 50 per cent of his business. Gamage's had established its own traffic force to keep the crowds moving after they had seen the sign, and even placed watchers in front of Burstein's shop to keep the entrance cleared, but the furrier wanted the sign stopped.

Society at the Opera

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Clow Jr. had as guests Mr. and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham, Mrs. William Mitchell Blair, Harry Channon, and Alfred Codman. In the Frank G. Logan box Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Logan had their daughter, Phoebe; her fiancé, Joseph B. Terbell Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Morrill.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Reynolds had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cutten and Mr. and Mrs. Arch Anderson. Frederick Woodward, vice president of the University of Chicago, Mrs. Woodward, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Swift were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Swift.

Mr. and Mrs. Moissayé Boguslawski and Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Godehn were with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Caldwell in their box in the lower tier. In the Walter H. Wilson box were Mr. Wilson, Miss Irene Wilson, Mrs. Samuel Insull, and Mr. and Mrs. Secor Cunningham.

Mrs. John T. Pirie, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Winter, and Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Shaw were guests of the Frederick H. Rawsons. In the James Simpson box Mrs. Americus Callahan was hostess to Miss Hortense Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Stark, Charles Sneed Williams, and Harry Lee Williams. Mrs. Louis E. Yager had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cantwell Jr. and Mrs. Ward Potter.

Son for Michael Arlen.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 9.—A son was born today to Mrs. Michael Arlen, wife of the novelist, who was Countess Atalanta Mercati, daughter of a Greek court figure before she was married in 1928.

World's Fair Plans Made by Chicago Church Federation

The reform leaders of the Chicago Church federation hereafter will be known as the commission on civic relations. Prior to the meeting of the federation trustees yesterday at the Hotel La Salle, the reform wing had been known as the political action commission, headed by the Rev. Philip Yarrow of the Illinois Vigilance association.

Shortly after the killing of Alfred Lingle the political action commission organized a crime inquiry committee which interviewed several politicians and public officials. The committee report attributed the growth of gang activities to gambling and not to prohibition.

Plans were discussed yesterday to organize Chicago church work to be of greatest service to World's Fair visitors in 1933. Nine recommendations were adopted after their presentation by the commission on evangelism, covering the following:

High Court to Decide if Singing Is Art or Industry

New York, Dec. 9.—[Special.]—The Court of Appeals will be asked next week to decide whether the teaching of singing should be classified as a business or as a profession, it was learned today. An appeal will be made from the decision of Magistrate Dreyer finding Wagner S. Kelly, known professionally as Wagner Swayne Harris, guilty of violating the zoning law by giving singing lessons in his home in West 78th street. The zoning law prohibits the carrying on of any business, trade, or industry in a residential district.

EVERY CAN of Hills Bros Coffee proves the superiority of the way it is roasted

Light, fluffy biscuits owe their goodness to combining the ingredients gradually—a little at a time. By roasting their famous blend a few pounds at a time, Hills Bros. produce a flavor such as no other coffee has.

A FEW POUNDS at a time—never in bulk. That's the flavor secret of Hills Bros.' patented, continuous process—Controlled Roasting. No other method can secure such an even roast nor develop such a delicious flavor.

When you buy Hills Bros. Coffee the flavor is exactly the same as when it comes from the roasters. By Hills Bros.' vacuum packing process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is completely removed from the can and kept out. No so-called air-tight can will keep coffee fresh.

Remember this!

Try Hills Bros. Coffee and enjoy the goodness developed by Controlled Roasting and protected by the vacuum pack. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arab on the can.

Avoid Half-Cured Colds!

Half-cured colds are a source of great danger! Many a case of Flu grows out of them. When you catch cold take steps to get it out of your system quickly and cleanly. That calls for something more than your old-fashioned cold "cures." It calls for a treatment such as McKesson's Darol. Darol acts with double speed and effectiveness. Change the system from an acid condition to alkaline condition, in which cold and grippe germs do not thrive. Two tablets every three hours with a full glass of water will usually stop a cold in 6 hours and drive it completely out of the system in 12. No bad effects on heart or stomach. Equally effective for headaches and the pains of neuralgia and neuritis. Get Darol at all McKesson Service Druggists and other independent drug stores with guarantee of satisfaction or money back. SOME WOMEN ALWAYS ATTRACT

You want to be beautiful. You want the tireless energy, fresh complexion and pep of youth. Then let Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help free your system of the poisons caused by clogged bowels and torpid liver.

For 20 years, men and women suffering from stomach troubles, pimples, listlessness and headaches have taken Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a successful substitute for calomel, a compound of vegetable ingredients, known by their olive color. They act gently upon the bowels without griping. They help cleanse the system and tone up the liver.

If you value youth and its many gifts, take Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets nightly. How much better you will feel—and look. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Your Body and Mind Can't Thrive on the Air Starvation Diet

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

When topics of discussion run low there's always the one about woman's inadequate winter clothing to fall back upon. Women haven't died off any faster of recent years for their scantier protection against the winter blasts. Having been given a decade or more test years physicians now are stoutly proclaiming the advantages of not bundling up heavily for an outdoor stroll. As one authority states:

"Physicians are more and more coming to feel that the less clothing one wears without becoming chilled or uncomfortable the better one is prepared to meet the changes of weather."

A friend on return last winter from Switzerland told about visiting the Rollier institute at Leysin, where the children go without clothing throughout the entire year, spending most of their day out of doors. To sun and cold they become inured. They romp about in the snow with practically nothing on. The same institute is pointed to in a health periodical note to show the great capacity of the human body for acclimating itself to weather changes.

A health periodical's object in reviving the subject of clothing at the moment is to remind us of our common and serious fault of maintaining too high temperatures in living quarters and in places of employment. We have control over the former if not the latter.

School tests prove that children do better work and have less sickness in a temperature ranging from 64 to 68 F., which should give the home woman an idea of what her thermometer might register to her better physical and mental state. Nothing is worse for body and mind than the air starvation diet it is so often put on by women at home. They grow lethargic, are easily addicted to blues, and more easily subject to beauty disfiguring colds and sniffles when they do go outdoors.

What the majority of us women need in the cold season is to be forced outdoors at the point of a gun, if necessary, just to keep up the morale of the home and the individual morale. There's nothing like a good stiff breeze to blow your troubles into kingdom come.

Parisiennes Choose Smart Fur Jackets

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—The new short fur jackets have already spread like wild-fire over France, America, and other nontropical countries. Smart women like them because they are more youthful in effect than long fur coats and also a whole lot easier on the physique, as well as on the pocketbook. Who has not suffered from that tired feeling after a day of packing around goodness knows how many pounds of fur!

And yet a fur coat is absolutely indispensable to winter comfort, so the cunning couturiers invented the Tom Thumb fur coat and won the gratitude of the entire world—for friend husband also appreciates the difference in price between ermine to the heels and the little ermine jackets that are being worn by the smartest Parisiennes with their evening frocks this winter.

The two most successful fur daytime jackets of the season are shown above. You will notice that they are both long enough to keep you warm in the right places, something that cannot be said for otherwise attractive fur boleros.

The double breasted and cutaway jacket shown at the top of this column is Callot Soeur's runner. It's of squirrel dyed black, one of the prettiest new fantasies of the Paris furriers, and it has a stovepipe muff to match. It's kept warmly in place by a black antelope belt and it's worn with a black squirrel beret mounted on a corduroy ribbon band.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

I have noticed considerable criticism of Mary Garden's statement that "women marry to avoid hard work." Mary's statements need not be taken that seriously. She is what we of the trade call "ready copy." She can always be counted on for saying something which endears her to a group whose business depends upon getting something said, good, wise or ridiculous.

The real point of attack in a statement about women marrying to avoid hard work should be directed at the women who do marry to avoid hard work. And there are just any number of them in existence. There are women who take the first likely prospect presented and an offer of a home just to escape the job that has grown monotonous.

There are girls whose own salaries ought to give them a cue to the inelasticity of a dollar, who marry men of small incomes, fully expecting they are about to step into an easier life. The life, it is true, may have compensating virtues, but it is not one free of hard work. And some, indeed, find it harder work than the job they left behind, if they haven't brought love for the man and a heart for a home into the relationship.

In fact, speaking of hard work in connection with mafriage, there are very, very few women, no matter what their social position or their money advantages, who do not have to supply an incalculable amount of effort and energy to keep the wheels going around smoothly. The wives of men in public life often have a herculean social task on hand besides tending to the regular and expected duties of a well run home.

The daily programs of certain social leaders that have been revealed in print make your job and mine look like a life of ease. They have terrific responsibilities. It's bromidic to speak of the work filled lives of wives of average or better than average salaried men with children to tend, train and educate.

The idea that marriage is a state in which women are to be privileged and have leisure and plenty of it is playing the very mischief with a lot of disillusioned plungers.

U. S. Drops Deportation of Wilkomirski, Violinist

Word was received from Washington yesterday that the proposed deportation proceedings against Michael Wilkomirski, Chicago violinist, have been dropped after a hearing before the board of review of the department of immigration. At the hearing letters were read from a number of Chicagoans interested in music and it was established that Mr. Wilkomirski had applied some time ago for his first citizenship papers and intends to complete the application. Julius Rosenwald, Max Adler, Mrs. Charles H. Swift, and Carl Kinsey were among those who testified, in communications, to the violinist's standing in European conservatories, where he taught before coming here.

You were wise. If she refuses to consider your wishes some of the time, there would always be friction.

China Giving Two Stone Temple Lions to Missouri University

SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—(AP)—Dr. H. H. Kung, minister of industry of the nationalist government, announced today his government had presented two Confucian Chinese stone temple guardian lions to the school of journalism at the University of Missouri as a token of friendship between China and the United States.

The figures are from the famous Confucian temple at Chufu, birthplace of Confucius, and are said to be 500 years old.

Over 300 Students Plan to Share College Pageant

Three hundred and eighty-five students of Mundelein college, 6363 Sheridan road, will take part in an allegorical Christmas play, marking the formal opening of the new college's auditorium. The play will be given Dec. 13, 14, and 15. The play, "The House of Life," is a modern fantasy woven about a Christmas theme. It will be featured by pageantry, solo and chorus singing, and accompaniment by the Little Symphony orchestra. It will be played in specially constructed modernistic settings. The leading rôle of Everychild will be played by Lenora Stahr, 2330 Commonwealth avenue.

© 1930, Standard Brands Incorporated

LISTLESS AFTERNOONS! Warnings of internal disorders that need attention! ANY DOCTOR will tell you the importance of keeping digestive organs functioning and the intestinal tract clean, healthy and normally active. Yeast helps correct ills here. YEAST, eaten every day, clears away accumulated waste matter. NEW ENERGY! Yours when disordered intestines are restored to normal activity.

Throw Those PILLS Away!

Here's a food that will really bring you health . . . An addition to your diet that gives permanent relief

PILLS, PILLS, PILLS! One tonight. Another tomorrow. Skip a day . . . and take two. Dosing . . . dosing . . . dosing! Soon it is a fixed habit that you cannot shake.

You don't have to go to a doctor to realize that you can't find health that way!

And yet hundreds of thousands today are struggling under a like burden of half-health. They are not ill . . . yet neither are they well.

And it's so easy for them to be really well! If people would only face the facts! Only listen!

For instance . . .

Medical science has traced 90% of common ills to the intestinal tract and stomach. Here, where the body receives its daily fuel, waste matter is allowed to collect. Unbalanced diet upsets the delicate functioning of vital organs. The alimentary canal becomes clogged. Intestinal muscles grow weak.

Soon your body is flooded with poisons, generated by putrefying waste matter. Skins grow sallow. Appetites disappear. Colds multiply. Headaches. Irregular habits.

Fortunately, there is a way out . . . a simple way. For 75 years doctors have known the beneficial effects of yeast. Today they are recommending it more often than ever before.

Used regularly, yeast attacks accumulated waste material within the intestines. Softens it. Stimulates the normal action of the intestines that will carry it away.

Appetite returns . . . because digestion has been improved. Skins clear . . . because poison-breeding materials have been eliminated. Vigor and energy come from treatment which not only regulates intestinal action but provides elements missing in the diet of many of us—vitamins B and G and the "sunshine" vitamin D.

And all as a result, not of drugs but of a simple food which you eat like any other food!

So throw away the pills! Clear out the bathroom shelf! Instead, place a standing order with your grocer for three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast daily. Eat it regularly, 3 cakes a day, before or between meals, following the directions on the label. You can get Fleischmann's Yeast at grocers', restaurants and soda fountains. For your health's sake, start eating fresh yeast and stick to it regularly.

Not a "Cure-all" . . Fleischmann's Yeast is a health food thousands eat three times a day

Remember, it's important to ask your grocer for Fleischmann's fresh Yeast (with the yellow label) . . . the only yeast that contains the Sunshine Vitamin D! Every cake is "irradiated" to give it this added element so important for sun-starved indoor workers. It is rich in Vitamins B and G, too.

Children Can Help with Preparations at Christmas Time

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Naturally children will dwell with keen interest in the thought, "What am I going to get for Christmas?" But they can dwell with almost equal interest on the thought, "What am I going to GIVE for Christmas?"

When children are being helped with their Christmas gifts, the little ones are often left out, because every one thinks, "O, the baby's too young to give a present."

If it isn't always feasible for young children to make the presents they are going to give, there are things they can do which will give them great pleasure and make them feel that they, too, are putting something of themselves into Christmas giving.

Very young children vary a great deal in the deftness that they possess but there are some things they can manage. One child I know used to make presents of little baskets of nuts which he had cracked and shelled all himself. When the basket was filled with gay colored paper, then with waxed paper, filled and tied with a Christmas ribbon, it was the pride of his heart.

One child, a little older, used to pit dates, stuff them, and roll them in sugar for a grown up friend who had a passion for stuffed dates. There are many such things that will occur to the mother of a small boy or girl.

Another way to make the small boy or girl feel that they are in the Christmas giving is to let them decide on what they are going to give and to choose it themselves, whenever possible. Make a special trip or two with them in some part of the day when they are fresh and the stores not crowded. If you can find what they want in the smaller or neighborhood stores, so much the better. Long jaunts and crowds are not good for little children.

Wrapping is another part of Christmas preparation that they can enter into. They love to get their hands on the gay gold, silver, red and green and flowered papers—on the ribbons and bright cords that mean holiday wrapping.

But here's a warning. From the grown up viewpoint they'll make usually, a sorry job of a package. Nevertheless, unless they ask your help, don't interfere and don't criticize if the finished product is just a clumsy childish bundle. It is their own.

One thing they enjoy struggling over is the writing of a card to go with the package. Even the tiny child often can print his own name and with the spelling dictated or a copy made he can frequently manage the name of the recipient of his gift—though the effort may be accompanied by gymnastics of the feet and tongue!

FARM AND GARDEN
BY PAUL POTTER

Winter is more of a real test of whether sufficient shrubs surround house and garden than is the summer growing period, according to landscape artists, who point out barrenness as one of the results of paying too little attention to permanent plantings.

Berry bearing bushes can be used in many ways. They can set off portions of the home, they can border a lawn or walk or screen a garage or vegetable garden. Shrubs considered easy to grow and highly ornamental include the following:

Low growing, under five feet: Japanese barberry, yellow flowers, red berries, suitable for hedges. Rock cotoneaster, pink flowers, red berries, growth nearly prostrate.

Medium growing, five to 10 feet in height: Red chokecherry, white flowers, red berries. Regel's privet, white flowers, blue-black berries, can be made to grow in shade and makes a good hedge plant. Gray dogwood, white flowers, white berries, partial to some shade. Winterberry, inconspicuous flowers, orange and scarlet berries. Buckthorn, greenish-white flowers which are inconspicuous, blue-black berries.

Tall growing, 10 to 18 feet: Arrowwood, white flowers, purplish-blue berries. Cranberry bush, white flowers, red berries. Cornelian cherry, yellow flowers which appear early in the growing season, scarlet berries, a plant that will grow in partial shade.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Showering the Passengers.

My aunt had just made fresh rootbeer and gave me a bottle along with a bag of grapes to take home. I put the grapes and the rootbeer in a larger bag to make them easier to carry. Taking great pains not to shake the bottle I boarded the street car. The car making several stops I took the bottle and when I was half way home it exploded showering the passengers around me with a mixture of grapes and rootbeer. Somebody wanted to know what I had in the bottle. Needless to say I got off the car at the next stop. W. W.

End of That Friendship.

I was secretary of a club and sent the notice of the wedding of one of the members to the local newspaper. When the article appeared it read, "The bridesmaids wore punk dresses, gifts of the bride." That ended the friendship between me and the bride for she refused to believe that I had written "pink" in the original description. L. P.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Shoulder Brace Needed.

"Because of an affliction I have to wear a shoulder brace. I need one now and can't afford to buy it. Do you know someone who would give it to me? I wear size 36. C. R.

Someone with a similar affliction who no longer finds it necessary to wear a brace may be able to come to the rescue of this young man. I know he'd appreciate it.

Needs Overcoat.

"I am in need of an overcoat, size 46, since I cannot buy it I am appealing to your readers to help me. Do you think I can get one? R. M."

If you invested in a new overcoat this winter and last year's still has some wear in it, won't you give it to this man? It will mean these cold days will be less miserable for him.

At this time of the year steaming hot mealy baked potatoes are a welcome addition to the dinner menu. When perfectly baked, they are not only attractive but delicious. Waxy or soggy potatoes, underbaked, are unattractive and tasteless.

The type of potato used has a lot to do with the results obtained. Potatoes that have a large percentage of starch and a small percentage of protein are best. The starch cells swell and break during the baking and absorb the water. This results in a mealy potato. Idaho Rurals and western Colorado Russets are types good for baking. We now associate high baking quality with the varieties grown in the west and northwest.

Potatoes require a long time to bake—50 minutes to 1½ hours for large ones. Because size is so important in time of baking the housewife should select potatoes of uniform size so that they will all be done at the same time.

Wash the potatoes clean before putting them into the oven. If the skin is to be eaten and a tender skin is desired, rub the potato lightly with fat. Bake in hot oven [400 to 450° F.]. A simple method to hasten the baking process is to invert a heavy iron skillet or griddle over the potatoes. This concentrates or holds the heat around the potatoes and baking is accomplished in a much shorter time. When the potatoes are tender they should be removed from the oven and immediately pricked with a fork to allow the steam to escape. Serve without delay. I find that pricking the skin before baking removes any danger of the potato bursting while still in the oven.

Baked potatoes should be served on a folded napkin laid within a hot dish. Covering the dish retards the escape of steam and makes the potato less mealy. An attractive way to serve a baked potato is to cut two 1¼ inch slashes across the top at right angles to each other and squeeze the potato to bring the mealy inside up. Set on a hot plate, place a teaspoon of butter on the cut part and sprinkle lightly with paprika.

Another way to vary the serving of the plain baked potato is to scoop out the inside, whip it with a little butter, cream, salt and pepper and fill back into the shell, fluffing the top. A surprise potato may be made by scooping out a cylinder with a one inch column cutter, placing a little sausage in the cavity and placing a plug of the column removed back in the potato to give the appearance of a plain baked potato.

CHOCOLATE ECLAIRS.

4 eggs.

Put water and butter in a saucepan. Bring to the boiling point, add flour all at once and stir vigorously until it leaves the sides of the pan. Remove from fire and add eggs one at a time, beating thoroughly after the addition of each egg. Put mixture through a pastry tube onto a greased baking sheet. About 1 inch wide and 4 inches long makes a medium sized eclair. Bake in a hot oven [400° F.] for 40 minutes. With a sharp knife make a cut in each eclair large enough to admit cream filling.

⅛ teaspoon salt.
2 eggs.
2 cups scalded milk.
1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Mix dry ingredients, add eggs slightly beaten and pour on gradually the scaled milk. Cook fifteen minutes in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened, afterwards, occasionally. Cool and flavor. Fill into eclairs.

ICING.

½ teaspoon butter.
1½ tablespoons hot water.

Melt chocolate over boiling water. Add butter and hot water. Cool and add sugar. Mix well until right consistency to spread. Flavor with vanilla. If it is a little too stiff, add a little more hot water to make it of spreading consistency.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN A JIFFY

Feel Like a New Person In Just a Little While

People have found out that newfangled ideas and notions don't break up colds. So millions have turned back to first principles and use what they know breaks one up in a jiffy. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to trifle with.

The thing to do is to get Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon you'll start to feel like a new person. Things will loosen up, your head will clear; aching will go—you'll be back on the job with a wallop.

Get Hill's now. It is a scientific formula made to do one thing well: to knock a cold—not to cure a thousand ailments. Get your money back if it doesn't work with twice the speed of anything else you've ever tried.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

. . . . this Harmless Effervescent Drink Has Brought Grateful Relief to Thousands of Nervous People . . . .

Nervous troubles are the most mysterious of our everyday ailments . . . stealthily they creep upon us . . . insidiously they attack . . . and relentlessly shatter our normal poise and self-control. Then follow hectic days—frenzied, sleepless nights and hours of needless nervous agony.

Quiet Your "NERVES" this Harmless Way

When your "NERVES" are tense and all "on edge" . . . when they cause Headaches or Sleeplessness . . . when you feel one of those jumpy, nervous, irritable spells coming on — do as thousands of other nervous people do for prompt and effective relief. Just drop a Dr. Miles' Effervescent NERVINE Tablet into a glass of water. Watch it bubble up like sparkling spring water; then drink it. You, too, will be delighted with the prompt way this pleasant, harmless drink soothes your "NERVES," relaxes nervous tension and helps nature correct the trouble.

Dr. Miles' NERVINE is made in both Effervescent Tablets and Liquid form. For 50 years Dr. Miles' NERVINE (in liquid form) has brought grateful relief to thousands of nervous people. Now this same time-tested formula is also offered in handy Effervescent Tablets. In the tablets the NERVINE formula is combined with bicarbonate of soda and citric acid—which tend to correct hyper-acidity —a frequent cause of nervousness.

Accept this Special Trial Offer

We invite you to try this delightful and harmless way to quiet the "NERVES." Just take the coupon to any drug store and the druggist will give you a regular 25c package of either Effervescent NERVINE Tablets or Liquid NERVINE to try—for only 10 cents.

Effervescent DR. MILES' NERVINE TABLETS

Miss Geraldine Stickle of Pennsylvania writes:
"I have been using Effervescent NERVINE Tablets and have improved a lot. Have not had a serious nervous spell since I started taking them. Nothing ever did me as much good for nervousness as your NERVINE Tablets have done."

At All Drug Stores

YOUNG MAN,
Here Is a Real Position

For a red blooded young American who is not down in the dumps—rather a man filled with fire and spirit who will make good if given the opportunity. We require several such men between the ages of 25 and 35 years. We want men who are willing to learn our methods, and work toward the next higher position. We are one of the oldest and largest concerns on La Salle-st.—a house with which you would like to be connected. We have the reputation of paying and treating our men well. Many have grown with us from the very bottom to positions of great responsibility. We are expanding to take advantage of the new business which we now enjoy. Men employed will be schooled, and their first work will be to contact those who now desire to know what to expect for the year of 1931, insofar as the probable market is concerned. If you think you have the makings of a good investment banker in you, write us in detail of yourself, for an early interview. Address K T 380, Tribune.

$275 Per Month Salary

plus commission is open to the men we want. We must have branch managers developed within the next 60 days. If you are that man, neither time nor money will be spared to develop you. If you can qualify, you will be connected with the largest manufacturer in the world in this specific field. Direct selling experience given preference, but not demanded. Applicants considered by personal interview only. See Mr. Zundel, 4554 Broadway, Suite 301, until noon Wednesday.

EXCELLENT OPENINGS.

J. R. Watkins Co., manufacturing their own products for over 60 years, have openings on the South Side, Cago., and 4 territories in Gary, Hammond, and vicinity for neat, aggressive men who want to better themselves. These men must be willing to follow our instruction course. We will train and assure you steady work with opportunity for advancement. No part time men accepted. Apply in person Wednesday, 457 W. 63d-st., from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

INTELLIGENT MAN

wanted; one capable of following explicit instructions for a period of sixty days in selling field where average earnings should be $500 a month. Are you willing to pit your ability against our confidence in showing results within this time limit? This is hard mental labor. South side city work. Address O E 424, Tribune.

YOUNG MAN

A Chicago manufacturer has opening for a man who is neat appearing and intelligent, age 22 to 30; good pay to start with an opportunity for advance. Mr. Braden, between 9 and 12, 102 Pelouze Bldg., 230 E. Ohio.
